PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUS DATED NOVEMBER 19, 1996

PROSPECTUS

9,100,000 SHARES [LOGO]

CLASS A COMMON STOCK

Of the 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, par value $.001 per share (the "Class A Common Stock"), of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), offered hereby, 4,750,000 shares are being offered by the Company and 4,350,000 shares are being offered by certain stockholders of the Company (the "Selling Stockholders"). See "Principal and Selling Stockholders." Of the 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock being offered hereby, 5,760,000 shares are being offered initially in the United States and Canada by the U.S. Underwriters (the "U.S. Offering"), 1,670,000 shares are being offered initially in a concurrent offering in Japan by the Japanese Underwriters (the "Japanese Offering"), and 1,670,000 shares are being offered initially in a concurrent offering outside the United States, Canada and Japan by the International Managers (the "International Offering," together with the U.S. Offering and the Japanese Offering, the "Offerings"). See "Underwriting."

Each share of Class A Common Stock entitles its holder to one vote, and each share of Class B Common Stock (the "Class B Common Stock," together with the Class A Common Stock, the "Common Stock") of the Company entitles its holder to ten votes. All of the shares of Class B Common Stock are held by the stockholders of the Company prior to consummation of the Reorganization (the "Existing Stockholders"). After consummation of the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders will beneficially own shares of Common Stock having approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full).

Prior to the Offerings, there has been no public market for the Class A Common Stock. It is currently estimated that the initial public offering price will be between $20 and $22 per share. See "Underwriting" for information relating to the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price. Approximately $15,000,000 of the net proceeds to the Company from the Offerings will be used to repay a portion of the S Distribution Notes (as defined herein) issued to the Existing Stockholders in connection with the Reorganization (as defined herein). See "Use of Proceeds" and "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution." The U.S. Underwriters and the International Underwriters have reserved up to 910,000 shares for sale (at the initial public offering price) to certain of the Company's distributors and employees.

The Class A Common Stock has been approved for listing on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "NUS," subject to official notice of issuance.

SEE "RISK FACTORS," BEGINNING ON PAGE 10, FOR A DISCUSSION OF CERTAIN FACTORS WHICH SHOULD BE CONSIDERED BY PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS OF THE SECURITIES OFFERED HEREBY.

THESE SECURITIES HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION, NOR HAS THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION PASSED UPON THE ACCURACY OR ADEQUACY OF THIS PROSPECTUS. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by, and should be read in conjunction with, the more detailed information and the financial statements and notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this Prospectus. Unless otherwise noted, all information in this Prospectus assumes no exercise of the Underwriters' over-allotment options and gives effect to the Reorganization (as defined herein). As used herein, "Nu Skin Asia Pacific" or the "Company" means Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc., including the Subsidiaries, giving effect to the Reorganization. The "Subsidiaries" means Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. ("Nu Skin Hong Kong"), Nu Skin Japan Company, Limited ("Nu Skin Japan"), Nu Skin Korea, Inc. ("Nu Skin Korea"), and Nu Skin Taiwan, Inc. ("Nu Skin Taiwan"), collectively, and excludes Nu Skin Personal Care (Thailand) Limited ("Nu Skin Thailand"), which has been formed, but has not commenced operations. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution." Until September 30, 1994, the Company's fiscal year ended on September 30 of each year. As of October 1, 1994, the Company changed its fiscal year end to December 31 of each year, beginning with the fiscal year ended December 31, 1995.

THE COMPANY

Nu Skin Asia Pacific is a rapidly growing network marketing company involved in the distribution and sale of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products. The Company is the exclusive distribution vehicle for Nu Skin International, Inc. ("Nu Skin International" or "NSI") in the countries of Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong (including Macau) and South Korea, where the Company currently has operations, and in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the People's Republic of China ("PRC"), Singapore and Vietnam, where operations have not commenced.

The Company believes it is one of the fastest growing network marketing companies in Asia. Revenue increased 95.2% to $471.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 from $241.4 million for the same period in 1995. Net income increased 117.7% to $60.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 from $27.7 million for the same period in 1995. Revenue increased 35.6% to $358.6 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 from $264.4 million in 1994. Although operating expenses have increased with the growth of the Company's revenue, such expenses have declined as a percentage of revenue due to improved operating leverage. Net income increased 86.1% to $40.2 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 from $21.6 million in 1994. The Company's network of independent distributors has grown since the Company's inception in 1991 to more than 330,000 active distributors as of September 30, 1996. See "Risk Factors--Managing Growth."

The Company's product philosophy is to combine the best of science and nature in developing premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products which are specifically designed for the network marketing distribution channel. The Company offers products in two distinct categories: personal care products, marketed under the trademark "Nu Skin," and nutritional products, marketed under the trademark "Interior Design Nutritionals" ("IDN"). The Nu Skin personal care product lines include facial care, body care, hair care and color cosmetics, as well as specialty products such as sun protection, oral hygiene and fragrances. The IDN product lines include nutritional supplements, weight management products and nutritious snacks, and sports nutrition

In Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the Company currently offers most of NSI's personal care products and approximately one-third of NSI's nutritional products. In South Korea, the Company currently offers one-third of NSI's personal care products and none of the nutritional products. The Company believes that it can significantly grow its business and attract new customers by expanding its product offerings in each of its markets to include more of NSI's existing personal care and nutritional products. In addition to expanding its product offerings NSI products, the Company intends to introduce new products tailored to specific markets.

The distribution of products through the network marketing and other direct selling channels has grown significantly in recent years. The World Federation of Direct Selling Associations ("WFDSA") reports that, since 1990, worldwide direct distribution of goods and services to consumers has increased 65%, resulting in the sale of over $75 billion of goods and services in 1995. According to the WFDSA, $34 billion of goods and services were sold by its members in 1995 through direct selling channels in the markets in which the Company currently operates, which represents 45% of the global volume of direct sales by its members.

OPERATING STRENGTHS AND GROWTH STRATEGY

The Company believes that its success to date is based upon its commitment to provide a wide range of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products and an appealing global business opportunity for persons interested in establishing a direct sales business. Specifically, the Company's operating strengths include (i) its premium product offerings, (ii) a global distributor compensation plan (the "Global Compensation Plan") which compensates distributors for product sales in downline distribution networks in any country in which NSI and its affiliates operate, (iii) a comparatively high level of distributor incentives paid to independent distributors, (iv) a systematic market development program, (v) individual distributor attention and other distributor support programs and (vi) an experienced management team at both the Company and the Subsidiaries. See "Business--Operating Strengths." Any consideration of various risks which impact or may impact the Company and its operations. See "Risk Factors."

The Company's primary objective is to capitalize on its operating strengths to become a leading distributor of consumer products in each of its markets. The Company intends to pursue this strategy by (i) introducing new products, (ii) opening new markets, (iii) attracting new distributors and enhancing distributor productivity and (iv) increasing consumption of its products. See "Business--Growth Strategy." Any consideration of the Company's growth strategy should be made in connection with a consideration of the risks associated with such growth strategy. See "Risk Factors."

RELATIONSHIP WITH NSI

NSI, founded in 1984 and based in Provo, Utah, is engaged in selling personal care and nutritional products and, together with its affiliates, compromises one of the largest network marketing organizations in the world. NSI has provided, and will continue to provide, a high level of support services to the Company, including product development, marketing and other managerial support services. Management believes that the Company's relationship with NSI has allowed the Company to increase revenue and net income at rates that otherwise may not have been possible. Since distributor agreements are entered into between NSI and distributors, all of the distributors who generate revenue for the Company are distributors of NSI. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest." Because of this fact, the Company cannot control who becomes a distributor.

THE OFFERINGS

Of the 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, par value $.001 per share, being offered hereby, 5,760,000 shares are being offered initially in the United States and Canada by the U.S. Underwriters, 1,670,000 shares are being offered initially in a concurrent offering in Japan by the Japanese Underwriters, and 1,670,000 shares are being offered initially in a concurrent offering outside the United States, Canada and Japan by the International Managers. The initial public offering price and the underwriting discount per share are identical for each of the Offerings. See "Underwriting."

New York Stock Exchange symbol..... "NUS" Voting rights..... The Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock vote as a single class on all matters, except as otherwise required by law, with each share of Class A Common Stock entitling its holder to one vote and each share of Class B Common Stock entitling its holder to ten votes. In all other respects the holders of Class A Common Stock and the holders of Class B Common Stock have equal rights. All of the shares of Class B Common Stock are owned by the Existing Stockholders. After consummation of the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders will beneficially own shares of Common Stock having approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full). Risk Factors..... Prospective investors should consider certain risk factors and uncertainties relative to the Company, its business and the Class A Common Stock offered hereby including, without limitation, the Company's reliance on the independent distributors of NSI, the potential effects of adverse publicity, the potential negative impact of distributor actions, government regulation of direct selling activities, government regulation of products and marketing, reliance on certain distributors and the potential divergence of interests between distributors and the Company, the Company's entry into new markets, the management of the Company's growth, the possible adverse effect on the Company of a change in the status of Hong Kong, the Company's relationship with and reliance upon NSI and potential conflicts of interest related thereto, control by the Existing Stockholders and the anti-takeover effect of dual classes of Common Stock, the impact on income due to the Distributor Options, the Company's reliance on and concentration of outside manufacturers, the Company's reli-ance on operations of and dividends and distributions from its subsidiaries, issues related to transfer pricing and taxation, potential increases in distributor compensation expense, seasonality and cyclicality, product liability, competition, operations outside the United States, currency risks, import restrictions, duties and regulation of consumer goods, the antitakeover effects of certain charter, contractual and statutory provisions, the absence of a public market for the Class A Common Stock, factors related to the determination of the offering price, fluctuations in the price of the Class A Common Stock, the existence of shares eligible for future sale into the Company's market for the Class A Common Stock upon exercise of the Distributor Options, employee stock bonus awards and otherwise, dilution and the absence of dividends.

(1) Assumes no exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment options aggregating

- 1,365,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, which have been granted by the Selling Stockholders.
- (2) Includes 4,335,500 shares to be converted by the Existing Stockholders from Class B Common Stock and 14,500 shares to be issued upon partial exercise of an option granted to an executive officer of the Company and sold in connection with the Offerings.
- (3) Includes: (i) 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock being offered in the Offerings and (ii) 1,250,000 shares of Class A Common Stock that have been issued to the Existing Stockholders and will, prior to the Offerings, be contributed to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance to employees of NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) as employee stock bonus awards (approximately 600,000 of which will be awarded prior to the Offerings).
- (4) All shares of Class B Common Stock are currently held by the Existing Stockholders and each such share is convertible at any time into one share of Class A Common Stock and converts automatically into one share of Class A Common Stock (i) upon a transfer to a person other than an Existing Stockholder and (ii) if the number of shares of Class B Common Stock becomes less than 10% of the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. See "Description of Capital Stock--Common Stock--Conversion."
- (5) Does not include: (i) 4,000,000 shares of Class A Common Stock reserved for issuance pursuant to the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan, 109,000 shares of which are reserved for issuance by the Company to its employees in connection with employee stock bonus awards which are to be awarded immediately prior to the Offerings; (ii) 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock that are held as treasury shares by the Company and are reserved for issuance upon the exercise of options that will be granted to NSI immediately prior to the Offerings and assigned to qualifying NSI distributors in connection with the Offerings (the "Distributor Options"); and (iii) 253,000 shares of Class A Common Stock subject to a stock option which has been granted to an executive officer of the Company. See "Management--1996 Stock Incentive Plan," "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

- (2) The unaudited pro forma income statement data reflects the Reorganization, the Offerings and the following adjustments as if such events had occurred on January 1, 1995: (i) the amortization over a 20-year period of a $25.0 million payment, consisting of $5.0 million in cash and $20.0 million in notes, to NSI for the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam (the "License Fee"); (ii) the recognition by the Company of additional management charges of $4.4 million per year relating to certain support services provided to the Company by NSI and an NSI affiliate; (iii) estimated annual compensation expense of $1.2 million related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates; (iv) adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception; and (v) increased interest expense of $2.7 million relating to the issuance of $81.9 million of interest bearing S distribution notes (the "S Distribution Notes"), approximately $15.0 million of which will be repaid from the proceeds of the Offerings, due and payable within six months (8% interest per annum) to the Existing Stockholders in respect of the earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings and capital at September 30, 1996, that would have been distributed had the Company's S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996.
- (3) The unaudited pro forma income statement data does not reflect the estimated non-cash compensation expense of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of the Distributor Options at an exercise price of 25% of the initial public offering price. The granting and vesting of the Distributor Options will be conditioned upon distributor performance under the Global Compensation Plan and the NSI 1996 Distributor Stock Option Plan. The vesting of the Distributor Options is scheduled to occur on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor stock incentive expense for these non-employee stock options. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."
- (4) Other pro forma income and expense includes: (i) increased interest expense of $2.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995, relating to the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes (approximately $15.0 million of which will be repaid from the proceeds of the Offerings); (ii) increased interest expense of $0.9 million, $0.7 million and $0.1 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996, respectively, relating to the issuance of $20.0 million in notes as partial payment of the License Fee payable to NSI; and (iii) increased interest income of $0.8 million, $0.6 million and $0.6 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996, respectively, relating to an estimated $10.0 million note receivable from NSI as consideration for the Distributor Options.
- (5) Reflects 80,250,000 shares of Common Stock and Common Stock equivalents outstanding after giving effect to the Reorganization, increased by the sale of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, the award of 109,000 shares of Common Stock to employees of the Company and an option granted to an executive officer of the Company to purchase 267,500 shares of Class A Common Stock (14,500 shares of which will be issued upon partial exercise of such option following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings and sold in connection with the Offerings). Supplemental income per share, calculated as if $25.0 million of the proceeds from the Offerings were used to repay notes payable, had a dilutive effect of less than 2%, and therefore is not presented.
- (6) The as adjusted balance sheet data as of September 30, 1996 reflects estimated deferred compensation expense and additional paid-in capital of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of the Distributor Options. The as adjusted balance sheet data also reflects: (i) the sale of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock pursuant to the Offerings; (ii) the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes to the Selling Stockholders; (iii) a $15.0 million partial payment of the S Distribution Notes from the proceeds of the Offerings; (iv) $20.0 million in notes payable to NSI, consisting of a $10 million short-term note due on January 15, 1997 and a $10 million long-term note due on January 15, 1998, which will be issued as partial payment of the $25.0 million License Fee to NSI; (v) an estimated $10.0 million note receivable from NSI, issued by NSI as partial consideration for the Distributor Options; (vi) estimated deferred compensation and additional paid-in capital of $4.8 million, which represents the estimated compensation expense related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates which vest over a period of four years; and (vii) the recognition of a deferred tax asset of $5.8 million relating to adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception. No adjustment has been made to give effect to the Company's earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings for the period from October 1, 1996 through the S Termination Date (as defined herein). The Company anticipates the increase in the S Distribution Notes to be between approximately $10.0 million and $15.0 million. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution." The Company estimates that, at the Offerings, it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes will be repaid from cash generated by operations.

(7) Active distributors are those distributors who are resident in the countries in which the Company operates and who have purchased products during the three months ended as of the date indicated, rounded to the nearest thousand. An executive distributor is an active distributor who has submitted a qualifying letter of intent to become an executive distributor, achieved specified personal and group sales volumes for a four month period and maintained such specified personal and group sales volumes thereafter.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Class A Common Stock involves special considerations and significant risks, including, but not limited to, those discussed or referred to below. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following risks and information in conjunction with the other information contained in this Prospectus before purchasing shares of Class A Common Stock.

RELIANCE UPON INDEPENDENT DISTRIBUTORS OF NSI

The Company distributes its products exclusively through independent distributors who have contracted directly with NSI to become distributors. Consequently, the Company does not contract directly with distributors but licenses its distribution system and distributor force from NSI. Distributor agreements with NSI are voluntarily terminable by distributors at any time. The Company's revenue is directly dependent upon the efforts of these independent distributors, and any growth in future sales volume will require an increase in the productivity of these distributors and/or growth in the total number of distributors. As is typical in the direct selling industry, there is turnover in distributors from year to year, which requires the sponsoring and training of new distributors by existing distributors to maintain or increase the overall distributor force and motivate new and existing distributors. The Company experiences seasonal decreases in distributor sponsoring and product sales in some of the countries in which the Company operates because of local holidays and customary vacation periods. The size of the distribution force can also be particularly impacted by general economic and business conditions and a number of intangible factors such as adverse publicity regarding the Company or NSI, or the public's perception of the Company's products, product ingredients, NSI's distributors or direct selling businesses in general. Historically, the Company has experienced periodic fluctuations in the level of distributor sponsorship (as measured by distributor applications). However, because of the number of factors that impact the sponsoring of new distributors, and the fact that the Company has little or no control over the level of sponsorship of new distributors, the Company cannot predict the timing or degree of those fluctuations. There can be no assurance that the number or productivity of the Company's distributors will be sustained at current levels or increased in the future. In addition, the number of distributors as a percent of the population in a given country or market could theoretically reach levels that become difficult to exceed due to the finite number of persons inclined to pursue a direct selling business opportunity. This is of particular concern in Taiwan, where industry sources have estimated that up to 10% of the population is already involved in some form of direct selling.

Since distributor agreements are entered into between NSI and distributors, all of the distributors who generate revenue for the Company are distributors of NSI. See "--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest." Because of this fact, the Company cannot control who becomes a distributor. In addition, because distributors are independent contractors of NSI, neither NSI nor the Company is in a position to provide the same level of direction, motivation and oversight as either would with respect to its own employees. Although NSI has a compliance department responsible for the enforcement of the policies and procedures that govern distributor conduct, it can be difficult to enforce these policies and procedures because of the large number of distributors and their independent status, as well as the impact of certain resale price maintenance and other regulations that limit the ability of NSI and the Company to monitor and control the sales practices of distributors.

POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF ADVERSE PUBLICITY

The size of the distribution force and the results of the Company's operations can be particularly impacted by adverse publicity regarding the Company or NSI, including publicity regarding the legality of the Company's distribution system, the quality of the Company's products and product ingredients, regulatory investigations of the Company and its products, distributor actions and the public's perception of NSI's distributors and direct selling businesses generally.

In 1991 and 1992, NSI was the subject of investigations by various regulatory agencies of eight states. All of the investigations were concluded satisfactorily. However, the publicity associated with the investigations resulted in a material adverse impact to NSI's results of operations. The Company has not been subject to investigations in Asia, however, the denial by the Malaysian government in 1995 of the Company's business permits due to distributor action resulted in adverse publicity for the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will not be subject to adverse publicity in the future as a result of similar regulatory investigations, similar distributor actions or other factors or that such adverse publicity will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business or results of operations. See "--Government Regulation of Direct Selling Activities," "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing" and "--Entering New Markets."

POTENTIAL NEGATIVE IMPACT OF DISTRIBUTOR ACTIONS

Distributor actions can negatively impact the Company and its products. For example, in October 1995, the Company's business permit applications were denied by the Malaysian government as the result of activities by certain NSI distributors before required government approvals could be secured. NSI subsequently terminated the distributorship rights of some of the distributors involved and elected to withdraw from the Malaysian market for a period of time. The denial by the Malaysian government of the Company's business permit application resulted in adverse publicity for the Company. Distributor activities in other countries in which the Company has not commenced operations may similarly result in an inability to secure, or delay in securing required regulatory and business permits. See "Business--New Market Opportunities." In addition, the publicity resulting from such distributor activities and other distributor activities such as inappropriate earnings claims and product representations by distributors can make the sponsoring and retaining of distributors more difficult, thereby negatively impacting sales. See "--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity." Furthermore, the Company's business and results of operations could be adversely affected if NSI terminates a significant number of distributors or certain distributors who play a key role in the Company's distribution system. There can be no assurance that these or other distributor actions will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business or results of operations.

GOVERNMENT REGULATION OF DIRECT SELLING ACTIVITIES

Direct selling activities are regulated by various governmental agencies. These laws and regulations are generally intended to prevent fraudulent or deceptive schemes, often referred to as "pyramid" or "chain sales" schemes, that promise quick rewards for little or no effort, require high entry costs, use high pressure recruiting methods and/or do not involve legitimate products. In Japan, the Company's distribution system is regulated under the 'Door-to-Door" Sales Law, which requires the submission of specific information concerning the Company's business and products and which provides certain cancellation and cooling-off rights for consumers and new distributors. Management has been advised by counsel that in some respects Japanese laws are becoming more restrictive with respect to direct selling in Japan. In Taiwan, the Fair Trade Law (and the Enforcement Rules and Supervisory Regulations of Multi-Level Sales) requires the Company to comply with registration procedures and also provides distributors with certain rights regarding cooling-off periods and product returns. The Company also complies with South Korea's strict Door-to-Door Sales Act, which requires, among other things, the regular reporting of revenue, the registration of distributors together with the issuance of a registration card, and the maintaining of a current distributor registry. This law also limits the amount of sponsoring bonuses that a registered multi-level marketing company can pay to its distributors to 35% of revenue in a given month.

As is the case with most network marketing companies, NSI and the Company have from time to time received inquiries from various government regulatory authorities regarding the nature of their business and other issues such as compliance with local business opportunity and securities laws. Although to date none of these inquiries has resulted in a finding materially adverse to the Company or NSI, adverse publicity resulting from inquiries into NSI's operations by certain government agencies in the early 1990's, stemming in part out of alleged inappropriate product and earnings claims by distributors, materially adversely affected NSI's business and results of operations. There can be no assurance that the Company or NSI will not face similar inquiries in the future which, either as a result of findings adverse to the Company or NSI or as a result of adverse publicity resulting from the instigation of such inquiries, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. See "--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity." Based on research conducted in opening its existing markets (including assistance from local counsel), the nature and scope of inquiries from government regulatory authorities and the Company's history of operations in such markets to date, the Company believes that its method of distribution is in compliance in all material respects with the laws and regulations relating to direct selling activities of the countries in which the Company currently operates. Even though management believes that laws governing direct selling are generally becoming more permissive in certain Asian countries, many countries, including Singapore, one of the Company's potential markets, currently have laws in place that would prohibit the Company and NSI from conducting business in such markets. There can be no assurance that the Company will be allowed to conduct business in each of the new markets licensed from NSI. See "--Entering New Markets."

GOVERNMENT REGULATION OF PRODUCTS AND MARKETING

The Company and NSI are subject to or affected by extensive governmental regulations not specifically addressed to network marketing. Such regulations govern, among other things, (i) product formulation, labeling, packaging and importation, (ii) product claims and advertising, whether made by the Company, NSI or NSI distributors, (iii) fair trade and distributor practices, and (iv) taxes, transfer pricing and similar regulations that affect foreign taxable income and customs duties.

The Japanese Ministry of Health and Welfare ("MOHW") requires the Company to possess an import business license and to register each personal care product imported into the country. Packaging and labeling requirements are also specified. The Company has had to reformulate many products to satisfy MOHW regulations. In Japan, nutritional foods, drugs and quasi-drugs are all strictly regulated. The chief concern involves the types of claims and representations that can be made regarding the efficacy of nutritional products. In Taiwan, all "medicated" cosmetic and pharmaceutical products, including PharmAssist, require registration. In Hong Kong and Macau, "pharmaceutical" products are strictly regulated. In South Korea, the Company is subject to and has obtained the mandatory certificate of confirmation as a qualified importer of cosmetics under the Pharmaceutical Affairs Law and is required to obtain additional product approvals for each of the 45 categories of cosmetic products which it imports. Each new cosmetic product undergoes a 60-day post-customs inspection where, in addition to compliance with ingredient requirements, each product is inspected for compliance with South Korean labeling requirements. There can be no assurance that these or other applicable regulations will not prevent the Company from introducing new products into its markets or require the reformulation of existing products.

Based on the Company's experience and research (including assistance from counsel) and the nature and scope of inquiries from government regulatory authorities, the Company believes that it is in material compliance with all regulations applicable to the Company. Despite this belief, either the Company or NSI could be found not to be in material compliance with existing regulations as a result of, among other things, the considerable interpretative and enforcement discretion given to regulators or misconduct by independent distributors. In 1994, NSI and three of its distributors entered into a consent decree with the Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC") with respect to its investigation of certain product claims and distributor practices, pursuant to which NSI paid approximately $1 million to settle the FTC investigation. NSI is currently in discussions with the FTC regarding its compliance with such consent decree and other product issues raised by the FTC. There can be no assurances that the Company will not be subject to similar inquiries and regulatory investigations or disputes and the effects of any adverse publicity resulting therefrom. Any assertion or determination that either the Company, NSI or any NSI distributors are not in compliance with existing laws or regulations could potentially have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. In addition, in any country or jurisdiction, the adoption of new laws or regulations or changes in the interpretation of existing laws or regulations could generate negative publicity and/or have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. The Company cannot determine the effect, if any, that future governmental regulations or administrative orders may have on the Company's business and results of operations. Moreover, governmental regulations in countries where the Company plans to commence or expand operations may prevent, delay or limit market entry of certain products or require the reformulation of such products. Regulatory action, whether or not it results in a final determination adverse to the Company or NSI, has the potential to create negative publicity, with detrimental effects on the motivation and recruitment of distributors and, consequently, on the Company's sales and earnings. See "--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity," "--Entering New Markets" and "Business--Government Regulation--Regulation of Products and Marketing."

RELIANCE ON CERTAIN DISTRIBUTORS; POTENTIAL DIVERGENCE OF INTERESTS BETWEEN DISTRIBUTORS AND THE COMPANY

The Company's Global Compensation Plan allows distributors to sponsor new distributors. The sponsoring of new distributors creates multiple distributor levels in the network marketing structure. Sponsored distributors are referred to as " downline" distributors within the sponsoring distributor's "downline network." If downline distributors also sponsor new distributors, additional levels of downline distributors are created, with the new downline distributors also becoming part of the original sponsor's "downline network." As a result of this network marketing distribution system, distributors develop relationships with other distributors, both within their own countries and internationally. The Company believes that its revenue is generated from thousands of distributor networks. However, the Company estimates that approximately 520 distributorships worldwide comprise NSI's two highest executive distributor levels. These distributorships have developed extensive downline networks which consist of thousands of sub-networks. Together with such networks, these distributorships account for substantially all of the Company's revenue. Consequently, the loss of such a high-level distributor or another key distributor together with a group of leading distributors in such distributor's downline network, or the loss of a significant number of distributors for any reason, could adversely affect sales of the Company's products, impair the Company's ability to attract new distributors and adversely impact earnings.

Under the Global Compensation Plan, a distributor receives commissions based on products sold by the distributor and by participants in the distributor's worldwide downline network, regardless of the country in which such participants are located. The Company, on the other hand, receives revenues based almost exclusively on sales of products to distributors within the Company's markets. So, for example, if a distributor located in Japan sponsors a distributor in Europe, the Japanese distributor could receive commissions based on the sales made by the European distributor, but the Company would not receive any revenue since the products would have been sold outside of the Company's markets. The interests of the Company and distributors therefore diverge somewhat in that the Company's primary objective is to maximize the amount of products sold within the Company's markets, while the distributors' objective is to maximize the amount of products sold by the participants in the distributors' worldwide downline networks. The Company and NSI have observed that the commencement of operations in a new country tends to distract the attention of distributors from the established markets for a period of time while key distributors begin to build their downline networks within the new country. NSI is currently contemplating opening operations in additional countries outside of the Company's markets. To the extent distributors focus their energies on establishing downline networks in these new countries, and decrease their focus on building organizations within the Company's markets, the Company's business and results of operations could be adversely affected. Furthermore, the Company itself is currently contemplating opening new markets. In the event distributors focus on these new markets, sales in existing markets might be adversely affected. There can be no assurance that these new markets will develop or that any increase in sales in new markets will not be more than offset by a decrease in sales in the existing markets.

ENTERING NEW MARKETS

As part of its growth strategy, the Company has acquired from NSI the right to act as NSI's exclusive distribution vehicle in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam. The Company has undertaken a preliminary review of the laws and regulations to which its operations would be subject in Thailand, the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia, the PRC, Vietnam and Singapore. Given existing regulatory environments and economic conditions, the Company's entrance into Singapore and Vietnam is not anticipated in the short to mid-term. The Company currently intends, subject to receipt of government approvals, to commence operations in Thailand in the near future and has conducted preliminary investigations into the feasibility of opening the other markets in the countries for which the Company has the right to act as NSI's exclusive distributor. The regulatory and political climate in these other markets is such that a replication of the Company's current operating structure cannot be guaranteed. Because the Company's personal care and nutritional product lines are positioned as premium product lines, the market potential for the Company's product lines in relatively less developed countries, such as the PRC and Vietnam, remains to be determined. Modifications to each product line may be needed to accommodate the market conditions in each country, while maintaining the integrity of the Company's products. No assurance can be given that the Company will be able to successfully reformulate its product lines in any of its new markets to attract local consumers.

Each of the proposed new markets will present additional unique difficulties and challenges. In Thailand, for example, businesses which are more than 50% owned by non-citizens are not permitted to operate unless they have an Alien Business Permit, which is frequently difficult to obtain. Under the Treaty of Amity and Economic Relations between Thailand and the United States (the "Treaty of Amity") an Alien Business Permit is not required if a Thailand business is owned by an entity organized in the United States, a majority of whose owners are U.S. citizens or entities. From time to time, it has been reported that certain Thailand government officials have considered supporting the termination of the Treaty of Amity. There can be no assurance that the Company will ever be able to obtain all of the necessary permits and approvals to commence operations in Thailand. The Company could face particular difficulties in commencing operations in Thailand if the Treaty of Amity were terminated and the Company were forced to obtain an Alien Business Permit.

The PRC has also proven to be a particularly difficult market for foreign corporations due to its extensive government regulation and the historical political tenants of the PRC government. In order to enter the market in the PRC, the Company may be required to create a joint venture enterprise with a Chinese entity and to establish a local manufacturing presence, which will entail a significant investment on the Company's part. The Company will likely have to apply for licenses on a province by province basis and the repatriation of the Company's profits will be subject to restrictions on currency conversion and the fluctuations of the government controlled exchange rate. In addition, because distribution systems are greatly fragmented, the Company may be forced to use business models significantly different from those used by the Company in more developed countries. The lack of a comprehensive legal system and the uncertain and sporadic enforcement of existing legislation and laws could also have an adverse effect on the Company's proposed business in the PRC.

The other potential new markets also present significant regulatory, political and economic obstacles to the Company. In Singapore, for example, network marketing is currently illegal and is not permitted under any circumstances. Although the Company believes that this restriction will eventually be relaxed or repealed, no assurance can be given that such regulation will not remain in place and that the Company will not be permanently prevented from initiating sales in Singapore. In addition, Malaysia has governmental guidelines that have the effect of limiting foreign ownership of companies operating in Malaysia. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to properly structure Malaysian operations to comply with this policy. In October of 1995, the Company's business permit applications were denied by the Malaysian government as a result of activities by certain NSI distributors. Therefore, the Company believes that although significant opportunities exist to expand its operations into new markets, there can be no assurance that these or other difficulties will not prevent the Company from realizing the benefits of this opportunity.

MANAGING GROWTH

The Company has experienced rapid growth since it commenced operations in 1991. The management challenges imposed by this growth include entry into new markets, growth in the number of employees and distributors, expansion of facilities necessary to accommodate growth and additions and modifications to the Company's product lines. To manage these changes effectively, the Company may be required to hire additional management and operations personnel and to improve its operational, financial and management systems. If the Company is unable to manage growth effectively or hire or retain qualified personnel, the Company's business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

POSSIBLE ADVERSE EFFECT ON THE COMPANY OF A CHANGE IN THE STATUS OF HONG KONG

The Company has offices and a portion of its operations in the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong. Effective July 1, 1997, the exercise of sovereignty over Hong Kong will be transferred from the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (the "United Kingdom") to the government of the PRC pursuant to the Sino-British Joint Declaration on the Question of Hong Kong (the "Joint Declaration") and Hong Kong will become a Special Administrative Region (SAR) of the PRC. The Joint Declaration provides that Hong Kong will be directly under the authority of the government of the PRC but Hong Kong will enjoy a high degree of autonomy except in foreign and defense affairs, and that Hong Kong will be vested with executive, legislative and independent judicial power. The Joint Declaration also provides that the current social and economic systems in Hong Kong will remain unchanged for 50 years after June 30, 1997 and that Hong Kong will retain the status of an international financial center. Although sales in Hong Kong accounted for less than 5% of the Company's revenues for the year ended December 31, 1995, Hong Kong serves as the location for the Company's regional offices and an important base of operations for many of the Company's most successful distributors whose downline distributor networks extend into other Asian markets. Any adverse effect on the social, political or economic systems in Hong Kong resulting from this transfer could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. Although the Company does not anticipate any material adverse change in the business environment in Hong Kong resulting from the 1997 transfer of sovereignty, the Company is formulating contingency plans to transfer the Company's regional office to another jurisdiction in the event that the Hong Kong business environment is so affected.

RELATIONSHIP WITH AND RELIANCE ON NSI; POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Following the Reorganization, NSI will retain ownership and control of the NSI trademarks, tradenames, the Global Compensation Plan, distributor lists and related intellectual property and know-how (collectively, the "Licensed Property"), and will license to the Company rights to use the Licensed Property in certain markets. NSI and its affiliates currently operate in 15 countries, excluding the countries in which the Company currently operates, and following the Offerings will continue to market and sell personal care and nutritional products in these countries, as well as in additional countries outside of the Company's markets, through the network marketing channel. Thus the Company will not be able to use the Nu Skin name to expand into other markets for which the Company does not currently have a license without first obtaining additional licenses or other rights from NSI. There can be no assurance that NSI will make any additional markets available to the Company or that the terms of any new licenses from NSI will be acceptable to the Company.

NSI has licensed to the Company, through the Subsidiaries, rights to distribute NSI products and to use the Licensed Property in the Company's markets, and an NSI affiliate, Nu Skin Management Group, Inc. ("NSIMG") will provide management support services to the Company and the Subsidiaries, pursuant to distribution, trademark/tradename license, licensing and sales, and management services agreements with the Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Operating Agreements"). The Company will rely on NSI for research, development, testing, labeling and regulatory compliance for products sold to the Company under the distribution agreements, and virtually all of the Company's revenues will be derived from products and sales aids purchased from NSI pursuant to these agreements. NSIMG will provide the Company with a variety of management and consulting services, including, but not limited to, management, legal, financial, marketing and distributor support/training, public relations, international expansion, human resources, strategic planning, product development and operations administration services. Each of the Operating Agreements is for a term ending December 31, 2016, and is subject to renegotiation after December 31, 2001, in the event that the Existing Stockholders, on a combined basis, no longer beneficially own a majority of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company or of NSI. The Company will be almost completely dependent on the Operating Agreements to conduct its business, and in the event NSI is unable or unwilling to perform its obligations under the Operating Agreements, or terminates the Operating Agreements as provided therein, the Company's business and results of operations will be adversely affected. See "Business--Relationship with NSI."

Upon the consummation of the Offerings, approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock will be held by the Existing Stockholders (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full). Consequently, the Existing Stockholders will have the ability, acting in concert, to elect all directors of the Company and approve any action requiring approval by a majority of the stockholders of the Company. The Existing Stockholders also own, and following the Offerings will continue to own, 100% of the outstanding shares of NSI. As a result of this ownership, the Existing Stockholders will consider the short-term and the long-term impact of all stockholder decisions on the consolidated financial results of NSI and the Company. See "--Control by Existing Stockholders; Anti-Takeover Effect of Dual Classes of Common Stock."

The Operating Agreements were approved by the present Board of Directors of the Company, which is composed entirely of officers and shareholders of NSI. It is expected that, subsequent to the closing of the Offerings, the composition of the Board of Directors of the Company will be changed so that at least two of its members will be persons unaffiliated with NSI. In addition, most of the executive officers of the Company are also executive officers of NSI. It is expected that a number of the Company's executive officers will continue to spend a portion of their time on the affairs of NSI, for which they will continue to receive compensation from NSI.

Prior to or concurrently with the Offerings, the Company will purchase from NSI for $25 million the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam. The Company will pay $15 million of this amount out of the proceeds of the Offerings.

In view of the substantial relationships between the Company and NSI, conflicts of interest may exist or arise with respect to existing and future business dealings, including, without limitation, the relative commitment of time and energy by the executive officers to the respective businesses of the Company and NSI, potential acquisitions of businesses or properties, the issuance of additional securities, the election of new or additional directors, the payment of dividends by the Company, including the use of $15 million of the proceeds of the Offerings to repay a portion of the S Distribution Notes. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution." There can be no assurance that any conflicts of interest will be resolved in favor of the Company under Delaware and Utah law, a person who is a director of both the Company and NSI owes fiduciary duties to both corporations and their respective shareholders. As a result, persons who are directors of both the Company and NSI are required to exercise their fiduciary duties in light of what they believe to be best for each of the companies and its shareholders. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

CONTROL BY EXISTING STOCKHOLDERS; ANTI-TAKEOVER EFFECT OF DUAL CLASSES OF COMMON STOCK

Because of the relationship between the Company and NSI, management elected to structure the capitalization of the Company in such a manner as to minimize the possibility of a change in control of the Company without the consent of the Existing Stockholders. Consequently, the shares of Class B Common Stock enjoy ten to one voting privileges over the shares of Class A Common Stock until the outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock constitute less than 10% of the total outstanding shares of Common Stock. Immediately following the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders will collectively own 100% of the outstanding shares of the Class B Common Stock representing approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full). Accordingly, following completion of the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders, acting fully or partially in concert, will be able to control the election of the Board of Directors of the Company and thus the direction and future operations of the Company without the supporting vote of any other stockholder of the Company, including decisions regarding acquisitions and other business opportunities, the declaration of dividends and the issuance of additional shares of Class A Common Stock and other securities. NSI is a privately-held company, all of the shares of which are owned by certain Existing Stockholders of the Company. As long as the shareholders of NSI are majority stockholders of the Company, assuming they act in concert, third parties will not be able to obtain control of the Company through purchases of shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Principal and Selling Stockholders" and "Description of Capital Stock."

ADVERSE IMPACT ON COMPANY INCOME DUE TO DISTRIBUTOR OPTION PROGRAM

Prior to the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders intend to convert 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock to Class A Common Stock and contribute such shares of Class A Common Stock to the Company. The Company intends to grant to NSI options to purchase such shares of Class A Common Stock, and NSI intends to assign these options to qualifying distributors of NSI in connection with the Offerings (the "Distributor Options"). The exercise price for the Distributor Options will be 25% of the price to the public in connection with the Offerings. The vesting of the Distributor Options is subject to certain conditions, and the Distributor Options are being registered along with the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying such Distributor Options concurrently with the Offerings pursuant to Rule 415 under the 1933 Act.

The Company estimates a pre-tax non-cash compensation expense of $21.1 million in connection with the grant of the Distributor Options. This non-cash compensation expense will result in a corresponding impact on net income and net income per share, which may also result in a corresponding impact on the market price of the Class A Common Stock. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

RELIANCE ON AND CONCENTRATION OF OUTSIDE MANUFACTURERS

Virtually all the Company's products are sourced through NSI and are produced by manufacturers unaffiliated with NSI. The Company currently has little or no direct contact with these manufacturers. The Company's profit margins and its ability to deliver its existing products on a timely basis are dependent upon the ability of NSI's outside manufacturers to continue to supply products in a timely and cost-efficient manner. Furthermore, the Company's ability to enter new markets and sustain satisfactory levels of sales in each market is dependent in part upon the ability of suitable outside manufacturers to reformulate existing products, if necessary to comply with local regulations or market environments, for introduction into such markets. Finally, the development of additional new products in the future will likewise be dependent in part on the services of suitable outside manufacturers.

The Company currently acquires products or ingredients from sole suppliers or suppliers that are considered by the Company to be the superior suppliers of such ingredients. The Company believes that, in the event it is unable to source any products or ingredients from its current suppliers, the Company could produce such products or replace such products or substitute ingredients without great difficulty or prohibitive increases in the cost of goods sold. However, there can be no assurance that the loss of such a supplier would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations.

With respect to sales to the Company, NSI currently relies on two unaffiliated manufacturers to produce approximately 70% and 80% of its personal care and nutritional products, respectively. NSI has a written agreement with the primary supplier of the Company's personal care products that expires at the end of 1997. An extension to such contract is currently being negotiated. NSI does not currently have a written contract with the primary supplier of the Company's nutritional products. The Company believes that in the event that NSI's relationship with any of its key manufacturers is terminated, NSI will be able to find suitable replacement manufacturers. However, there can be no assurance that the loss of either manufacturer would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations.

RELIANCE ON OPERATIONS OF AND DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS FROM SUBSIDIARIES

The Company is a holding company without operations of its own or significant assets other than ownership of 100% of the capital stock of each of the Subsidiaries. Accordingly, an important source of the Company's income will be dividends and other distributions from the Subsidiaries. Each of the Subsidiaries has its operations in a country other than the United States, the country in which the Company is organized. In addition, each of the Subsidiaries receives its revenues in the local currency of the country or jurisdiction in which it is situated. As a consequence, the Company's ability to obtain dividends or other distributions is subject to, among other things, restrictions on dividends under applicable local laws and regulations, and foreign currency exchange regulations of the country or jurisdictions in which the Subsidiaries operate. The Subsidiaries' ability to pay dividends or make other distributions to the Company is also subject to their having sufficient funds from their operations legally available for the payment of such dividends or distributions that are not needed to fund their operations, obligations or other business plans. Because the Company will be a stockholder of each of the Subsidiaries, the Company's claims as such will generally rank junior to all other creditors of and claims against the Subsidiaries. In the event of a Subsidiary's liquidation, there may not be assets sufficient for the Company to recoup its investment in such Subsidiary.

TAXATION RISKS AND TRANSFER PRICING

After the Reorganization, the Company will be subject to taxation in the United States, where it is incorporated, at a statutory corporate federal tax rate of 35.0% plus any applicable state income taxes. In addition, each Subsidiary will be subject to taxation in the country in which it operates, currently ranging from a statutory tax rate of 57.9% in Japan to 16.5% in Hong Kong. The Company will be eligible for foreign tax credits in the U.S. for the amount of foreign taxes actually paid in a given period. In the event that the Company's operations in high tax jurisdictions such as Japan grow disproportionately to the rest of the Company's operations, the Company will be unable to fully utilize its foreign tax credits in the U.S., which could, accordingly, result in the Company paying a higher overall effective tax rate on its worldwide operations.

Because the Subsidiaries operate outside of the United States, the Company is subject to the jurisdiction of numerous foreign tax authorities. In addition to closely monitoring the Subsidiaries locally based income, these tax authorities regulate and restrict various corporate transactions, including intercompany transfers. The Company believes that the tax authorities in Japan and South Korea are particularly active in challenging the tax structures of foreign corporations and their intercompany transfers. Although the Company believes that its tax and transfer pricing structures are in compliance in all material respects with the laws of every jurisdiction in which it operates, no assurance can be given that these structures will not be challenged by foreign tax authorities or that such challenges will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business or results of operations.

INCREASE IN DISTRIBUTOR COMPENSATION EXPENSE

Under the Licensing and Sales Agreements (the "Licensing and Sales Agreements") between each of the Subsidiaries and NSI, the Company has agreed to incur a distributor commission expense of 42% of commissionable product sales (with the exception of South Korea where, due to government regulations, the Company uses a formula based upon a maximum payout of 35% of commissionable product sales). The Licensing and Sales Agreements provide that the Company is to satisfy this obligation by paying commissions owed to local distributors. In the event that these commissions exceed 42% of commissionable product sales, the Company is entitled to receive the difference from NSI. In the event that the commissions paid are lower than 42%, the Company must pay the difference to NSI. Under this formulation, the Company's total commission expense is fixed at 42% of commissionable product sales in each country (except for South Korea). The 42% figure has been set on the basis of NSI's experience over the past seven years during which period actual commissions paid in a given year together with the cost of administering the Global Compensation Plan have ranged between 41% and 43% of commissionable product sales for such year (averaging approximately 42%). In the event that actual commissions payable to distributors from sales in the Company's markets vary from these historical results, whether as a result of changes in distributor behavior or changes to the Global Compensation Plan or in the event that NSI's cost of administering the Global Compensation Plan increases or decreases, the Licensing and Sales Agreements provide that the intercompany settlement figure may be modified to more accurately reflect actual results. This could result in the Company becoming obligated to make greater settlement payments to NSI under the Licensing and Sales Agreements. Such additional payments could adversely affect the Company's results of operations. Because the Company licenses the right to use the Global Compensation Plan from NSI, the structure of the plan, including commission rates, is under the control of NSI.

SEASONALITY AND CYCLICALITY

While neither seasonal nor cyclical variations have materially affected the Company's results of operations to date, the Company believes that its rapid growth may have overshadowed these factors. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that seasonal or cyclical variations will not materially adversely affect the Company's results of operations in the future.

The direct selling industry in Asia is impacted by certain seasonal trends such as major cultural events and vacation patterns. For example, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and South Korea celebrate the local New Year in the Company's first quarter. Management believes that direct selling in Japan is also generally negatively impacted during August, when many individuals traditionally take vacations.

Generally, the Company has experienced rapid revenue growth in each new market from the commencement of operations. In Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the initial rapid revenue growth was followed by a short period of stable revenue followed by renewed growth fueled by new product introductions, an increase in the number of active distributors and increased distributor productivity. In addition, the Company may experience variations on a quarterly basis in its results of operations, as new products are introduced and new markets are opened. No assurances can be given that the Company's revenue growth rate in South Korea, which commenced operations in February 1996, or in new markets where operations have not commenced, will follow this pattern.

PRODUCT LIABILITY

The Company may be subject, under applicable laws and regulations, to liability for loss or injury caused by its products. The Company's Subsidiaries are currently covered for product liability claims to the extent of and under insurance programs maintained by NSI for their benefit and for the benefit of its affiliates purchasing NSI products and will continue to be so covered after the Offerings. Accordingly, NSI maintains a policy covering product liability claims for itself and its affiliates with a $1 million per claim and $1 million annual aggregate limit and an umbrella policy with a $40 million per claim and $40 million annual aggregate limit. Although the Company has not been the subject of material product liability claims and the laws and regulations providing for such liability in the Company's markets appear to have been seldom utilized, no assurance can be given that the Company may not be exposed to future product liability claims, and, if any such claims are successful, there can be no assurance that the Company will be adequately covered by insurance or have sufficient resources to pay such claims. The Company does not currently maintain its own product liability policy.

COMPETITION

The markets for personal care and nutritional products are large and intensely competitive. The Company competes directly with companies that manufacture and market personal care and nutritional products in each of the Company's product lines. The Company competes with other companies in the personal care and nutritional products industry by emphasizing the value and premium quality of the Company's products and the convenience of the Company's distribution system. Many of the Company's competitors have much greater name recognition and financial resources than the Company. In addition, personal care and nutritional products can be purchased in a wide variety of channels of distribution. While the Company believes that consumers appreciate the convenience of ordering products from home through a sales person or through a catalog, the buying habits of many consumers accustomed to purchasing products through traditional retail channels are difficult to change. The Company's product offerings in each product category are also relatively small compared to the wide variety of products offered by many other personal care and nutritional product companies. There can be no assurance that the Company's business and results of operations will not be affected materially by market conditions and competition in the future.

The Company also competes with other direct selling organizations, some of which have longer operating histories and higher visibility name recognition and financial resources. The leading network marketing company in the Company's markets is Anway Corporation and its affiliates. The Company competes for new distributors on the basis of the Global Compensation Plan and its premium quality products. Management envisions the entry of many more direct selling organizations into the marketplace as this channel of distribution expands over the next several years. The Company has been advised that certain large, well-financed corporations are planning to launch direct selling enterprises which will compete with the Company in certain of its product lines. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to successfully meet the challenges posed by this increased competition. The Company competes for the time, attention and commitment of its independent distributor force. Given that the pool of individuals interested in the business opportunities presented by direct selling tends to be limited in each market, the potential pool of distributors for the Company's products is reduced to the extent other network marketing companies successfully recruit these individuals into their businesses. Although management believes that the Company offers an attractive business opportunity, there can be no assurance that other network marketing companies will not be able to recruit the Company's existing distributors or deplete the pool of potential distributors in a given market.

OPERATIONS OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES; CURRENCY RISKS

Virtually all of the Company's assets and operations are located, and all of its revenues are derived from, operations outside the United States. The Company's operations may be materially and adversely affected by economic, political and social conditions in the countries in which it operates. A change in policies by any government in the Company's markets could adversely affect the Company and its operations through, among other things, changes in laws, rules or regulations, or the interpretation thereof, confiscatory taxation, restrictions on currency conversion, currency repatriation or imports, or the expropriation of private enterprises. Although the general trend in these countries has been toward more open markets and trade policies and the fostering of private business and economic activity, no assurance can be given that the governments in these countries will continue to pursue such policies or that such policies will not be significantly altered in future periods. This could be especially true in the event of a change in leadership, social or political disruption or upheaval, or unforeseen circumstances affecting economic, political or social conditions or policies. The Company is aware of news releases in South Korea, for example, reporting comments by political figures proposing restrictions on foreign direct sellers designed to protect the market share of local companies. There can be no assurance that such activities, or other similar activities in the Company's markets, will not result in passage of legislation or the enactment of policies which could materially adversely affect the Company's operations in these markets. In addition, the Company's ability to expand its operations into the new markets for which it has received an exclusive license to distribute NSI products will directly depend on its ability to secure the requisite government approvals and comply with the local government regulations in each of those countries. The Company has in the past experienced difficulties in obtaining such approvals as a result of certain actions taken by its distributors, and no assurance can be given that these or similar problems will not prevent the Company from commencing operations in those countries. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets.'

The Company purchases virtually all of its products from NSI through Nu Skin Hong Kong. Nu Skin Hong Kong pays for its purchases from NSI under a regional distribution agreement in U.S. dollars, while the other Subsidiaries pay for their purchases from Nu Skin Hong Kong under wholesale distribution agreements in their local currency. Nu Skin Hong Kong therefore bears significant currency exchange risk as a result of purchases from NSI on behalf of the Subsidiaries. Fluctuations in currency exchange rates, particularly those caused by an increase in the value of the U.S. dollar, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations and cash flows. The Company reduces its exposure to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates by creating offsetting positions through the use of foreign currency exchange contracts. The Company currently does not use such financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. The Company regularly monitors its foreign currency risks and periodically takes measures to reduce the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations on the Company's operating results. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations--Currency Fluctuation and Exchange Rate Information.'

IMPORT RESTRICTIONS, DUTIES AND REGULATION OF CONSUMER GOODS

With the exception of a small percentage of revenues in Japan, virtually all of the Company's sales historically have been derived from products purchased from NSI. All of those products historically have been imported into the countries in which they were ultimately sold. The countries in which the Company currently conducts business impose various legal restrictions on imports. In Japan, the Japanese Ministry of Health and Welfare ("MOHW") requires the Company to possess an import business license and to register each personal care product imported into the country. Packaging and labeling requirements are also specified. The Company has had to reformulate many products to satisfy MOHW regulations. In Japan, nutritional foods, drugs and quasi-drugs are all strictly regulated. The chief concern involves the types of claims and representations that can be made regarding the efficacy of nutritional products. In Taiwan, all "medicated" cosmetic and pharmaceutical products, including PharmAssist, require registration. In Hong Kong and Macau, "pharmaceutical" products are strictly regulated. In South Korea, the Company is subject to and has obtained the mandatory certificate of confirmation as a qualified importer of cosmetics under the Pharmaceutical Affairs Law and is required to obtain additional product approvals for each of the 45 categories of cosmetic products which it imports. Each new cosmetic product undergoes a 60 day post-customs inspection where, in addition to compliance with South Korean labeling requirements, each product is inspected for compliance with South Korean labeling requirements. There can be no assurance that these or other applicable regulations will not prevent the Company from introducing new products into its markets or require the reformulation of existing products.

The Company has not experienced any difficulty maintaining its import licenses but has experienced complications regarding health and safety and food and drug regulations for nutritional products. Many products require reformulation to comply with local requirements. In addition, new regulations could be adopted or any of the existing regulations could be changed at any time in a manner that could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. Duties on imports are a component of national trade and economic policy and could be changed in a manner that would be materially adverse to the Company's sales and its competitive position compared to locally-produced goods, in particular in countries such as Taiwan, where the Company's products are already subject to high customs duties. In addition, import restrictions in certain countries and jurisdictions limit the Company's ability to import products from NSI. In some jurisdictions, such as the PRC, regulators may prevent the importation of NSI products altogether. Present or future health and safety or food and drug regulations could delay or prevent the introduction of new products into a given country or marketplace or suspend or prohibit the sale of existing products in such country or marketplace.

ANTI-TAKEOVER EFFECTS OF CERTAIN CHARTER, CONTRACTUAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS

The Board of Directors is authorized, subject to certain limitations, to issue without further consent of the stockholders up to 25,000,000 shares of preferred stock with rights, preferences and privileges designated by the Board of Directors. See "Description of Capital Stock--Preferred Stock." In addition, the Company's Certificate of Incorporation requires the approval of $66\ 2/3\%$ of the outstanding voting power of the Class A Common Stock and the Class B Common Stock to authorize or approve certain change of control transactions. See "Description of Capital Stock--Voting Rights" and "--Mergers and Other Business Combinations." The Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws also contain certain provisions that limit the ability to call special meetings of stockholders and the ability of stockholders to bring business before or to nominate directors at a meeting of stockholders. See "Description of Capital Stock--Other Charter and Bylaw Provisions." Pursuant to the Company's 1996 Stock Incentive Plan, in the event of certain change of control transactions the Board of Directors has the right, under certain circumstances, to accelerate the vesting of options and the expiration of any restriction periods on stock awards. See "Management--1996 Stock Incentive Plan." Finally, the Operating Agreements with NSI and NSIMG are subject to renegotiation after December 31, 2001 upon a change of control of the Company. Any of these actions, provisions or requirements could have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change of control of the Company. See "Business--Relationship with NSI--General Provisions."

Upon consummation of the Offerings, the Company will be subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "Anti-Takeover Law") regulating corporate takeovers. The Anti-Takeover Law prevents certain Delaware corporations, including those whose securities are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, from engaging, under certain circumstances, in a "business combination" (which includes a merger of not more than 10% of the corporations' assets) with an "interested stockholder" (a stockholder who, together with affiliates and associates, within the prior three years did own, 15% or more of the corporation's outstanding voting stock) for three years following the date that such stockholder became an "interested stockholder," unless the "business combination" or "interested stockholder" is approved in a prescribed manner. A Delaware corporation may "opt out" of the Anti-Takeover Law with an express provision in its original certificate of incorporation or an express provision in its certificate of incorporation or bylaws resulting from a stockholders' amendment approved by at least a majority of the outstanding voting shares. The Company has not "opted out" of the provisions of the Anti-Takeover Law.

ABSENCE OF PUBLIC MARKET FOR CLASS A COMMON STOCK; DETERMINATION OF OFFERING PRICE; PRICE FLUCTUATIONS

Prior to the Offerings, there has been no public market for the Class A Common Stock and there can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Class A Common Stock will develop or continue after the closing of the Offerings. Accordingly, no assurance can be given as to the liquidity of the market for the Class A Common Stock or the price at which any sales of shares of Class A Common Stock may occur in the future, which price will depend upon the number of holders thereof and other factors beyond the control of the Company, including the liquidity of the market for the Common Stock, investor perceptions of the Company, changes in conditions or trends in the Company's industry or publicly traded comparable companies, adverse publicity which the Company or NSI may suffer and general economic and other conditions. The initial public offering price per share of the Class A Common Stock will be determined by negotiation among the Company, the Selling Stockholders and representatives of the Underwriters, and may not be indicative of the market price for the shares of Class A Common Stock after the closing of the Offerings.

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Sales of a substantial number of shares of Class A Common Stock in the public market following the Offerings could adversely affect the market price for the Class A Common Stock. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

DILUTION

The initial public offering price is expected to be approximately $21 per share of Class A Common Stock. At this assumed offering price, investors purchasing shares of Class A Common Stock in the Offerings will incur immediate dilution of $20.19 per share. See "Dilution."

ABSENCE OF DIVIDENDS

The Company does not anticipate that any dividends will be declared on its Common Stock in the immediate future. The Company intends from time to time to re-evaluate this policy based on its net income and its alternative uses for retained earnings, if any. Any future declaration of dividends will be subject to the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Company and subject to certain limitations under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware. The timing, amount and form of dividends, if any, will depend, among other things, on the Company's results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements and other factors deemed relevant by the Board of Directors of the Company. There can be no assurance regarding the timing or payment of any future dividends by the Company. It is anticipated that any dividends, if declared, will be paid in U.S. dollars. See "Dividend Policy."

THE REORGANIZATION

Prior to the Offerings, the shareholders of Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Korea, Nu Skin Taiwan, Nu Skin Hong Kong and Nu Skin Thailand will contribute their shares of capital stock to the capital of the Company in a transaction intended to qualify under Section 351 of the Code in exchange for shares of the Company's Class B Common Stock (the "Reorganization"). Prior to the Reorganization, all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Subsidiaries and Nu Skin Thailand were held by the Existing Stockholders. The Reorganization will result in each of the Subsidiaries and Nu Skin Thailand becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

Nu Skin Hong Kong and Nu Skin Taiwan are Utah corporations, each operating through branches in Hong Kong and Taiwan, respectively. Nu Skin Japan and Nu Skin Korea are Japanese and South Korean corporations, respectively, and both are domesticated corporations in Delaware. Nu Skin Thailand, which currently has no operations, is a Thailand corporation and also a Delaware domesticated corporation. Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Korea and Nu Skin Thailand each has dual residence in the U.S. and its respective foreign jurisdiction, and each is treated as a U.S. corporation for U.S. tax purposes and a Japan, South Korea or Thailand corporation, respectively, for tax purposes in each such jurisdiction. After the Reorganization, Nu Skin Hong Kong and Nu Skin Taiwan will continue to be viewed as branches in Hong Kong and Taiwan, respectively, and Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Korea and Nu Skin Thailand will continue to be viewed as domestic corporations in Japan, South Korea and Thailand, respectively.

POST-REORGANIZATION AND THE OFFERINGS

S CORPORATION DISTRIBUTION

Prior to the Reorganization, each Subsidiary elected to be treated as an "S" corporation under subchapter S of the Code and comparable state tax laws. As a result of the Subsidiaries' S corporation status, the earnings of the Subsidiaries since incorporation have been included in the taxable income of the Existing Stockholders for Federal and certain state income tax purposes, and the Subsidiaries have generally not been subject to U.S. Federal or state income tax on such earnings. Prior to the consummation of the Offerings, the Subsidiaries' S corporation status will be terminated (the "S Termination Date"). Prior to the S Termination Date, the Company will declare a distribution to the Existing Stockholders that will include all of the Subsidiaries' previously earned and undistributed S corporation earnings through the S Termination Date (the "S Corporation Distribution").

As of September 30, 1996, the Subsidiaries' aggregate undistributed taxable S corporation earnings were $81.9 million. The Company estimates that the Subsidiaries' aggregate undistributed taxable S corporation earnings will be between $92.0 million and $97.0 million as of the S Termination Date (which includes approximately $10 million to $15 million of the Company's earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings for the period from October 1, 1996 through the S Termination Date). The S Corporation Distribution will be distributed in the form of promissory notes due within six months of the S Termination Date bearing interest at 8% per annum (S Distribution Notes). Upon the consummation of the Offerings, approximately $15.0 million of the proceeds from the Offerings will be used to pay a portion of the S Distribution Notes. The Company estimates that, at the Offerings, it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes will be repaid from cash generated by operations. On and after the S Termination Date, the Company will no longer be treated as an S corporation and, accordingly, will be fully subject to Federal and state income taxes.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds from the sale of shares of Class A Common Stock by the Company are estimated to be approximately $91 million, based on an assumed initial public offering price of $21 per share and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and offering expenses payable by the Company. The Company will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of shares of Class A Common Stock by the Selling Stockholders, including from the exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment options. The Company has agreed to pay certain expenses on behalf of the Selling Stockholders.

The Company anticipates applying the net proceeds of the Offerings as follows: (i) approximately $40 million of such proceeds will be used, together with operating income, to finance the planned entry of the Company into Thailand, the Philippines, the PRC (where it is anticipated that the Company will be required to invest in a manufacturing facility), Malaysia, Indonesia, Vietnam and Singapore, which includes a $15 million payment to NSI (consisting of a $5 million payment upon the consummation of the Offerings and a $10 million payment scheduled for January 15, 1997) as partial payment for the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in these countries, and which may include organizational costs, the initial build-up of inventory and other start-up expenses; (ii) approximately $15 million will be used to repay a portion of the S Distribution Notes; (iii) approximately $12 million of such proceeds will be used for the introduction of new products in the Company's markets; (iv) approximately $12 million of such proceeds will be used to enhance the Company's technological infrastructure, including the expansion of information systems hardware and support capabilities allowing the Company the ability to better support distributors; (v) approximately $10 million of such proceeds will be used to expand the Company's presence and operations in South Korea, Japan and Taiwan, which will include the establishment of several additional walk-in distributor centers in major cities; and (vi) the remainder of such proceeds, approximately $2 million, will be used for general corporate purposes, which may include additional capital expansion projects. Pending such uses, the Company intends to invest the proceeds from the Offerings in short-term, interest bearing, investment grade instruments.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The Company does not anticipate that any dividends will be declared on its Common Stock in the immediate future. The Company intends from time to time to re-evaluate this policy based on its net income and its alternative uses for retained earnings, if any. Any future declaration of dividends will be subject to the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Company and subject to certain limitations under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "DGCL"). The timing, amount and form of dividends, if any, will depend, among other things, on the Company's results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements and other factors deemed relevant by the Board of Directors of the Company. It is anticipated that any dividends, if declared, will be paid in U.S. dollars. The Company, as a holding company, will be dependent on the earnings and cash flow of, and dividends and distributions from, the Subsidiaries to pay any cash dividends or distributions on the Class A Common Stock that may be authorized by the Board of Directors of the Company. See "Certain United States Tax Consequences to Non-United States Holders." Holders of Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock will share equally in any dividends declared by the Board of Directors. See "Risk Factors--Absence of Dividends," "--Reliance on Operations of and Dividends and Distributions from Subsidiaries" and "Description of Capital Stock--Common Stock--Dividends" and "--Preferred Stock.'

CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth the cash and cash equivalents, the short-term debt and capitalization of the Company on a combined basis as of September 30, 1996, and as adjusted as of that date to give effect to the Reorganization, including (i) the S Corporation Distribution as if the Company's S corporation status had terminated on such date; and (ii) $5.8 million of net deferred tax assets that would have been recorded had the Company's S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996, and as further adjusted to reflect the sale by the Company of shares of Class A Common Stock in the Offerings, and the application of the net proceeds therefrom. The information below should be read in conjunction with the Combined Financial Statements and the related notes thereto and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and pro forma financial statements included elsewhere in this Prospectus.

- (1) Reflects the sale by the Company of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock at an estimated offering price of $21 per share, less estimated offering expenses of $9.0 million, including Underwriters' discounts. In connection with the Offerings, the Company will pay the $25.0 million License Fee to NSI, which consists of a $5 million cash payment upon the consummation of the Offerings, a $10 million short-term note due on January 15, 1997 and a $10 million long-term note due on January 15, 1998. The $5 million cash payment and the $10 million short-term note will be paid from the proceeds of the Offerings. Approximately $15.0 million of the net proceeds of the Offerings will also be used to repay a portion of the S Distribution Notes. The Company estimates that, at the Offerings, it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes are expected to be repaid from cash generated by operations.
- (2) Reflects the conversion by the Existing Stockholders of 7,190,500 shares of Class B Common Stock into Class A Common Stock. Of these shares, 2,855,000 shares will be contributed by the Existing Stockholders, prior to the Offerings, to the Company and NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance in connection with the Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards and 4,335,500 shares will be sold in the Offerings. Also reflects 14,500 shares of Class A Common Stock that will be issued immediately following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings upon exercise of options by an executive officer of the Company and which shares will be sold in the Offerings. Also reflects estimated deferred compensation and additional paid-in capital of $25.9 million, $4.8 million of which represents the estimated compensation expense related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates which vest over a period of four years and $21.1 million of which represents the estimated compensation expense related to the one-time grant of the Distributor Options with an exercise price at 25% of the initial public offering price to independent distributors (non-employees) of the Company immediately prior to the Offerings. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."
- (3) No adjustment has been made to give effect to the Company's earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings for the period from October 1, 1996, through the S Termination Date. The Company anticipates the increase in the S Distribution Notes will be approximately $10 million and $15 million. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution."
- (4) Reflects the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes to the Selling Stockholders in respect of the earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings and capital at September 30, 1996, that would have been distributed had the Subsidiaries' S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996. Approximately $15.0 million of the net proceeds of the Offerings will be used to repay a portion of the S Distribution Notes.
- (5) Reflects the contribution by the Existing Stockholders of their interests in the Subsidiaries in exchange for shares of Class B Common Stock.
- (6) Reflects the recognition of a deferred tax asset of $5.8 million. In connection with the Reorganization, the Company will record deferred tax assets for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception.
 (7) Evaluates 1, 202, 202, and a state income taxes are received for inception.
- (7) Excludes 1,605,000 shares held by the Company and reserved for issuance upon exercise of the Distributor Options.

DILUTION

The net tangible book value of the Company at September 30, 1996 was approximately $78.3 million, or $.98 per share of Common Stock. After giving effect to the Reorganization and the S Corporation Distribution as if they had occurred as of September 30, 1996 and the Company's S corporation status had terminated at such date, the pro forma net tangible book value of the Company at September 30, 1996 would have been approximately $2.1 million, or $.03 per share of Common Stock. After giving effect to the sale of the 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock offered by the Company hereby, and the application of the estimated net proceeds therefrom as set forth under "Use of Proceeds" (after deducting estimated offering expenses and the underwriting discount), after the purchase of the License Fee from NSI, the pro forma net tangible book value of the Company as adjusted at September 30, 1996 would have been approximately $67.9 million, or $.81 per share. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution" and "Use of Proceeds." This represents an immediate dilution of $20.19 per share to purchasers of shares at the initial public offering price. See "Risk Factors--Dilution." The following table illustrates the per share dilution:

- (1) The term Existing Stockholders does not include an executive officer of the Company who will exercise an option for 14,500 shares following the Reorganization and who will sell such shares in the Offerings.
- (2) Excludes 4,335,500 shares to be sold by the Existing Stockholders to new investors in connection with the Offerings. Includes 1,250,000 shares which the Existing Stockholders have committed to transfer to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for subsequent issuance in connection with employee stock bonus awards and 1,605,000 shares which the Existing Stockholders intend to contribute to the Company for subsequent issuance upon exercise of the Distributor Options.

(3) The cash consideration paid by the Existing Stockholders has been reduced by distributions previously made to the Existing Stockholders and certain distributions to be received by the Existing Stockholders out of the net proceeds of the Offerings. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution" and "Use of Proceeds."

(4) Includes 4,335,500 shares to be sold by the Existing Stockholders, 14,500 shares to be sold by an executive officer of the Company after exercise of an option and 4,750,000 shares to be sold by the Company in connection with the Offerings.

The following selected combined financial and other data as of December 31, 1994 and 1995 and for the fiscal years ended September 30, 1993 and 1994 and for the three month period ended December 31, 1994 and for the year ended December 31, 1995 have been derived from the Company's Combined Financial Statements, which have been audited by Price Waterhouse LLP, independent accountants, included elsewhere in this Prospectus. The combined financial data as of September 30, 1993 and 1994 are derived from the combined financial statements of the Company, which have been audited but are not contained herein. The financial data as of September 30, 1991 and 1992 and for the fiscal years ended September 30, 1991 and 1992 and for the year ended December 31, 1994 and as of September 30, 1996 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996 are unaudited. Interim results, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments (consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the financial information for such periods; however, such results are not necessarily indicative of the results which may be expected for any other interim period or for a full year. This information should be read in conjunction with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and the Combined Financial Statements and the related notes thereto included elsewhere in this Prospectus.

- (1) The information for the year ended December 31, 1994 is not included in the Company's Combined Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Prospectus. Such information has been presented for comparative purposes only.
- (2) The unaudited pro forma income statement data reflects the Reorganization, the Offerings and the following adjustments as if such events had occurred on January 1, 1995: (i) the amortization over a 20-year period of a $25.0 million payment, consisting of $5.0 million in cash and $20.0 million in notes, to NSI for the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam (the "License Fee"); (ii) the recognition by the Company of additional management charges of $4.4 million per year relating to certain support services provided to the Company by NSI and an NSI affiliate; (iii) estimated annual compensation expense of $1.2 million related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates; (iv) adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception; and (v) increased interest expense of $2.7million relating to the issuance of $81.9 million of interest bearing S distribution notes (the "S Distribution Notes"), approximately $15.0 million of which will be repaid from the proceeds of the Offerings, due and payable within six months (8% interest per annum) to the Existing Stockholders in respect of the earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings and capital at September 30, 1996, that would have been distributed had the Company's S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996.
- (3) The unaudited pro forma income statement data does not reflect the estimated non-cash compensation expense of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of the Distributor Options at an exercise price of 25% of the initial public offering price. The granting and vesting of the Distributor Options will be conditioned upon distributor performance under the Global Compensation Plan and the NSI 1996 Distribution Stock Option Plan. The vesting of the Distributor Options is scheduled to occur on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor stock incentive expense for these non-employee stock options. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

- (4) Other pro forma income and expense includes: (i) increased interest expense of $2.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995, relating to the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes (approximately $15.0 million of which will be repaid from the proceeds of the Offerings); (ii) increased interest expense of $0.9 million, $0.7 million and $0.1 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996, respectively, relating to the issuance of $20.0 million in notes as partial payment of the License Fee payable to NSI; and (iii) increased interest income of $0.8 million, $0.6 million and $0.6 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996, respectively, relating to an estimated $10.0 million note receivable from NSI as consideration for the Distributor Options.
- (5) Reflects 80,250,000 shares of Common Stock and Common Stock equivalents outstanding after giving effect to the Reorganization, increased by the sale of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, the award of 109,000 shares of Common Stock to employees of the Company and an option granted to an executive officer of the Company to purchase 267,500 shares of Class A Common Stock (14,500 of which will be issued upon partial exercise of such options following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings and sold in connection with the Offerings). Supplemental income per share, calculated as if $25.0 million of the proceeds from the Offerings were used to repay notes payable, had a dilutive effect of less than 2%, and therefore, is not presented.
- (6) The as adjusted balance sheet data as of September 30, 1996 reflects estimated deferred compensation expense and additional paid-in capital of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of the Distributor Options. The as adjusted balance sheet data also reflects: (i) the sale of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock pursuant to the Offerings; (ii) the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes to the Selling Stockholders; (iii) a $15.0 million partial payment of the S Distribution Notes from the proceeds of the Offerings; (iv) $20.0 million in notes payable to NSI, consisting of a $10 million short-term note due on January 15, 1997 and a $10 million long-term note due on January 15, 1998, which will be issued as partial payment of the $25.0 million License Fee to NSI; (v) an estimated $10.0 million note receivable from NSI, issued by NSI as partial consideration for the Distributor Options; (vi) estimated deferred compensation and additional paid-in capital of $4.8 million, which represents the estimated compensation expense related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates which vest over a period of four years; and (vii) the recognition of a deferred tax asset of $5.8 million relating to adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception. No adjustment has been made to give effect to the Company's earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings for the period from October 1, 1996 through the S Termination Date (as defined herein). The Company anticipates the increase in the S Distribution Notes to be between $10.0 million and $15.0 million. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution." The Company estimates that, at the Offerings, it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes will be repaid from cash generated by operations.
- (7) Active distributors are those distributors who are resident in the countries in which the Company operates and who have purchased products during the three months ended as of the date indicated, rounded to the nearest thousand. An executive distributor is an active distributor who has submitted a qualifying letter of intent to become an executive distributor, achieved specified personal and group sales volumes for a four month period and maintained such specified personal and group sales volumes thereafter.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion of the Company's financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with the Combined Financial Statements and the related notes thereto included elsewhere in this Prospectus. See also "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution."

OVERVIEW

Nu Skin Asia Pacific is a rapidly growing network marketing company involved in the distribution and sale of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products. The Company is the exclusive distribution vehicle for Nu Skin International, Inc. ("Nu Skin International" or "NSI") in the countries of Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong (including Macau) and South Korea, where the Company currently has operations, and in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam, where operations have not commenced. Additionally, the Company supplies certain products to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand. The Company's network of independent distributors has grown since inception to more than 330,000 active distributors as of September 30, 1996.

The Company has generated increased revenue each year since it commenced operations in September 1991 and has operated profitably each year since 1992. The Company's growth is primarily due to an increase in revenue from sales of personal care products, the introduction of nutritional products, an increase in the number of active distributors and the expansion of operations into new geographic markets.

The Company's revenue is primarily dependent upon the efforts of a network of independent distributors who purchase products and sales materials from the Company in their local currency and who constitute the Company's customers. The Company recognizes virtually all of its revenue when products are shipped and title passes to these independent distributors after payment is received by the Company. Revenue is net of returns, which have historically been less than 1.5% of gross sales. Distributor incentives are paid to various distributors on each product sale. The amount and recipient of the incentive varies depending on the purchaser's position within the Global Compensation Plan. These incentives are classified as operating expenses. The following table sets forth revenue information for the time periods indicated. This table should be reviewed in connection with the tables presented under "Results of Operations" which disclose distributor incentives and other costs associated with generating the aggregate revenue presented.

	DATE OPERATIONS	NINE MONTHS ENDE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, SEPTEMBER 30,
COUNTRY	COMMENCED	1993	1994	1995	1995	1996
			(1	N MILLIO	NS)

affiliates(/1/)	January 1993	8.5	1.4	4.6	3.0	3.4
Total revenue		$ 162.6	$ 264.4 ======	$ 358.6 ======	$ 241.4 $	6 471.3 ======

Includes revenue from the sale of certain products to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand.

Revenue generated in Japan and Taiwan represented 56.2% and 22.7%, respectively, of total revenue generated during the nine months ended September 30, 1996. Since the commencement of operations in February 1996, the Company's South Korean operations generated $83.7 million of revenue, or 17.8% of total revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. Although operating costs have increased in each country with the growth of the Company's revenue, such costs have declined as a percentage of revenue due to improved operating leverage. Revenue generated in Hong Kong during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 represented 2.6% of total Company revenue. Cost of sales primarily consists of the cost of products purchased from NSI (in U.S. dollars) as well as customs duties related to the importation of such products. As the sales mix changes between product categories, cost of sales and, accordingly, gross profit, may fluctuate to some degree. In general, however, costs of sales move proportionate to revenue. Also, as currency exchange rates fluctuate, the Company's gross margin will fluctuate.

Distributor incentives are the Company's most significant expense. Pursuant to the Operating Agreements with NSI, the Company has agreed to incur a distributor commission expense of 42% of commissionable product sales (with the exception of South Korea, where, due to government regulations, the Company uses a formula based upon a maximum payout of 35% of commissionable product sales). The Licensing and Sales Agreements provide that the Company is to satisfy this obligation by paying commissions owed to local distributors. In the event that these commissions exceed 42% of commissionable product sales, the Company is entitled to receive the difference from NSI. In the event that the commissions paid are lower than 42%, the Company must pay the difference to NSI. Under this formulation, the Company's total commission expense is fixed at 42% of commissionable product sales in each country (except for South Korea). Because the Company's revenue includes sales of both commissionable and non-commissionable items, distributor incentives as a percentage of total revenue have ranged from approximately 36.4% to 38.1% since September 30, 1993. Non-commissionable items consist of sales materials and starter kits as well as sales to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand.

Selling, general and administrative expenses include wages and benefits, rents and utilities, travel and entertainment, promotion and advertising and professional fees, as well as license and management fees paid to NSI and Nu Skin International Management Group, Inc. ("NSIMG"). Pursuant to the Operating Agreements, the Company contracts for management support services from NSIMG, for which the Company pays a fee equal to an allocation of expenses plus 3%. In addition, the Company pays to NSI a license fee of 4% of the Company's revenues from sales to distributors (excluding sales of starter kits) for the use of NSI's distributor lists, distribution system and certain related intangibles.

Provision for income taxes is dependent on the statutory tax rates in each of the countries in which the Company operates. Historically, each of the Subsidiaries was only taxed in its local jurisdiction in accordance with relevant tax laws. Statutory tax rates in the countries in which the Company has operations are 16.5% in Hong Kong, 25.0% in Taiwan, 30.1% in South Korea and 57.9% in Japan. The Company operates a regional business center in Hong Kong, which bears inventory obsolescence and currency exchange risks. Any income or loss incurred by the regional business center is not subject to taxation in Hong Kong.

Upon the consummation of the Reorganization, the Company will be subject to taxation in the United States, where it is incorporated, at a statutory corporate federal tax rate of 35%. In addition, each Subsidiary will be subject to taxation in the country in which it operates. The Company will receive foreign tax credits for the amount of foreign taxes actually paid in a given period, which may be utilized to reduce taxes paid in the United States. In the event that the Company's operations in high tax jurisdictions such as Japan grow disproportionately to the rest of the Company's operations, the Company may be unable to fully utilize its foreign tax credits in the U.S. which could, accordingly, result in the Company paying a higher overall effective tax rate on its worldwide operations.

NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1996 COMPARED TO THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1995

REVENUE was $471.3 million during the nine months ended September 30, 1996, an increase of 95.2% from the revenue of $241.4 million recorded during the same period in 1995. This increase is attributable to the following factors. First, revenue in Japan increased by $111.5 million, or 72.6%. This increase in revenue was primarily as a result of the continued success of nutritional, color cosmetics and HairFitness products, which were introduced in October 1995 and was partially offset by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar relative to the Japanese yen during the same period. Second, revenue in Taiwan increased by $32.9 million, or 44.4%, primarily as a result of the introduction of color cosmetics and other products, along with the opening of a new distribution center in Taichung, Taiwan. Third, in February 1996, Nu Skin Korea commenced operations and, through September 30, 1996, has generated revenue of $83.7 million. Additionally, revenue in Hong Kong increased by $1.4 million during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 as compared to the same period in 1995.

GROSS PROFIT as a percentage of revenue was 71.7% and 73.4% during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1995, respectively. This decline reflected the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, the introduction of three nutritional products in Japan in October 1995 and the commencement of operations in South Korea in 1996. Nutritional products are generally subject to higher duties than other products marketed by the Company, which yields lower gross profit as a percentage of revenue. The commencement of operations in South Korea also impacted gross profit as a percentage of revenue due to South Korean regulations which result in higher prices on imported products than in other markets.

DISTRIBUTOR INCENTIVES as a percentage of total revenue declined from 38.1% for the nine months ended September 30, 1995 to 37.2% for the same period in 1996. The primary reason for this decline was increased revenue from South Korea where local regulations limit the incentives which can be paid to South Korean distributors.

SELLING, GENERAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES as a percentage of revenue declined from 18.3% during the nine months ended September 30, 1995 to 14.9% during the same period in 1996. This fluctuation was primarily due to economies of scale gained as the Company's revenue increased.

OPERATING INCOME during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 increased to $92.6 million, an increase of 124.2% from the $41.3 million of operating income recorded during the same period in 1995. Operating income as a percentage of revenue increased from 17.0% to 19.6%. This increase was caused primarily by lower selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenue.

OTHER INCOME increased by $1.9 million during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 as compared to the same period in 1995. The increase was primarily caused by an increase in interest income generated through the short term investment of cash.

PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased to $34.2 million during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 compared to $15.7 million during the same period in 1995. The pro forma effective tax rate decreased to 36.3% in 1996 as compared to 38.4% for the same period in 1995. The Company generated excess foreign tax credits in 1995 which did not continue in 1996.

NET INCOME AFTER PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased by $34.7 million to $59.9 million during the nine months ended September 30, 1996 compared to the $25.2 million during the same period in 1995. Pro forma net income as a percentage of revenue increased to 12.6% for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 as compared to 10.3% for the same period in 1995.

REVENUE was $358.6 million during the year ended December 31, 1995, an increase of 35.6% from the $264.4 million of revenue recorded during 1994. This increase was due primarily to an increased number of active distributors in each market, which was the primary factor contributing to a $58.6 million increase in revenue in Japan, a $26.2 million increase in revenue in Taiwan and a $6.2 million increase in revenue in Hong Kong. Nutritional products, color cosmetics products and a new line of HairFitness products were introduced in Japan in the fourth quarter of 1995, accounting for $25.0 million of the $58.6 million increase. Additionally, the Company benefitted by the strengthening of the Japanese yen during 1995. Revenue in Taiwan and Hong Kong increased as a result of a higher volume of sales of color cosmetics, which were introduced in late 1994, and other personal care products. Additionally, certain new product introductions by NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand led to a $3.2 million increase in revenue.

GROSS PROFIT as a percentage of revenue increased from 68.9% in 1994 to 73.1% in 1995. The increase in gross profit resulted from a reduction in product costs on purchases from NSI, the weakening of the U.S. dollar relative to the Japanese yen and other cost savings related to inventory shipping and handling.

DISTRIBUTOR INCENTIVES as a percentage of revenue decreased from 38.4% in 1994 to 37.8% in 1995. This decline was primarily attributable to an increase in revenue in 1995 from non-commissionable sales materials and sales to NSI affiliates.

SELLING, GENERAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES as a percentage of revenue increased to 18.8% during the year ended December 31, 1995, from 18.4% during 1994. This increase was primarily due to a one-time cost incurred in February 1995 in connection with moving the Company's Japanese facilities into a larger, more accessible office and distributor center in Tokyo, Japan.

OPERATING INCOME increased to $58.8 million in 1995 from $32.0 million in 1994, an increase of 83.8%. Operating income as a percentage of revenue increased to 16.5% from 12.1%. The increase was primarily the result of the product cost reductions discussed above.

OTHER INCOME increased by approximately $0.9 million during 1995 as compared to 1994. This increase was primarily caused by the disposal of property and equipment related to a move to new facilities during 1994, and an increase in interest income generated through the short term investment of cash.

PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased to $22.8 million during the year ended December 31, 1995 as compared to $11.5 million for the same period in 1994. The effective tax rate was 38.4% in 1995 as compared to 36.4% in 1994.

NET INCOME AFTER PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased by $16.4 million to $36.5 million during the year ended December 31, 1995 as compared to $20.1 million for the same period in 1994. Pro forma net income as a percentage of revenue increased to 10.2% during the year ended December 31, 1995 as compared to 7.7% for the same period in 1994.

YEAR ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1994, COMPARED TO THE YEAR ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1993

REVENUE for the year ended September 30, 1994, was $254.6 million, an increase of 130.2% when compared to the $110.6 million of revenue reported in 1993. This increase was largely due to the following three factors: (i) a $113.6 million increase in revenue reflecting a full year of operations in Japan in fiscal year 1994 as compared to only six months of operations in fiscal year 1993; (ii) a $33.2 million increase in revenue in Taiwan due to a growing number of active distributors purchasing the Company's products; and (iii) a $2.3 million increase in revenue in Hong Kong. These increases were partially offset by a $5.1 million decrease in revenues from sales to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand.

GROSS PROFIT as a percentage of revenue increased slightly to 65.9% in fiscal year 1994 from 64.9% in fiscal year 1993. The increase in gross profit as a percentage of revenue was primarily due to changes in the sales mix.

DISTRIBUTOR INCENTIVES as a percentage of revenue increased to 37.6% during the year ended September 30, 1994, from 36.4% during the year ended September 30, 1993. This increase was primarily due to a decrease in non-commissionable sales to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand which represented 6.7% of total revenue in fiscal year 1993 compared to less than 1.0% of total revenue in fiscal year 1994. SELLING, GENERAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES as a percentage of revenue decreased to 17.5% during the year ended September 30, 1994, from 24.5% during the year ended September 30, 1993. This decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenue was the result of economies of scale obtained as revenue increased in Japan and Taiwan.

OPERATING INCOME during the year ended September 30, 1994, increased to $27.5 million from $4.4 million recorded during the year ended September 30, 1993. This increase was the combination of an increase in revenue and a decrease in selling, general, and administrative expenses.

OTHER INCOME increased by $0.3 million during the year ended September 30, 1994 as compared to the same period in 1993.

PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased to $10.4 million during the year ended December 31, 1994, as compared to $1.5 million for the same period in 1993. The effective tax rate was 37.3% in 1994 compared to 33.3% in 1993.

NET INCOME AFTER PRO FORMA PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES increased by $14.5 million to $17.5 million during the year ended December 31, 1994 as compared to $3.0 million for the same period in 1993. Pro forma net income as a percentage of revenue increased to 6.9% for the year ended December 31, 1994 as compared to 2.7% for the same period in 1993.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA COMBINED RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

As part of the Reorganization and Offerings, several actions will occur which will impact the comparability of the historical financial results for the Company with the future results of the Company. The following adjustments are reflected in the unaudited pro forma combined financial information set forth below and included elsewhere in this Prospectus: (i) the amortization over a 20-year period of a $25.0 million payment, consisting of $5.0 million in cash and $20.0 million in notes, to NSI for the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam, (ii) the recognition by the Company of additional management charges of $4.4 million per year relating to certain support services provided to the Company by NSI and an NSI affiliate, (iii) estimated annual compensation expense of $1.2 million related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates, (iv) recording of U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than as an S corporation since inception, and (v) increased interest expense of $2.7 million relating to the issuance of $81.9 million of S Distribution Notes due and payable within six months (8% interest per annum) to the Selling Stockholders in respect of the earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings at September 30, 1996 that would have been distributed had the Company's S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996. The unaudited pro forma combined financial information set forth below does not reflect the estimated non-cash compensation expense of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of the Distributor Options at an exercise price of 25% of the initial public offering price in connection with the Offerings. The Distributor Options will include conditions related to the achievement of performance goals and will vest on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor incentive stock expense for these non-employee stock options.

The following table sets forth the percentage of revenue represented by the specific components of income and expense on a pro forma basis for the periods presented. See "Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Financial Statements" and the related notes thereto included elsewhere in this Prospectus.

Upon the consummation of the Reorganization, the Company will be subject to taxation in the United States, where it is incorporated, at a statutory corporate federal tax rate of 35%. In addition, each Subsidiary will be subject to taxation in the country in which it operates. The Company will receive foreign tax credits for the amount of foreign taxes actually paid in a given period, which may be utilized to reduce taxes paid in the United States. In the event that the Company's operations in high tax jurisdictions such as Japan grow disproportionately to the rest of the Company's operations, the Company will be unable to fully utilize its foreign tax credits in the U.S. which could, accordingly, result in the Company paying a higher overall effective tax rate on its worldwide operations.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company generates significant cash flow from operations. During the year ended December 31, 1995, cash provided by operations totaled $65.0 million. As of September 30, 1996, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $81.1 million. As of September 30, 1996, the Subsidiaries' aggregate undistributed taxable S corporation earnings were $81.9 million. The Company estimates that the Subsidiaries' aggregate undistributed taxable S corporation earnings will be between $92.0 million and $97.0 million as of the S Termination Date (which includes approximately $10 million to $15 million of the Company's earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings for the period from October 1, 1996 through the S Termination Date). The S Corporation Distribution will be distributed in the form of promissory notes due within six months of the S Termination Date bearing interest at 8% per annum ("S Distribution Notes"). Upon the consummation of the Offerings, $15.0 million of the proceeds from the Offerings will be used to pay a portion of the S Distribution Notes. The Company estimates that at the Offerings it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes will be repaid from cash generated by operations. On and after the S Termination Date, the Company will no longer be treated as an S corporation and, accordingly, will be fully subject to Federal and state income taxes. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution."

The Company is able to generate significant cash balances due to its rapid growth, high margins and minimal capital requirements. As of September 30, 1996, working capital was $60.8 million compared to $47.9 million and $26.7 million at December 31, 1995 and 1994, respectively. Cash and cash equivalents at September 30, 1996 were $81.1 million compared to $63.2 million and $16.3 million at December 31, 1995 and 1994, respectively.

Historically, the Company's principal need for funds has been for distributor incentives, working capital (principally inventory purchases), capital expenditures and the development of new markets. The Company has generally relied entirely on cash flow from operations to meet its business objectives without incurring long term debt to unrelated third parties. The Company did, however, rely upon borrowings from NSI in initially establishing operations in Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong. Regulations in South Korea preclude borrowings from related entities, which led to the Company establishing an $8.0 million line of credit to facilitate the opening of the South Korean market. There were no outstanding borrowings under this credit facility as of December 31, 1995, and it expired on July 1, 1996.

Capital expenditures, primarily for equipment, computer systems and software, office furniture and leasehold improvements, were $4.0 million, $5.4 million and $1.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, and the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1994, respectively. The Company anticipates additional capital expenditures of $2.4 million to support growth through the end of 1996. In addition, the Company anticipates capital expenditures over the next two years of approximately $22.0 million to further enhance its infrastructure, including computer systems and software, warehousing facilities and distributor centers in order to accommodate future growth.

Under the Operating Agreements with NSI, the Company incurs related party payables. The Company had related party payables of $36.1 million, $28.7 million and $10.6 million at September 30, 1996, and December 31, 1995 and 1994, respectively. In addition, the Company had related party receivables of $7.8 million, $1.8 million and $17.9 million, respectively, at those dates. NSI has the right to charge interest on balances outstanding in excess of 60 days at a rate of 2% above the U.S. prime rate. As of September 30, 1996, no material related party payables or receivables had been outstanding for more than 60 days.

Management considers the Company to be liquid and able to meet its obligations on both a short and long-term basis. Management anticipates using the proceeds of the Offerings as outlined in the Use of Proceeds section within the next three years. Further, management believes that the proceeds from the Offerings together with future cash flows from operations will be adequate to fund cash needs relating to the implementation of the Company's strategic plans, including opening new markets and funding the S Distribution Notes.

SEASONALITY AND CYCLICALITY

While neither seasonal nor cyclical variations have materially affected the Company's results of operations to date, the Company believes that its rapid growth may have overshadowed these factors. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that seasonal or cyclical variations will not materially adversely affect the Company's results of operations in the future.

The direct selling industry is impacted by certain seasonal trends such as major cultural events and vacation patterns. For example, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and South Korea celebrate the local New Year in the Company's first quarter. Management believes that direct selling in Japan is also generally negatively impacted during August, when many individuals traditionally take vacations.

Generally, the Company has experienced rapid revenue growth in each new market from the commencement of operations. In Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the initial rapid revenue growth was followed by a short period of stable revenue followed by renewed growth fueled by new product introductions, an increase in the number of active distributors and increased distributor productivity. In addition, the Company may experience variations on a quarterly basis in its results of operations, as new products are introduced and new markets are opened. No assurances can be given that the Company's revenue growth rate in South Korea, which commenced operations in February 1996, or in new markets where operations have not commenced, will follow this pattern.

 LifePak, Nu Colour and HairFitness products were introduced in Japan during October of 1995.

(2) The Company commenced operations in South Korea in February of 1996.

CURRENCY FLUCTUATION AND EXCHANGE RATE INFORMATION

The Company purchases inventory from NSI in U.S. dollars and assumes currency exchange rate risk with respect to such purchases. Local currency in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and South Korea is generally used to settle noninventory transactions with NSI. It is anticipated that the Company will transact its business in new markets with NSI in a similar manner, as permitted by local regulations. Given the uncertainty of exchange rate fluctuations, the Company cannot estimate the effect of these fluctuations on its future business, product pricing, results of operations or financial condition. However, because nearly all of the Company's revenue will continue to be realized in local currencies and the majority of its cost of sales will continue to be denominated in U.S. dollars, the Company's gross profits will be positively affected by a weakening in the U.S. dollar and will be negatively affected by a strengthening in the U.S. dollar. The Company reduces its exposure to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates by creating offsetting positions through the use of foreign currency exchange contracts. The Company currently does not use such financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. The Company regularly monitors its foreign currency risks and periodically takes measures to minimize the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations on the Company's operating results.

INFLATION

In general, costs are affected by inflation and the effects of inflation may be experienced by the Company in future periods. Management believes, however, that such effects have not been material to the Company during the periods presented. Certain of the countries in which the Company operates have experienced significant inflation in the past. Although to date this inflation has not had a material effect on the Company's results of operations, there can be no assurance that inflation will not in the future so affect results of operations.

BUSINESS

GENERAL

Nu Skin Asia Pacific is a rapidly growing network marketing company involved in the distribution and sale of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products. The Company is the exclusive distribution vehicle for Nu Skin International, Inc. in the countries of Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong (including Macau) and South Korea, where the Company currently has operations, and in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Indonesia, Singapore and Vietnam, where operations have not commenced.

The Company believes it is one of the fastest growing network marketing companies in Asia. Revenue increased 95.2% to $471.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 from $241.4 million for the same period in 1995. Net income increased 117.7% to $60.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 from $27.7 million for the same period in 1995. Revenue increased 35.6% to $358.6 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 from $264.4 million in 1994. Although operating expenses have increased with the growth of the Company's revenue, such expenses have declined as a percentage of revenue due to improved operating leverage. Net income increased 86.1% to $40.2 million for the year ended December 31, 1995 from $21.6 million in 1994. The Company's network of independent distributors has grown since inception in 1991 to more than 330,000 active distributors as of September 30, 1996. See "Risk Factors--Managing Growth."

The Company's product philosophy is to combine the best of science and nature in developing premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products which are specifically designed for the network marketing distribution channel. The Company offers products in two distinct categories: personal care products, marketed under the trademark "Nu Skin," and nutritional products, marketed under the trademark "Interior Design Nutritionals" (IDN). The Nu Skin personal care product lines include facial care, body care, hair care and color cosmetics, as well as specialty products such as sun protection, oral hygiene and fragrances. The IDN product lines include nutritional supplements, weight management products and nutritious snacks, and sports nutrition products.

In Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the Company currently offers most of NSI's personal care products and approximately one-third of NSI's nutritional products. In South Korea, the Company currently offers one-third of NSI's personal care products and none of the nutritional products. The Company believes that it can significantly grow its business and attract new customers by expanding its product offerings in each of its markets to include more of NSI's existing personal care and nutritional products. In addition to expanding its product offerings with existing NSI products, the Company intends to introduce new products tailored to specific markets.

The distribution of products through the network marketing and other direct selling channels has grown significantly in recent years. The WFDSA reports that, since 1990, worldwide direct distribution of goods and services to consumers has increased 65%, resulting in the sale of over $75 billion of goods and services in 1995. According to the WFDSA, $34 billion of goods and services were sold by its members in 1995 through direct selling channels in the markets in which the Company operates, which represents 45% of the global volume of direct sales by its members.

OPERATING STRENGTHS

The Company believes that its success is due to its commitment to provide a wide range of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products and an appealing global business opportunity for persons interested in establishing a direct sales business. The Company has been able to achieve rapid, sustained and profitable growth by capitalizing on the following operating strengths:

PREMIUM PRODUCT OFFERINGS. The Company is committed to building its brand name and distributor and customer loyalty by selling premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products that appeal to broad markets. This commitment is illustrated by the Company's personal care products slogan "All of the Good and None of the Bad" and its nutritional products slogan "Adding Life to Years." The Company offers products designed for the direct selling channel by focusing on innovative consumable products which build loyalty and lead to repeat purchases. Management believes that the Company's focus on innovative products supports its distributors' demonstrative and educational sales techniques.

GLOBAL DISTRIBUTOR COMPENSATION PLAN. The Company believes that one of the strengths of the Global Compensation Plan is its seamless integration across all markets in which NSI products are sold. By entering into international sponsoring agreements with NSI, distributors are authorized to sponsor new distributors in each country where NSI or the Company has operations. This allows distributors to receive commissions for sales at the same rate for sales in foreign countries as for sales in their home country. This is a significant benefit to distributors because they are not required to establish new distributorships or requalify for higher levels of commissions within each Global Compensation Plan means that distributor knowledge and experience can be used to rapidly build distributor leadership in new markets. See "Risk Factors--Reliance Upon NSI Independent Distributors."

HIGH LEVEL OF DISTRIBUTOR INCENTIVES. The Company believes that the Global Compensation Plan is among the most financially rewarding plans offered to distributors by network marketing companies. There are two fundamental ways in which distributors can earn money: (i) through retail markups, for which the Company recommends a range from 43% to 60%; and (ii) through a series of commissions on each product sale which can result in commissions to distributors aggregating up to 58% of such product's wholesale price. On a global basis, however, commissions have averaged from 40% to 42% of revenue from commissionable sales over the last seven years. See "Risk Factors--Increase in Distributor Compensation Expense."

NEW MARKET DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM. The Company has developed a low cost, disciplined approach to opening new markets. Each market opening is preceded by a thorough analysis of economic and political conditions, regulatory standards and other business, tax and legal issues. Prior to a market opening, the Company's management team, in conjunction with NSI support personnel, local legal counsel and tax advisors, works to obtain all necessary regulatory approvals and establish facilities capable of meeting distributor needs. This market development approach, combined with the Global Compensation Plan, which motivates distributors to train and sponsor other distributors to sell products in new markets, has enabled the Company to quickly and successfully open new markets. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets."

DISTRIBUTOR SUPPORT PROGRAMS. The Company is committed to providing a high level of support services tailored to the needs of its distributors in each market. The Company meets the needs and builds the loyalty of its distributors with personalized distributor service, a support staff that assists distributors as they build networks of downline distributors, and a liberal product return policy. The Company provides walk-in, telephonic and computerized product fulfillment and tracking services that result in userfriendly, timely product distribution. Each walk-in center maintains meeting rooms which distributors may utilize in training and sponsoring activities.

RELATIONSHIP WITH NSI. NSI, founded in 1984 and based in Provo, Utah, is engaged in selling personal care and nutritional products and, together with its affiliates, comprises one of the largest network marketing organizations in the world. NSI has provided, and will continue to provide, a high level of support services to the Company, including product development, marketing and other managerial support services. Management believes that the Company's relationship with NSI has allowed the Company to increase revenue and net income at rates that otherwise may not have been possible. Since distributor agreements are entered into between NSI and distributors, all of the distributors who generate revenue for the Company are distributors of NSI. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest." Because of this fact, the Company cannot control who becomes a distributor. EXPERIENCED MANAGEMENT TEAM. The Company's senior management team, members of which founded NSI, has been instrumental in successfully managing the growth in revenue and net income experienced by the Company to date. The Company has also attracted experienced local general managers to oversee operations in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and South Korea.

Consideration of the Company's operating strengths should be made in connection with various risks including, risks associated with the Company's reliance on its independent distributors and the effect on the Company's operations of adverse publicity regarding the Company and actions of distributors, risks associated with product liability and government regulation of the Company's products, marketing plan and direct selling generally, the Company's reliance on NSI and on outside manufacturers, competition and the adverse impact on net income of an increase in distributor compensation expense. See "Risk Factors."

GROWTH STRATEGY

The Company's primary objective is to capitalize on its operating strengths to become a leading distributor of consumer products in each of its markets. Specifically, the Company's strategy to increase revenue and net income is as follows:

INTRODUCE NEW PRODUCTS. Because new products tend to increase sales by existing distributors and attract new distributors, the Company intends to continue introducing existing and new NSI products. For example, LifePak, the Company's most successful nutritional product was introduced in Japan in 1995, where it has grown to represent approximately 17% of revenue. In October 1996, the Company introduced LifePak in Taiwan and intends, subject to regulatory approval, to introduce LifePak in Hong Kong in 1997. In addition, the Company expects to launch Epoch, a new line of ethnobotanical personal care products, in all markets by mid-1997. The Company also intends to introduce products tailored to specific demographic and geographic market segments and will consider introducing entirely new product categories in the future. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

OPEN NEW MARKETS. The Company will continue to pursue attractive new market opportunities. Thailand is the next country in which the Company intends to commence operations, subject to receipt of necessary government approvals. The Company's preparatory work for Thailand is currently ongoing. In addition, the Company has conducted preliminary investigations on the feasibility of commencing operations in Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam. The Company believes that these countries may represent significant markets for the future expansion of its operations, provided that the Company can secure the required regulatory and business permits. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets," "--Potential Negative Impact of Distributor Actions," "--Government Regulation of Direct Selling Activities" and "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

ATTRACT NEW DISTRIBUTORS AND ENHANCE DISTRIBUTOR PRODUCTIVITY. To date, the Company has enjoyed significant growth in the number of its active distributors (defined as those distributors which have purchased products from the Company during the previous three months). By leveraging its operating strengths, the Company intends to continue to create and maintain a business climate to promote the growth in the number of active distributors and to increase distributor retention, motivation and productivity. In addition, the Company will pursue growth in the number of active distributors by continuing to work with NSI to enhance the Global Compensation Plan, initiating an innovative distributor equity incentive program, selectively opening new distributor walk-in centers to provide a local presence in additional key cities, enhancing distributor recognition programs, and targeting inactive distributors who may still have an interest in the Company's business opportunity or products. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

INCREASE PRODUCT CONSUMPTION. The Company intends to increase sales to new and existing consumers through (i) increasing product promotions in marketing literature, (ii) increasing the availability of sample packages, (iii) emphasizing product "systems," such as the HairFitness system of various shampoos and conditioners, which leads to the purchase of multiple products rather than a single product, and (iv) implementing an automatic reordering system which is designed to result in convenient repeat purchases.

Consideration of the Company's growth strategy should be made in connection with certain risks associated with such growth strategy including risks related to opening new markets and managing growth, conducting operations outside of the United States, managing currency risks and complying with import restrictions and government regulations regarding the Company's products, marketing plan, and direct selling generally. See "Risk Factors."

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The distribution of products through the network marketing and other direct selling channels has grown dramatically in recent years. The WFDSA reports that, since 1990, worldwide direct distribution of goods and services to consumers has increased 65%, resulting in the sale of over $75 billion of goods and services in 1995. According to the WFDSA, $34 billion of goods and services were sold by its members in 1995 through direct selling channels in the markets in which the Company currently operates, which represents 45% of the global volume of direct sales. The Company believes that extended family relationships, the family culture and the extended social networks common in Asian countries are particularly well suited to the Company's network marketing methods. The Company also believes that a variety of recent social and economic changes which have occurred throughout Asia have had a positive impact on the Company's revenues and net income. Trends that have benefited the Company include the emergence of a greater interest on the part of some Asians in pursuing more independent entrepreneurial activities outside traditional business settings, an increase in the number of Asian women joining the work force and an increase in the number of Asians seeking supplemental income from alternative sources.

The Asian retail market is generally characterized by fragmented distribution and numerous small retailers who may have only limited knowledge of the products they sell and may not be able to effectively demonstrate their products to customers. In Japan, these problems are further exacerbated by the multi-tiered, traditional Japanese distribution system which has proven difficult for many foreign manufacturers to penetrate. Outside of Japan, the general lack of a developed distribution infrastructure throughout Asia has fostered and encouraged the growth of direct selling as a significant distribution channel. Given this environment, the Company believes that the high level of personal service provided by direct selling companies, including convenient in-home demonstrations, easy-access product ordering, timely delivery and product return policies, provides additional value to consumers. In addition, rapidly growing Asian economies and a growing demand in Asia for Western brand name products has fueled the growth and demand for high quality consumer products.

COUNTRY PROFILES

The following table sets forth the Company's revenue and the total number of active distributors for each of the countries in which the Company currently operates for the years ended December 31, 1994 and 1995 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. This table should be reviewed in connection with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" which discusses the costs associated with generating the aggregate revenue presented.

(1) The Company commenced operations in South Korea in February 1996.

- (2) Operating expenses have increased with the growth of the Company's revenue. However, as a percentage of revenue such expenses have declined due to improved operating leverage. In addition, total revenue does not include sales of certain products to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand of $1.4 million, $4.6 million and $3.4 million in 1994, 1995 and the first nine months of 1996, respectively.
- (3) "Active Distributors" include only those distributors who purchased products from the Company during the three months ended as of the date indicated.
- (4) Numbers are rounded to the nearest thousand.

The following table sets forth certain estimated economic and demographic data in each of the Company's markets. Although the Company believes that the following table provides a useful basis for evaluating the relative size and growth of the economies and populations of the countries in which the Company operates, no assurance can be given that economic or population data in a particular country will indicate what the Company's results of operations will be in that country.

JAPAN. The Company, through its subsidiary Nu Skin Japan, commenced operations in Japan in April 1993. According to the WFDSA, the direct selling channel in Japan generated sales of approximately $30 billion of goods and services in 1995, making Japan the largest direct selling market in the world. Management believes that as many as six million people are involved in direct selling businesses in Japan. Network marketing activities and the sale of the Company's products are subject to significant government regulation in Japan. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Direct Selling Activities" and "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

To date, the Company has experienced significant growth in Japan, where revenue increased 34% in 1995 compared to 1994 and has continued to grow at 53% on an annualized basis for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. Significant revenue was recognized from the outset of the Company's operations in Japan due to the immediate attention given to the market by leading NSI distributors from around the world. A great deal of the Company's success to date can be directly attributed to the growth of its Japanese business in recent years. Furthermore, given the size of the Japanese market, management believes that there is significant opportunity for expansion of its market share. Nu Skin Japan currently offers 52 of the 80 NSI personal care products and 10 of the 30 IDN products, including LifePak, the core IDN product. Additionally, Nu Skin Japan offers 11 personal care products that are manufactured in Japan and are specifically targeted to the Japanese market.

In support of the Company's growth strategy, Nu Skin Japan intends to (i) focus on internal country development by opening offices in additional Japanese cities, thereby increasing consumer awareness and enhancing the Company's image; (ii) expand development capacity to develop more products that are particularly suited to the Japanese market; and (iii) enhance corporate support of distributors by upgrading information technology resources.

TAIWAN. The Company, through its subsidiary Nu Skin Taiwan, commenced operations in Taiwan in January 1992. According to the WFDSA, the direct selling channel in Taiwan generated approximately $2 billion in sales of goods and services in 1995, of which 43% were nutritional products. Currently, two million people (approximately 10% of the population) are estimated to be involved in direct selling. Since a significant percentage of its population is involved in direct selling activities, the Taiwanese government regulates direct selling activities to a significant extent. For example, the Taiwan government recently enacted tax legislation aimed at ensuring proper tax payments by distributors on their transactions with end consumers. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

Revenue growth in Taiwan has averaged 52% on an annualized basis since 1992. The Company believes that the recent increase in sales is primarily due to (i) the opening of walk-in centers in Kaohsiung and Taichung; (ii) increased distributor training and recognition; and (iii) increased product offerings. Based on information provided by the Taiwan Direct Selling Association, Nu Skin Taiwan is the third largest direct selling business in Taiwan. Management believes that Nu Skin Taiwan has captured approximately 31% and 1% of the market for personal care products and nutritional supplements, respectively, sold through the direct selling channel. Nu Skin Taiwan currently offers 60 of the 80 NSI personal care products and 7 of the 30 IDN products.

In support of the Company's growth strategy, Nu Skin Taiwan intends to (i) capitalize on the size of the nutritional supplements market by expanding the current product offerings in Taiwan to include additional NSI products, in particular LifePak, which, subject to regulatory approval, is scheduled for introduction in Taiwan by the end of 1996, (ii) focus more resources on product development specifically for the Taiwanese market, (iii) add additional walk-in distribution and distributor support centers in additional major cities, and (iv) enhance corporate support of distributors by upgrading information technology resources.

HONG KONG. The Company, through its subsidiary Nu Skin Hong Kong, commenced operations in Hong Kong in September 1991. According to the WFDSA, the direct selling channel in Hong Kong generated approximately $78 million in sales of goods and services in 1995. Hong Kong represents an important market in the structure of the Asian region because it serves as the location of the Company's regional office and is an important base of operations for many of the Company's most successful distributors, whose downline distributor networks extend into other Asian markets. Nu Skin Hong Kong currently offers 74 of the 80 NSI personal care products and 13 of the 30 IDN products.

Hong Kong is currently a British Crown Colony and is scheduled to become a Special Administrative Region (SAR) of the PRC effective July 1, 1997. The further integration of the Hong Kong economy and political system with the economy and political system of the PRC could have an impact on the Company's business in Hong Kong. See "Risk Factors--Possible Adverse Effect on the Company of a Change in the Status of Hong Kong."

In February 1995, Macau, a Portuguese colony scheduled to become an SAR of the PRC in 1999, was opened as a new market. Revenue figures for Macau are combined with those of Hong Kong. Macau represents the smallest of the Company's markets in population, with just under 500,000 residents. The Company's Macau office works under the direction of Nu Skin Hong Kong.

In support of the Company's growth strategy, Nu Skin Hong Kong intends to (i) promote distributor growth, retention and leadership development through local initiatives such as a recently opened "distributor business center," which provides offices for distributors to rent, at cost, from which they can conduct business; (ii) seek regulatory approvals for the introduction of LifePak; which is not yet available in Hong Kong, and (iii) stimulate purchases from inactive distributors through direct mail campaigns.

SOUTH KOREA. The Company, through its subsidiary Nu Skin Korea, commenced operations in South Korea in February 1996. According to the WFDSA, the direct selling channel in South Korea generated approximately $1.7 billion in sales of goods and services in 1995. South Korea's new direct sales legislation, which went into effect in July 1995, requires companies to comply with numerous provisions, such as local registration, reporting of certain operating results and dissemination of certain information regarding the laws to distributors. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulations of Direct Selling Activities" and "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

The Company's sales in South Korea exceeded $83 million through September 30, 1996, making the Company the second largest direct seller in the country. Nu Skin Korea currently offers 27 of the 80 NSI personal care products and none of the IDN products. Nu Skin Korea was among the first foreign-owned firms to register and begin operations under the new direct selling legislation. Management believes that significant competition will soon enter the South Korean market. See "Risk Factors--Competition" and "--Competition."

In support of the Company's growth strategy, Nu Skin Korea intends to (i) continue to add products from NSI's personal care product line to stimulate new sales; (ii) seek regulatory approvals for the introduction of IDN products; (iii) continue to develop an infrastructure to support a rapidly growing distributor base, including, but not limited to, adding additional walk-in centers in major South Korean cities; and (iv) promote the development of local distributor leadership.

NEW MARKET OPPORTUNITIES

The Company has developed a low cost, disciplined approach to opening new markets. Each market opening is preceded by a thorough analysis of economic and political conditions, regulatory standards and other business, tax and legal issues. Prior to a market opening, the Company's management team, in conjunction with NSI support personnel, local legal counsel and tax advisors, works to obtain all necessary regulatory approvals and establish facilities capable of meeting distributor needs. This approach, combined with the Global Compensation Plan, which motivates distributors to sponsor and train other distributors to sell products in new markets, has enabled the Company to quickly and successfully open new markets.

The Company, as a matter of policy, does not announce the timing of its opening of new markets. However, the Company has announced that its next new market expansion efforts will be in Thailand and anticipates opening this market upon receipt of all final government approvals. In addition to Thailand, the Company is the exclusive distributor of NSI products in Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam. The Company believes that these countries collectively represent significant markets for future expansion. There are, however, significant risks and uncertainties associated with this expansion. The regulatory and political climate in these potential markets is such that a replication of the Company's current operating structure cannot be guaranteed. In addition, because the Company's personal care and nutritional product lines are positioned as premium product lines, the market potential for the Company's product lines in relatively less developed countries, such as the PRC and Vietnam, remains to be determined. Modifications to each product line may be needed to accommodate the market conditions in each country, while maintaining the integrity of the Company's products. No assurances can be given that the Company will be able to make such modifications. Given existing regulatory environments and economic conditions, the Company's entrance into Singapore and Vietnam is not anticipated in the short to mid-term. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets" and "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

The following table sets forth certain estimated economic and demographic data in each of the countries for which the Company has an exclusive license but in which the Company has not commenced operations. Although the Company believes that the following table provides a useful basis for evaluating the relative size and growth of the economies and populations of the countries in which the Company intends to operate, no assurance can be given that economic or population data in a particular country will indicate what the Company's results of operations will be in that country.

THAILAND. According to the WFDSA, direct sales in 1995 totaled $562 million in Thailand. This makes Thailand the sixteenth largest direct selling market worldwide. In opening the Thailand market, the Company does not anticipate a material departure from its traditional business model. See "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

INDONESIA. Although historically not open to foreign investment opportunities, Indonesia has experienced a recent emphasis on deregulation and private enterprise and an average annual growth in GDP of 6% from 1985 to 1994. The Indonesian Direct Selling Association reports that there are 600,000 participants in direct selling in the country. Management believes that the combination of the above factors creates an attractive opportunity for expansion.

MALAYSIA. According to the WFDSA, more than $640 million in goods and services were sold through the direct selling channel in Malaysia in 1995. There are currently several direct selling companies operating in Malaysia. In October 1995, the Company's business permit applications were denied by the Malaysian government as the result of activities by certain NSI distributors before required government approvals could be secured. See "Risk Factors--Potential Negative Impact of Distributor Actions" and "--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity." Management is reevaluating the time frame in which it will reapproach the Malaysian market.

PHILIPPINES. Even though the per capita GDP in the Philippines is low, the Company believes that there is demand for premium personal care and nutrition products, especially near Manila, the capital city, which, in 1995, had a population of 11 million. Management believes that nearly $500 million of goods and services are sold annually through the direct selling channel and that more than 20 international direct selling companies currently operating in the Philippines.

PRC. With the PRC's large population and the Company's success in the neighboring and Chinese-speaking countries of Hong Kong and Taiwan, management believes that the PRC will be an attractive market for the Company. The PRC government and local jurisdictions have recently initiated rules and regulations for network marketing companies. The Company believes that it will be able to comply with these regulations in operating a network marketing business in the PRC. See "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

SINGAPORE. In Singapore, relatively high levels of GDP per capita indicate that the country enjoys strong consumer buying power and a dynamic market structure similar to Hong Kong. Although direct selling activities are permitted, currently network marketing is not allowed in Singapore. Accordingly, the Company's entrance into Singapore is not anticipated in the short to mid-term. See "--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

VIETNAM. The Company believes that there is little or no direct selling activity in Vietnam. However, the country is moving towards a market-based economy and has recently adopted a freely convertible currency. The Company anticipates that the increase in free enterprise will help to develop the direct selling channel. However, given existing regulatory environmental and economic conditions, the Company's entrance into Vietnam is not anticipated in the short to mid-term.

DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM

OVERVIEW OF DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM. The foundation of the Company's sales philosophy and distribution system is network marketing. Under most network marketing systems, distributors purchase products for retail sale or personal consumption. Pursuant to the Global Compensation Plan, products are sold exclusively to or through independent distributors who are not employees of the Company or NSI. Distributors contract directly with NSI, and NSI makes such distributors available to the Company through Licensing and Sales Agreements. See "--Relationship with NSI" and "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

Network marketing is an effective vehicle to distribute the Company's products because (i) a consumer can be educated about a product in person by a distributor, which is more direct than the use of television and print advertisements; (ii) direct sales allow for actual product testing by a potential consumer; (iii) the impact of distributor and consumer testimonials is enhanced; and (iv) as compared to other distribution methods, distributors can give customers higher levels of service and attention, by, among other things, delivering products to a consumer's home and following up on sales to ensure proper product usage, customer satisfaction, and to encourage repeat purchases. Under most network marketing systems, independent distributors purchase products either for resale or for personal consumption.

Direct selling as a distribution channel has been enhanced in the past decade due to advancements in communications, including telecommunications, and the proliferation of the use of videos and fax machines. Direct selling companies can now produce high quality videos for use in product education, demonstrations and sponsoring sessions that project a desired image for the Company and the product line. Management believes that high quality sales aids play an important role in the success of distributor efforts. For this reason, NSI maintains an in-house staff of video production personnel and video and audio cassette duplication equipment for timely and cost-effective production of sales materials. These facilities and expertise are available for the Company's use. Management is committed to fully utilizing current and future technological advances to continue enhancing the effectiveness of direct selling.

NSI's network marketing program differs from many other network marketing programs in several respects. First, the Global Compensation Plan allows NSI distributors to develop a seamless global network of downline distributors. Second, NSI's order and fulfillment systems eliminate the need for distributors to carry significant levels of inventory. Third, the Global Compensation Plan is among the most financially rewarding plans offered to distributors by network marketing companies, and can result in commissions to distributors aggregating up to 58% of a product's wholesale price. On a global basis, commissions have averaged 40% to 42% of revenue from commissionable sales over the last seven years. Because the Company licenses the right to use the Global Compensation Plan from NSI, the structure of the plan, including commission rates, is under the control of NSI. See "Risk Factors--Increase in Distributor Compensation Expense."

The Company's revenue is directly dependent upon the efforts of distributors. Growth in sales volume requires an increase in the productivity of distributors and/or growth in the total number of distributors. Because the distributors have contracted directly with NSI, the Company has no control over who becomes a distributor and little or no control over the level of sponsorship of new distributors. There can be no assurance that the productivity or number of distributors will be sustained at current levels or increased in the future. See "Risk Factors--Reliance Upon Independent Distributors of NSI." Furthermore, the Company estimates that approximately 520 distributors have comprise NSI's two highest executive distributor levels and, together with their extensive downline networks, account for substantially all of the Company's revenue.

Consequently, the loss of such a high-level distributor or another key distributor, together with a group of leading distributors in such distributor's downline network, or the loss of a significant number of distributors for any reason, could adversely affect the Company's results of operations. See "Risk Factors--Reliance on Certain Distributors; Potential Divergence of Interests between Distributors and the Company."

SPONSORING. The Company relies solely on its distributor force to sponsor new distributors. While the Company provides, at cost, product samples, brochures, magazines and other sales materials, distributors are primarily responsible for educating new distributors with respect to products, the Global Compensation Plan, and how to build a successful distributorship.

The sponsoring of new distributors creates multiple levels in the network marketing structure. Persons whom a distributor sponsors are referred to as "downline" or "sponsored" distributors. If downline distributors also sponsor, they create additional levels in the structure, but their downline distributors remain part of the same downline network as their original sponsoring distributor. See "Risk Factors--Reliance on Certain Distributors; Potential Divergence of Interests between Distributors and the Company."

Sponsoring activities are not required of distributors. However, because of the financial incentives provided to those who succeed in building a distributor network, the Company believes that most of its distributors attempt, with varying degrees of effort and success, to sponsor additional distributors. Generally, distributors invite friends, family members and acquaintances to sales meetings where Company products are presented and where the Global Compensation Plan is explained. People are often attracted to become distributors after using Company products and becoming regular retail customers. Once a person becomes a distributor, he or she is able to purchase products directly from the Company at wholesale prices for resale to consumers or for personal consumption. The distributor is also entitled to sponsor other distributors in order to build a network of distributors and product users.

A potential distributor must enter into a standard distributor agreement with NSI which obligates the distributor to abide by NSI's policies and procedures. Additionally, in all countries except Japan, a new distributor is required to enter into a product purchase agreement with the Company's local Subsidiary, which governs product purchases. In Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong, distributors are also required to purchase a starter kit, which includes NSI's policies and procedures, for between $55 and $85, which essentially represents the cost of producing the starter kit, and active distributors are required to pay the Company an Annual Materials Fee ("AMF") of up to $35 to cover the cost of newsletters, magazines and updates that are mailed regularly to them. In South Korea, due to local regulations, distributors are not required to purchase a starter kit, and active distributors are not required to AMF.

GLOBAL COMPENSATION PLAN. Management believes that one of the Company's key competitive advantages is the Global Compensation Plan, which it licenses from NSI. The Global Compensation Plan is seamlessly integrated across all markets in which NSI products are sold. This seamless integration means that the Company's distributor base has global reach and that the knowledge and experience resident in current distributors can be used to build distributor leadership in new markets. By entering into international sponsoring agreements with NSI, distributors are authorized to sponsor new distributors in each country where NSI or the Company has operations. These countries currently include the U.S., the United Kingdom, Puerto Rico, Canada, Taiwan, Hong Kong (including Macau), Japan, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Germany, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Mexico and Guatemala. This allows distributors to receive commissions at the same rate for sales in foreign countries as for sales in their home country. This is a significant benefit to distributors because they are not required to establish new distributorships or requalify for higher levels of commissions within each new country in which they begin to operate. Under the Global Compensation Plan, a distributor is paid consolidated monthly commissions in the distributor's home country, in local currency, for product sales in that distributor's global downline distributor network. Current and future distributor lists have been licensed by NSI to the Company, pursuant to Licensing and Sales Agreements. See "--Relationship with NSI" and "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

The Global Compensation Plan allows an individual the opportunity to develop a business, the success of which is based upon that individual's level of commitment, time, enthusiasm, personal skills, contacts, and motivation. For many, a distributorship is a very small business, in which products may be purchased primarily for personal consumption and for resale to relatively few customers. For others, a distributorship becomes a full-time occupation.

HIGH LEVEL OF DISTRIBUTOR INCENTIVES. Based upon its knowledge of network marketing distributor compensation plans, the Company believes that the Global Compensation Plan is among the most financially rewarding plans offered to distributors by network marketing companies. There are two fundamental ways in which distributors can earn money: (i) through retail markups, for which the Company recommends a range from 43% to 60%; and (ii) through a series of commissions on product sales, which can result in commissions to distributors aggregating up to 58% of such product's wholesale price. On a global basis, however, commissions have averaged from 40% to 42% of revenue from commissionable sales for each of the last seven years. See "Risk Factors--Increase in Distributor Compensation Expense."

Each product carries a specified number of sales volume points. Commissions are based on total personal and group sales volume points per month. Sales volume points are essentially based upon a product's wholesale cost, net of any point of sale taxes. As a distributor's retail business expands and as he or she successfully sponsors other distributors into the business who in turn expand their own businesses, he or she receives a higher percentage of commissions.

Once a distributor becomes an executive, the distributor can begin to take full advantage of the benefits of commission payments on personal and group sales volume. To achieve executive status, a distributor must submit a qualifying letter of intent and achieve specified personal and group sales volumes for a four-month period of time. To maintain executive status, a distributor must generally also maintain specified personal and group sales volumes each month. An executive's commissions increase substantially as multiple downline distributors achieve executive status. In determining commissions, the number of levels of downline distributors that can be included in an executive's group increases as the number of executive distributorships directly below the executive increases.

As of the dates indicated below, the Company had the following number of executive distributors.

TOTAL NUMBER OF EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTORS

		OF DEC	AS OF SEPTEMBER 30,
EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTORS	1992		1994		1996

On a monthly basis, the Company and NSI evaluate requests for exemptions to the Global Compensation Plan to determine whether technical exemptions should be granted. While the general policy is to discourage exceptions, management believes that the flexibility to grant such exceptions is critical in retaining distributor loyalty and dedication. In each market, distributor services personnel evaluate each such instance and appropriate recommendations are made to NSI.

DISTRIBUTOR SUPPORT. The Company is committed to providing a high level of support services tailored to the needs of its distributors in each market. The Company meets the needs and builds the loyalty of its distributors with personalized distributor service, a support staff that assists distributors as they build networks of downline distributors, and a liberal product return policy. Because many distributors have only a limited number of hours each week to concentrate on their Nu Skin business, management believes that maximizing a distributor's efforts through effective support of each distributor has been and will continue to be important to the success of the Company.

Through training meetings, annual conventions, distributor focus groups, regular telephone conference calls and personal contacts with distributors, the Company seeks to understand and satisfy the needs of each distributor. The Company provides walk-in, telephonic and computerized product fulfillment and tracking services that result in user-friendly, timely product distribution. In addition, the Company is committed to evaluating new ideas in technology and services, such as automatic product reordering, that the Company can provide to distributors. The Company currently utilizes voicemail, teleconferencing and fax services. Global Internet access (including Company and product information, ordering abilities and group and personal sales volume inquiries) is anticipated to be provided to distributors in the future. Each walk-in center maintains meeting rooms which distributors may utilize in training and sponsoring activities.

RULES AFFECTING DISTRIBUTORS. NSI's standard distributor agreement, policies and procedures, and compensation plan contained in every starter and/or introductory kit outline the scope of permissible distributor marketing activities. The Company's distributor rules and guidelines are designed to provide distributors with maximum flexibility and opportunity within the bounds of governmental regulations regarding network marketing. Distributors are independent contractors and are thus prohibited from representing themselves as agents or employees of NSI or the Company. Distributors are obligated to present the Company's products and business opportunity ethically and professionally. Distributors agree that the presentation of the Company's business opportunity must be consistent with, and limited to, the product claims and representations made in literature distributed by the Company. No medical claims may be made regarding the products, nor may distributors prescribe any particular product as suitable for any specific ailment. Even though sponsoring activities can be conducted in many countries, distributors are prohibited from conducting marketing activities outside of countries in which NSI and the Company conduct business and are not allowed to export products from one country to another. Prior to the commencement of Company operations in a new country, distributor activity is restricted to discussions of the product line and business opportunity with personal acquaintances. See "Risk Factors--Potential Negative Impact of Distributor Actions."

Distributors must represent that the receipt of commissions is based on substantial efforts. Exhibiting commission statements or checks is prohibited. Sales aids such as videotapes, promotional clothing, pens, stationary and other miscellaneous items must be produced or pre-approved by the Company or NSI.

Distributors may not use any form of media advertising to promote products. Products may be promoted only by personal contact or by literature produced or approved by the Company. Generic business opportunity advertisements (without using either the Company or the NSI names) may be placed in accordance with certain guidelines in some countries. NSI logos and names may not be permanently displayed on physical premises. Distributors may not use NSI trademarks or other intellectual property of NSI without NSI's consent.

Products may not be sold, and the business opportunity may not be promoted, in traditional retail environments such as food markets, pharmacies and drugstores. Nor may business be conducted at conventions, trade shows, flea markets, swap meets, and similar events. Distributors who own or are employed by a service-related business such as a doctor's office, hair salon, or health club, may make products available to regular customers as long as products are not displayed visibly to the general public in such a way as to attract the general public into the establishment to purchase products.

Generally, distributors can receive commission bonuses only if, on a monthly basis (i) the distributor achieves at least 100 points (approximately U.S. $100) in personal sales volume, (ii) the distributor documents retail sales to at least five retail customers, (iii) the distributor sells and/or consumes at least 80% of personal sales volume, and (iv) the distributor is not in default of any material policies or procedures.

NSI systematically reviews alleged reports of distributor misbehavior. If NSI determines that a distributor has violated any of the distributor policies or procedures, it may either terminate the distributor's rights completely or impose sanctions such as warnings, probation, withdrawal or denial of an award, suspension of privileges of a distributorship, fines or penalties, withholding commissions until specified conditions are satisfied, or other appropriate injunctive relief. Distributor terminations based on violations of NSI's policies and procedures have aggregated less than 1% of the Company's distributor force since inception. Distributors may voluntarily terminate their distributorship at any time.

PAYMENT. Distributors pay for products prior to or shortly after shipment. Accordingly, the Company carries minimal accounts receivable. Distributors pay for products in one of several ways. Cash, which represents a large portion of all payments, is received by order takers in the distribution center when orders are personally picked up by a distributor. In addition, in Japan cash is sent through the mail using a postal cash envelope. The Company also accepts payment through the use of credit cards. This method of payment is very popular in Hong Kong and Taiwan and is expected to increase in popularity in South Korea. Another form of payment utilized in Japan is a Tososhin card, which is essentially a distributor credit card utilized to place orders. Bank wire transfers are also popular throughout Asia, particularly in Japan.

PRODUCT SUMMARY

The Company offers products in two distinct categories: personal care products, marketed under the trademark "Nu Skin," and nutritional products, marketed under the trademark "Interior Design Nutritionals" (IDN). The Company is entitled to distribute NSI products in specified Asian countries pursuant to a Regional Distribution Agreement. See "--Relationship with NSI" and "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest." NSI markets 80 different personal care and 30 different nutritional products, of which 69 and 13, respectively, are available in the Company's current markets. Nearly all products sold by the Company are purchased from NSI, with the exception of a line of 11 personal care products which are produced locally in Japan. In addition to products, the Company offers a variety of sales aids, including items such as starter kits, introductory kits, brochures, product catalogs, videotape and personal care accessories. See "Risk Factors--Product Liability."

The following chart indicates how many of the NSI personal care and IDN products available as of September 30, 1996, in each of the Company's current markets.

PERSONAL CARE PRODUCTS

The Company's current personal care products category is divided into the following lines: facial care, body care, hair care and color cosmetics, as well as specialty products, such as sun protection, oral hygiene and fragrances. Each of the Subsidiaries markets a variety of the 80 personal care products currently offered by NSI. The Company also offers product sets that include a variety of products in each product line as well as small, sample-size packages to facilitate product sampling by potential consumers. The product sets are especially popular during the opening phase of a new country, where distributors and consumers are anxious to purchase a variety of products into each market. The Company anticipates the introduction of additional personal care products into each market, based on the likelihood of the particular product's success in the market as well as applicable regulatory approvals. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

The personal care products offered in Taiwan and Hong Kong are substantially the same formulations of the products offered by NSI in the U.S. In Japan and South Korea, however, most of the products have been reformulated to satisfy certain regulatory requirements with respect to product ingredients and preservatives and to meet the preferences of Japanese and South Korean consumers.

The following is a brief description of each line within the personal care product category offered by the Company as of September 30, 1996:

FACIAL CARE. The goal of the facial care line is to allow users to cleanse thoroughly without causing dryness and to moisturize with effective humectants that allow the skin to attract and retain vital water. The Company's facial care line currently consists of 17 different products: Cleansing Lotion, Facial Scrub, Exfoliant Scrub, Facial Cleansing Bar, Clay Pack, pH Balance Facial Toner, NaPCA Moisturizer, Rejuvenating Cream, Celltrex (called Hylatrex in Japan and South Korea), Intensive Eye Complex, HPX Hydrating Gel, Face Lift and Activator (two formulas for sensitive and normal skin), Jungamals Lip Balm, Clarifex Cleansing Scrub, Clarifex Mud, Alpha Extra Face and Nu Colour Eye Makeup Remover.

BODY CARE. The Company's line of body care products relies on premium quality ingredients to cleanse and condition skin. The cleansers are uniquely formulated without soap, and the moisturizers contain light but effective humectants and emollients. The Company's body care line currently consists of 12 products: Antibacterial Body Cleansing Gel, Liquid Body Lufra, Body Smoother, Hand Lotion, NaPCA Moisture Mist, Body Bar, Body Cleansing Gel, Enhancer, Glacial Marine Mud (Original), Jungamals Crazy Crocodile Cleaner, Jungamals Rhino Ray Resister and Alpha Extra Body. Glacial Marine Mud (Original) is exclusively licensed to NSI for sale in the direct selling channel. HAIR CARE. The Company's hair care line, HairFitness, is designed to meet the needs of people with all types of hair and hair problems. Focusing on the condition of the scalp and its impact on hair quality, the Company's hair care products use water-soluble conditioners like panthenol to reduce build-up on the scalp and to promote healthy hair. HairFitness includes 12 products featuring ceregen, a revolutionary wheat hydrocolloid complex of conditioning molecules that have been shown to have dramatic hair repair and moisture control aspects: 3 in 1 Shampoo, Moisturizing Shampoo, Balancing Shampoo, Vital Shampoo, Deep Clarifying Shampoo, Glacial Therapy, Weightless Conditioner, Luxurious Conditioner, Conditioning Detangler Spray, Styling Gel, Holding Spray and Mousse (Styling Foam). The Company also carries Dermanator Shampoo and Jungamals Tiger Tangle Tamer Shampoo.

COLOR COSMETICS. In the latter part of 1995, the Company introduced Nu Colour, a new line of color cosmetics, in Hong Kong, Taiwan and Japan. The Nu Colour line consists of 11 products with 72 sku's including MoistureShade Liquid Finish (10), MoistureShade Pressed Powder (4), Blush Duo (5), Eye Shadow Trio (6), Mascara (2), Eyeliner (3), Lip Liner (5), Lipstick (20), DraMATTEics Lip Pencils (6), Nu Colour Moisture Finish (10), and Lip Gloss.

SPECIALTY PRODUCTS. The Company recently introduced a product line labeled Epoch, a unique line of ethnobotanical personal care products created in cooperation with well known ethnobotanists. These products, which unite natural compounds used by indigenous cultures with advanced scientific ingredients, include Glacial Marine Mud, Deodorant with Citrisomes, Polishing Bar, LeafClean Hand Wash, Everglide Foaming Shave Gel, Desert Breeze Aftershave and Post Shave Lotion for Women. Epoch was launched in October of 1996 in Hong Kong and Taiwan and is currently expected to be launched, subject to regulatory approval, in the spring of 1997 in Japan and South Korea. Glacial Marine Mud is exclusively licensed to NSI for sale in the direct selling channel.

Nutriol, a line of products exclusively licensed to NSI for sale in the direct selling channel and manufactured in Europe, consists of five products: Nutriol Hair Fitness Preparation, Nutriol Shampoo, Nutriol Mascara, Nutriol Nail and Nutriol Eyelash. Nutriol represents a product designed to replenish the hair's vital minerals and elements. Each Nutriol product uses mucopolysaccharide, a patented ingredient.

The Company's line of Sunright products is designed to provide a variety of sun screen protection with non-irritating and non-greasy products. The sun protection line includes a sun preparation product that prepares the skin for the drying impact of the sun, five sun screen alternatives with various levels of SPF, and a sun screen lip balm. In the Asian market, the Company's sun care line is currently available in Hong Kong and Japan. At present, Sunright Prime Pre & Post Sun Moisturizer and Sunright Lip Balm are not available in Japan.

AP-24, a line of oral health care products which incorporates anti-plaque technology designed to help prevent plaque build-up 24 hours a day, is exclusively licensed to the Company, together with the associated trademark, for sale in the direct selling channel under the trademark AP-24. This product line includes AP-24 Anti-Plaque Toothpaste, AP-24 Anti-Plaque Mouthwash, AP-24 Triple Action Dental Floss and AP-24 Anti-Plaque Breath Spray. These products are currently available in Hong Kong and Taiwan. The Company currently intends to launch this product line, subject to regulatory approval, in South Korea and Japan in 1997. The AP-24 oral health care products for kids offers products designed to make oral care fun for children, including Jungamal's Tough Tusk Toothpaste and Jungamal's Fluffy Flamingo Floss.

The Company offers a men's and a women's fragrance under the Nu Skin trademark Safiro. The Company also offers a Nail Care Kit.

PRODUCT SETS. The Company currently offers product sets that include a sampling of products from a given product line. These package configurations are intended to encourage increased product trials.

INTERIOR DESIGN NUTRITIONALS

The IDN product category is comprised of 30 products in the following lines: nutritional supplements, weight management products and nutritious snacks, and sports nutrition. IDN is designed to promote healthy, active lifestyles and general well-being through proper diet, exercise and nutrition. Although less developed in the Asian market than the personal care category, each of the Subsidiaries, except Nu Skin Korea, markets a variety of the IDN products offered by NSI. In the United States, the IDN division is an official licensee of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The Company believes that the nutritional supplement market is expanding in Asia because of changing dietary patterns, a health-conscious population and recent reports supporting the benefits of using vitamin and mineral nutritional supplements. This product line is particularly well suited to network marketing because the average consumer is often uneducated regarding nutritional products. The Company believes that network marketing is a more efficient method than traditional retailing channels in educating consumers regarding the benefits of nutritional products. Because of the numerous overthe-counter vitamin and mineral supplements in Asia, the Company is confident that individual attention and testimonials by distributors will provide information and comfort to a potential consumer.

IDN products generally require reformulation to satisfy the strict regulatory requirements of each Asian market. While each product's concept and positioning are generally the same, regulatory differences between U.S. and Asian markets result in some product ingredient differences. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing." In addition, Asian preferences and regulations favor tablets instead of gel caps, which are typically used in the U.S.

The following is a brief description of each of the IDN product lines:

NUTRITIONAL SUPPLEMENTS. LifePak, the core IDN nutritional supplement, is designed to provide an optimum mix of nutrients including vitamins, minerals, antioxidants and phytonutrients (natural chemical extracts from plants). The introduction of LifePak in Japan in October 1995 resulted in a significant increase in revenue and currently represents approximately 17% of the Company's revenue in Japan. LifePak was launched in Taiwan in October of 1996.

Additional nutritional supplements include: Vitox, which incorporates beta carotene and other important vitamins for overall health; Metabotrim, which provides B vitamins necessary to convert food to energy and chromium chelate which has been shown to help in the body's normal metabolic process; Optimum Omega, a pure source of omega 3 fatty acids aimed to assist cardiovascular health; Image HNS, an all-around vitamin and antioxidant supplement; and Optigar Q, a blend of co-enzyme Q10 and deodorized garlic. The IDN Masters Wellness Supplement provides nutrition specifically for an aging generation. Jungamals Children's Chewables combine natural flavors and colors and contain a unique blend of antioxidants, chelated minerals, and vitamins specifically tailored for children. NutriFi contains four grams of soluble and insoluble fibers per serving in a powder that can be added to liquids and foods to supplement the recommended daily amounts of fiber.

The Company also offers a number of nutritional drinks. Hot & Healthy, unlike traditional hot drinks, is 100% caffeine-free and contains beneficial ingredients such as Korean Panax Ginseng and grape seed extract. Splash C with juice crystals is a healthy beverage providing significant doses of vitamins C and E as well as calcium in each serving. Real fruit juice crystals are added to create orange or lemon flavor.

IDN's botanical line contains phytonutrients for those who seek natural ingredients in dietary supplements and is designed to address specific areas of need. The botanicals, offered in eight different dietary supplements, provide natural ingredients without sugar, salt, wheat, dairy products, artificial colors, chemicals or preservatives.

WEIGHT MANAGEMENT PRODUCTS AND NUTRITIOUS SNACKS. As part of the Company's mission to promote a healthy lifestyle and long-term wellness, IDN includes a HealthTrim Lifestyle System (which includes LifePak Trim, Fiberry Fat-Free Snack Bars and Appeal Lite, a nutritional drink containing chelated minerals and vitamins), and instructional assessment materials with a counseling program. The Company also offers Breakbars, a nutritious snack which provides carbohydrates, protein and fiber.

SPORTS NUTRITION. To cater to health conscious individuals with active lifestyles, the IDN Sports Nutrition System offers a comprehensive, flexible program for individuals who desire to optimize performance on an individual basis. The system includes LifePak, OverDrive, a sports supplement licensed by the U.S. Olympic Committee that features antioxidants, B vitamins and chromium chelate, GlycoBar energy bars, and SportaLyte performance drink to help supply the necessary carbohydrates, electrolytes and chelated minerals to optimize performance. AminoBuild is a low fat high protein drink mix that is designed to replace nutrients before and after workouts.

SALES AIDS

The Company provides an assortment of sales aids to facilitate the sales of its products. Sales aids include videotapes, promotional clothing, pens, stationary, business cards, brushes, combs, cotton pads, tissues, and other miscellaneous items to help create consumer awareness of the Company and its products. Sales aids are priced at the Company's approximate cost and are not commissionable items (i.e., distributors do not receive commissions on purchases of sales aids).

PRODUCT GUARANTEES

The Company believes that it is among the most consumer protective companies in the direct selling industry. For 30 days from the date of purchase, the Company's product return policy allows a retail purchaser to return any product to the distributor through whom the product was purchased for a full refund. After 30 days from the date of purchase, the return privilege is in the discretion of the distributor. Because distributors may return unused and resalable products to the Company for a refund of 90% of the purchase price for one year, they are encouraged to provide consumer refunds beyond 30 days. In addition, the product return policy is a material aspect of the success of distributors in developing a retail customer base. The Company's experience with actual product returns to date has averaged approximately 1.5% of annual revenue through 1995.

PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT AND PRODUCTION

PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT PHILOSOPHY. The Company is committed to building its brand name and distributor and customer loyalty by selling premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products that appeal to broad markets. This commitment is illustrated by the Company's personal care products slogan "All of the Good and None of the Bad" and its nutritional products slogan "Adding Life to Years." The Company's product philosophy is to combine the best of science and nature and to include in each of its products the highest quality ingredients. For example, NSI avoids soaps and other harsh cleansers that can dry and irritate skin, undesirable oils such as lanolin, elements known to be irritating and pore clogging, volatile alcohols such as ethyl alcohol, and conditioning agents that leave heavy residues. This philosophy has led to the Company being one of the only personal care companies in Japan to disclose every ingredient to consumers. This philosophy has also led to the Company's commitment to avoid any ingredients in nutritional supplements that are reported to have any long-term addictive or harmful effects, even if short-term effects may be desirable. Independent distributors need to have confidence that they are distributing the best products available in order to have a sense of pride in their association with the Company and to have products that are distinguishable from "off the shelf" products. NSI and the Company are committed to developing and providing quality products that can be sold at an attractive retail price and allow the Company to maintain reasonable profit margins.

NSI is also committed to constantly improving its evolving product formulations to incorporate innovative and proven ingredients into its product line. Whereas many consumer product companies develop a formula and stay with that formula for years, and sometimes decades, NSI believes that it must stay current with product and ingredient evolution to maintain its reputation for innovation to retain distributor and consumer attention and enthusiasm. For this reason, NSI continuously evaluates its entire line of products for possible enhancements and improvements.

In addition, the Company believes that timely and strategic product introductions are critical to maintaining the growth of independent distribution channels. Distributors become enthusiastic about new products and are generally excited to share new products with their customer base. An expanding product line helps to attract new distributors and generate additional revenues.

NSI maintains a laboratory and a staff of approximately 90 individuals involved in product development. NSI also relies on an advisory board comprised of recognized authorities in various disciplines. In addition, NSI and the Company evaluate a significant number of product ideas that are presented by distributors and other outside sources. NSI believes that strategic relationships with certain vendors also provide important access to innovative product concepts. The Company will continue to develop products tailored to appeal to the particular needs of the Company's markets.

Historically, one of the reasons for the success of the Company's personal care product line has been its gender neutral positioning. This product positioning substantially expands the size of the traditional skin and hair care market. NSI's IDN line of products has historically been positioned to be age neutral. However, with a substantial distributor and user base established, the Company believes that it can further increase its market share in both the personal care and the nutritional products categories by introducing age and gender specific products, including LifePak for Women, additional vitamin products targeted to seniors, and personal care products targeted to either men or women.

PRODUCTION. Virtually all the Company's products are sourced through NSI and are produced by manufacturers unaffiliated with NSI. The Company currently has little or no direct contact with these manufacturers. The Company's profit margins and its ability to deliver its existing products on a timely basis are dependent upon the ability of NSI's outside manufacturers to continue to supply products in a timely and cost-efficient manner. Furthermore, the Company's ability to enter new markets and sustain satisfactory levels of sales in each market is dependent in part upon the ability of suitable outside manufacturers to reformulate existing products, if necessary to comply with local regulations or market environments, for introduction into such markets. Finally, the development of additional new products in the future will likewise be dependent in part on the services of suitable outside manufacturers.

The Company currently acquires products or ingredients from sole suppliers or suppliers that are considered by the Company to be the superior suppliers of such ingredients. The Company believes that, in the event it is unable to source any products or ingredients from its current suppliers, the Company could produce such products or replace such products or substitute ingredients without great difficulty or prohibitive increases in the cost of goods sold. However, there can be no assurance that the loss of such a supplier would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations.

With respect to sales to the Company, NSI currently relies on two unaffiliated manufacturers to produce approximately 70% and 80% of its personal care and nutritional products, respectively. NSI has a written contract with the primary supplier of the Company's personal care products that expires at the end of 1997. An extension to such contract is currently being negotiated. NSI does not currently have a written contract with the primary supplier of the Company's nutritional products. The Company believes that in the event that NSI's relationship with any of its key manufacturers is terminated, NSI will be able to find suitable replacement manufacturers. However, there can be no assurance that the loss of either manufacturer would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. See "Risk Factors--Reliance on and Concentration of Outside Manufacturers."

RELATIONSHIP WITH NSI

Upon the consummation of the Offerings, approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full) will be held by the shareholders of NSI. As a result, when acting as stockholders of the Company, these shareholders of NSI will consider the short-term and long-term impact of all stockholder decisions on the consolidated financial results of NSI and the Company. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest." In addition, the Company has entered into, or, upon consummation of the Offerings will enter into, the Operating Agreements with NSI and with NSIMG, a Delaware corporation also controlled by the shareholders of NSI, summary descriptions of which are set forth below. Such summaries are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Operating Agreements, which are filed as exhibits to the Registration Statement of which this Prospectus forms a part. In the future the Company may enter into amendments to the Operating Agreements or additional agreements with NSI or NSIMG. The Company intends to seek the approval of a majority of its independent directors for any amendment to the Operating Agreements and any new agreement which the Company believes to be of material importance to the Company and as to which the Company and NSI or NSIMG have conflicting interests. The Company will be almost completely dependent on the Operating Agreements to conduct its business, and in the event NSI is unable or unwilling to perform its obligations under the Operating Agreements, or terminates the Operating Agreements as provided therein, the Company's business and results of operations will be adversely affected. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest.'

DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENTS. The Company has entered into a regional distribution agreement (the "Regional Distribution Agreement") with NSI, through Nu Skin Hong Kong, pursuant to which NSI has granted to the Company the exclusive right to sell and distribute NSI products and sales aids in the Company's markets. Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Taiwan and Nu Skin Korea have each entered into wholesale distribution agreements (the "Wholesale Distribution Agreements") with Nu Skin Hong Kong, pursuant to which each such Subsidiary has been granted the right to sell and distribute NSI products in its respective country.

The Company has the right to purchase any of NSI's products, subject to unavailability due to local regulatory requirements. See "--Government Regulation." Purchases are made by submission of a purchase order to NSI, which NSI must accept unless it has insufficient inventory to fill the order. In determining whether it has sufficient inventory to fill a given order, NSI is required to treat the Company on a parity basis with its other affiliates.

The prices for products are governed by a price schedule which is subject to change by NSI from time to time upon at least 30 days advance notice. NSI pays ordinary freight and the Company pays handling, excise taxes and customs duties on the products the Company orders. In order to assist NSI in planning its inventory and pricing, the Company is required to provide NSI with certain business plans and reports of its sales and prices to independent distributors.

The Company purchases virtually all of its products from NSI through Nu Skin Hong Kong. Nu Skin Hong Kong pays for its purchases from NSI under the Regional Distribution Agreement in U.S. dollars, while the other Subsidiaries pay for their purchases from Nu Skin Hong Kong under the Wholesale Distribution Agreements in their local currency. Nu Skin Hong Kong therefore bears significant currency exchange risk as a result of purchases from NSI on behalf of the other Subsidiaries. See "Risk Factors--Operations Outside the United States; Currency Risks."

The Company is responsible for paying for and obtaining government approvals and registrations necessary for importation of NSI's products into its markets. In addition, the Company is responsible for obtaining any government approvals, including any filings and notifications, necessary for the effectiveness of the Regional Distribution Agreement and the Wholesale Distribution Agreements or for the parties performance thereunder. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Products and Marketing."

NSI is generally responsible for paying for the research, development and testing of the products sold to the Company, including any product reformulations needed to comply with local regulatory requirements. NSI warrants as to the merchantability of, and its title to, such products. NSI has further indemnified the Company from losses and liability relating to claims arising out of alleged or actual defects in the design, manufacture or content of its products. NSI is required to maintain insurance covering claims arising from the use of its products and to cause each Subsidiary to be a named insured on such insurance policy. The Subsidiaries are also required to maintain insurance policies covering the business to be conducted by them pursuant to the Regional Distribution Agreement and the Wholesale Distribution Agreements. See "Risk Factors--Product Liability." The Company is prohibited from selling NSI products outside of the countries for which it has an exclusive distribution license, except that the Company may sell certain NSI products to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand. In addition, the Company is prohibited from selling products which directly or indirectly compete with NSI products in any country without NSI's prior consent, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. The Company may sell non-competing products without restriction.

The Company may manufacture products which do not compete with NSI products without restriction but may not manufacture products which compete directly or indirectly with NSI products without NSI's prior consent, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Any products manufactured by the Company carrying an NSI trademark will be subject to the Trademark/Tradename License Agreements with NSI described below and will require the payment to NSI of certain royalties as set forth therein. If NSI discontinues a product that the Company would like to continue to sell, the Company may elect to manufacturer unless NSI has a competing product. In this event, NSI has agreed to license the product formulation and any associated trademarks and tradenames to the Company pursuant to the Trademark/Tradename License Agreements described below.

When the Company determines to commence operations in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore or Vietnam, NSI has agreed under the Regional Distribution Agreement to enter into new Trademark/Tradename License Agreements and Licensing and Sales Agreements and to cause NSIMG to enter into new Management Services Agreements, in each case substantially similar to those described below, with the Company or subsidiaries operating in such countries. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets."

TRADEMARK/TRADENAME LICENSE AGREEMENTS. Pursuant to the Trademark/Tradename License Agreements, NSI has granted to each Subsidiary an exclusive license to use in its market the NSI and IDN trademarks, the individual product trademarks used on NSI products and any NSI tradenames. Each of the Subsidiaries may thus use the licensed trademarks and tradenames on products and commercial materials not purchased from NSI, including locally sourced products and commercial materials and products and commercial materials manufactured by such subsidiary and may grant a sub-license, with the consent of NSI, for the licensed trademarks and tradenames in its market. In addition, each Subsidiary has the right to export such products and commercial materials into other Company markets with NSI's consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

The Company pays a royalty to NSI for use of the licensed trademarks and tradenames on products, starter and introductory kits and commercial materials not purchased from NSI, including locally sourced products and commercial materials and products and commercial materials manufactured by the Company. The royalty is paid monthly and is equal to 5% of the Company's revenues from such products and commercial materials for such month generally and a total of 8% where NSI owns the formula or has exclusive rights in the subject market for such products or commercial materials.

NSI has the right to inspect the premises where products using its trademarks are manufactured in order to ensure that the products meet its quality standards. The Company's labels, packaging, advertising and promotional materials using NSI's trademarks must conform with NSI's published standards and NSI has the right of prior approval. The Company is responsible for correcting any manufacturing defects in locally sourced products or products it manufactures that are brought to the Company's attention by NSI or otherwise.

NSI is responsible for securing and maintaining trademark registrations in the territory covered by each Trademark/Tradename Agreement. NSI has agreed to take such actions as the Company may reasonably request to protect its and the Company's rights to the licensed trademarks from infringement and related claims and has indemnified the Company from losses and liability resulting from such claims.

LICENSING AND SALES AGREEMENTS. Currently, all distributor agreements are entered into between the distributor and NSI rather than with the Company. Therefore, the Company does not own the distributor lists or the distribution system, the Global Compensation Plan, copyrights and related intangibles. Consequently, each of the Subsidiaries has entered into a Licensing and Sales Agreement with NSI which includes a license to the Company to use the distributor lists, the Global Compensation Plan, know how, distributor system and related intellectual property exclusively in its markets. The Company pays a license fee to NSI of 4% of the Company's revenue from product sales (excluding starter and introductory kits) to NSI distributors for the use of such licensed property. The Company may not grant a sublicense for the licensed property.

The Company is required to use the Global Compensation Plan to distribute any products, except as NSI may agree to modify the plan in accordance with local requirements. The Company must comply with all policies implemented by NSI under the Global Compensation Plan. This is necessary to ensure global consistency in NSI's operations. The Company must also employ all NSI policies relating to commissions payable to, and other relationships with, NSI distributors.

The Company has agreed to incur a distributor commission expense of 42% of commissionable product sales (with the exception of South Korea where, due to government regulations, the Company satisfies this obligation by using a formula based upon a maximum payout of 35% of commissionable product sales). The Licensing and Sales Agreements provide that the Company is to satisfy this obligation by paying commissions owed to local distributors. In the event that these commissions exceed 42% of commissionable product sales, the Company is entitled to receive the difference from NSI. In the event that the commissions paid are lower than 42%, the Company must pay the difference to NSI. Under this formulation, the Company's total commission expense is fixed at 42% of commissionable product sales in each country (except for South Korea). The 42% figure has been set on the basis of NSI's experience over the past seven years which indicates that actual commissions paid in a given year together with the cost of administering the Global Compensation Plan average approximately 42% of commissionable product sales for such year. In the event that actual commissions payable to distributors from sales in the Company's markets vary from these historical results, whether as a result of changes in distributor behavior or changes to the Global Compensation Plan or in the event that NSI's cost of administering the Global Compensation Plan increases or decreases, the Licensing and Sales Agreements provide that the intercompany settlement figure may be modified to more accurately reflect actual results. See "Risk Factors--Potential Increase in Distributor Compensation Expense."

In addition to payments to local distributors, the Company is generally responsible for distributor support and relations within Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and South Korea. The Company has agreed to use its best efforts to support the development of NSI's distributor network in its markets by purchasing starter or introductory kits from NSI and selling them to potential NSI distributors.

NSI has agreed to take such actions as the Company may reasonably request to protect its and the Company's rights to the property licensed under the Licensing and Sales Agreements from infringement and related claims and has indemnified the Company from losses and liability resulting from such claims. Both NSI and the Company are required to maintain insurance coverage adequate to insure their assets and financial stability. NSI is responsible for ensuring that the property licensed under the Licensing and Sales Agreements complies with local laws and regulations, including direct selling laws. See "Risk Factors--Government Regulation of Direct Selling Activities."

MANAGEMENT SERVICES AGREEMENTS. Upon consummation of the Offerings, the Subsidiaries will enter into Management Services Agreements with NSIMG, pursuant to which NSIMG has agreed to provide a variety of management and support services to each Subsidiary. These services will likely include management, legal, financial, marketing and distributor support/training, public relations, international expansion, human resources, strategic planning, product development and operations administration services. Most of NSI's senior management personnel and most employees who deal with international issues are employees of NSIMG.

Generally, the management and support services will be provided by employees of NSI and NSIMG acting through NSIMG either (i) on a temporary basis in a specific consulting role or (ii) on a full-time basis in a management position in the country in which the services are required. The Management Services Agreements do not cover the services of many of the Company's executive officers. See "Management--Executive Compensation."

GENERAL PROVISIONS. The Operating Agreements are each for a term ending on December 31, 2016, and, after December 31, 2001, will be subject to renegotiation in the event that members of the families of, or trusts or foundations established by or for the benefit of the Existing Stockholders of NSI on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company or of NSI. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions." Each Operating Agreement is subject to termination by either party in the event of: (i) a material breach by the other party which remains uncured for a period of 60 days after notice thereof; (ii) the bankruptcy or insolvency of the other party; or (iii) entry of a judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction against the other party in excess of $25,000,000. Each Operating Agreement is further subject to termination by NSI upon 30 days notice in the event of a change of control of the Subsidiary party thereto and by such subsidiary upon 30 days notice in the event of a change of control of NSI. Each Operating Agreement provides that neither party may assign its rights thereunder without the consent of the other party. Each Operating Agreement is governed by Utah law. Any dispute arising under an Operating Agreement is to be settled by arbitration conducted in Utah in accordance with the applicable rules of the American Arbitration Association, as supplemented by the commercial arbitration procedures for international commercial arbitration.

MUTUAL INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT. Prior to or concurrently with the Offerings, the Company and NSI will enter into a mutual indemnification agreement pursuant to which NSI will indemnify the Company for certain claims, losses and liabilities relating to the operations of the Subsidiaries prior to the Reorganization and the Company will indemnify NSI for certain claims, losses and liabilities relating to the operations of the Subsidiaries after the Reorganization.

COMPETITION

PERSONAL CARE AND NUTRITIONAL PRODUCTS. The markets for personal care and nutritional products are large and intensely competitive. The Company competes directly with companies that manufacture and market personal care and nutritional products in each of the Company's product categories. The Company competes with other companies in the personal care and nutritional products industry by emphasizing the value and premium quality of the Company's products and the convenience of the Company's distribution system. Many of the Company's competitors have much greater name recognition and financial resources than the Company. In addition, personal care and nutritional products can be purchased in a wide variety of channels of distribution. While the Company believes that consumers appreciate the convenience of ordering products from home through a sales person or through a catalog, the buying habits of many consumers accustomed to purchasing products through traditional retail channels are difficult to change. The Company's product offerings in each product category are also relatively small compared to the wide variety of products offered by many other personal care and nutritional product companies. There can be no assurance that the Company's business and results of operations will not be affected materially by market conditions and competition in the future.

NETWORK MARKETING COMPANIES. The Company also competes with other direct selling organizations, some of which have a longer operating history and higher visibility, name recognition and financial resources. The leading network marketing company in the Company's markets is Amway Corporation and its affiliates. The Company competes for new distributors on the basis of the Global Compensation Plan and its premium quality products. Management envisions the entry of many more direct selling organizations into the marketplace as this channel of distribution expands over the next several years. The Company has been advised that certain large, well-financed corporations are planning to launch direct selling enterprises which will compete with the Company in certain of its product lines. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to successfully meet the challenges posed by this increased competition. See "Risk Factors--Competition."

GOVERNMENT REGULATION

DIRECT SELLING ACTIVITIES. Direct selling activities are regulated by various governmental agencies. These laws and regulations are generally intended to prevent fraudulent or deceptive schemes, often referred to as "pyramid" or "chain sales" schemes, that promise quick rewards for little or no effort, require high entry costs, use high pressure recruiting methods and/or do not involve legitimate products. In Japan, the Company's distribution system is regulated under the "Door-to-Door" Sales Law, which requires the submission of specific information concerning the Company's business and products and which provides certain cancellation and cooling-off rights for consumers and new distributors. In Taiwan, the Fair Trade Law (and the Enforcement Rules and Supervisory Regulations of Multi-Level Sales) requires the Company to comply with registration procedures and also provides distributors with certain rights regarding cooling-off periods and product returns. The Company also complies with South Korea's strict Door-to-Door Sales Act, which requires, among other things, the regular reporting of revenue, the registration of distributors together with the issuance of a registration card, and the maintaining of a current distributor registry. This law also limits the amount of sponsoring bonuses that a registered multi-level marketing company can pay to its distributors to 35% of revenue in a given month. As is the case with most network marketing companies, NSI and the Company have from time to time received inquiries from various government regulatory authorities regarding the nature of their business and other issues such as compliance with local business opportunity and securities laws. Although to date none of these inquiries has resulted in a finding materially adverse to the Company or NSI, adverse publicity resulting from inquiries into NSI's operations by certain government agencies in the early 1990's, stemming in part out of inappropriate product and earnings claims by distributors, materially adversely affected NSI's business and results of operations. There can be no assurance that the Company or NSI will not face similar inquiries in the future which, either as a result of findings adverse to the Company or NSI or as a result of adverse publicity resulting from the instigation of such inquiries, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. See "Risk Factors--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity" and "--Government Regulation of Direct Selling Activities."

Based on research conducted in opening its existing markets (including assistance from local counsel), the nature and scope of inquiries from government regulatory authorities and the Company and NSI's history of operations in such markets to date, the Company and NSI believe that their method of distribution is in compliance in all material respects with the laws and regulations relating to direct selling activities of the countries in which the Company and NSI currently operate. Even though management believes that laws governing direct selling are generally becoming more permissive, many countries, including Singapore, one of the Company's potential markets, currently have laws in place that would prohibit the Company and NSI from conducting business in such markets. There can be no assurance that the Company will be allowed to conduct business in each of the new markets licensed from NSI. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets."

REGULATION OF PRODUCTS AND MARKETING. The Company and NSI are subject to or affected by extensive governmental regulations not specifically addressed to network marketing. Such regulations govern, among other things, (i) product formulation, labeling, packaging and importation, (ii) product claims and advertising, whether made by the Company, NSI or NSI distributors, (iii) fair trade and distributor practices, and (iv) taxes, transfer pricing and similar regulations that affect foreign taxable income and customs duties.

The Japanese Ministry of Health and Welfare ("MOHW") requires the Company to possess an import business license and to register each personal care product imported into the country. Packaging and labeling requirements are also specified. The Company has had to reformulate many products to satisfy MOHW regulations. In Japan, nutritional foods, drugs and quasi-drugs are all strictly regulated. The chief concern involves the types of claims and representations that can be made regarding the efficacy of nutritional products. The Company's successful introduction of IDN products in Japan was achieved by utilizing the combined efforts of NSI's technical staff as well as external consultants.

In Taiwan, all "medicated" cosmetic and pharmaceutical products, including PharmAssist, require registration. Non-medicated cosmetic products, such as shampoo and hair conditioner, require no registration.

In Hong Kong, cosmetic products not classified as "drugs" nor as "pharmaceutical products" are not subject to statutory registrations, packaging and labeling requirements apart from the Trade Descriptions Ordinance. In Macau, "pharmaceutical" products are strictly regulated; general products are not subject to registration requirements. In South Korea, the Company has obtained the mandatory certificate of confirmation as a qualified importer of cosmetics under the Pharmaceutical Affairs Law as well as additional product approvals for each of the 45 categories of cosmetic products which it imports. Each new cosmetic product undergoes a 60 day post-customs inspection where, in addition to compliance with ingredient requirements, each product is inspected for compliance with South Korean labeling requirements.

Based on the Company and NSI's experience and research (including assistance from counsel) and the nature and scope of inquiries from government regulatory authorities, the Company and NSI believe that they are in material compliance with all regulations applicable to them. Despite this belief, either the Company or NSI could be found not to be in material compliance with existing regulations as a result of, among other things, the considerable interpretative and enforcement discretion given to regulators or misconduct by independent distributors. In 1994, NSI and three of its distributors entered into a consent decree with the Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC") with respect to its investigation of certain product claims and distributor practices, pursuant to which NSI paid approximately $1 million to settle the FTC investigation. NSI is currently in discussions with the FTC regarding its compliance with such consent decree and other product issues raised by the FTC. There can be no assurances that the Company will not be subject to similar inquiries and regulatory investigations or disputes and the effects of any adverse publicity resulting therefrom. Any assertion or determination that either the Company, NSI or any NSI distributors are not in compliance with existing laws or regulations could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. In addition, in any country or jurisdiction, the adoption of new laws or regulations or changes in the interpretation of existing laws or regulations could generate negative publicity and/or have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and results of operations. The Company cannot determine the effect, if any, that future governmental regulations or administrative orders may have on the Company's business and results of operations. Moreover, governmental regulations in countries where the Company plans to commence or expand operations may prevent, delay or limit market entry of certain products or require the reformulation of such products. Regulatory action, whether or not it results in a final determination adverse to the Company or NSI, has the potential to create negative publicity, with detrimental effects on the motivation and recruitment of distributors and, consequently, on the Company's sales and earnings. See "Risk Factors--Potential Effects of Adverse Publicity" and "--Entering New Markets.'

REGULATION OF POTENTIAL MARKETS. Each of the proposed new markets will present additional unique difficulties and challenges. In Thailand, for example, businesses which are more than 50% owned by non-citizens are not permitted to operate unless they have an Alien Business Permit, which is frequently difficult to obtain. Under the Treaty of Amity and Economic Relations between Thailand and the United States (the "Treaty of Amity") an Alien Business Permit is not required if a Thailand business is owned by an entity organized in the United States, a majority of whose owners are U.S. citizens or entities. From time to time, it has been reported that certain Thailand government officials have considered supporting the termination of the Treaty of Amity. There can be no assurance that the Company will ever be able to obtain all of the necessary permits and approvals to commence operations in Thailand. The Company could face particular difficulties in commencing operations in Thailand if the Treaty of Amity were terminated and the Company were forced to obtain an Alien Business Permit.

The PRC has also proven to be a particularly difficult market for foreign corporations due to its extensive government regulation and the historical political tenants of the PRC government. In order to enter the market in the PRC, the Company may be required to create a joint venture enterprise with a Chinese entity and to establish a local manufacturing presence, which will entail a significant investment on the Company's part. The Company will likely have to apply for licenses on a province by province basis and the repatriation of the Company's profits will be subject to restrictions on currency conversion and the fluctuations of the government controlled exchange rate. In addition, because distribution systems are greatly fragmented, the Company may be forced to use business models significantly different from those used by the Company in more developed countries. The lack of a comprehensive legal system and the uncertain and sporadic enforcement of existing legislation and laws could also have an adverse effect on the Company's proposed business in the PRC.

The other potential new markets also present significant regulatory, political and economic obstacles to the Company. In Singapore, for example, network marketing is currently illegal and is not permitted under any circumstances. Although the Company believes that this restriction will eventually be relaxed or repealed, no assurance can be given that such regulation will not remain in place and that the Company will not be permanently prevented from initiating sales in Singapore. In addition, Malaysia has governmental guidelines that have the effect of limiting foreign ownership of companies operating in Malaysia. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to properly structure Malaysian operations to comply with this policy. In October of 1995, the Company's business permit applications were denied by the Malaysian government as a result of activities by certain NSI distributors. Therefore, the Company believes that although significant opportunities exist to expand its operations into new markets, there can be no assurance that these or other difficulties will not prevent the Company from realizing the benefits of this opportunity.

EMPLOYEES

As of September 30, 1996, the Company had approximately 825 full-time and part-time employees. None of the employees is represented by a union or other collective bargaining group. The Company believes its relationship with its employees is good, and does not currently foresee a shortage in qualified personnel needed to operate the business. Each Subsidiary is directed by an experienced manager.

PROPERTIES

In each of its current markets, the Company has established a central office for the local administrative staff who is directed by a general manager. These offices also have a training room for distributor and employee use and an adjoining distribution center where distributors can place, pay for, and pick up orders. In Japan, Taiwan, and South Korea additional pick up centers have been added to provide better service to distributors and meet the increasing demand for product. In Hong Kong, the Company maintains a distributor business center where established distributors can use office space for training and sponsoring activities at cost.

In addition to the Company's corporate headquarters in Provo, Utah, the following table summarizes, as of September 30, 1996, the Company's leased office and distribution facilities in each country where the Company currently has operations.

Max E. Esplin has served as a Director of the Company since September 1996. He has also served as Vice President of Finance of NSI since 1993. He served as Controller of NSI from 1989 until 1993. Mr. Esplin is a Certified Public Accountant. He received a B.S. degree from Brigham Young University.

Following completion of the Offerings, the Company's Board of Directors intends to appoint at least two additional directors who will not be officers or employees of NSI or the Company. It is expected that these outside directors will receive annual retainer and per meeting fees in connection with these directorships. See "--Compensation of Directors."

COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Within 90 days after the closing of the Offerings, the Company's Board of Directors will establish an Audit Committee consisting of at least two directors, none of whom will be an officer or employee of the Company or NSI. The duties of the Audit Committee will be to recommend to the Company's Board of Directors the selection of independent certified public accountants to audit annually the books and records of the Company, to review the activities and the reports of the independent certified public accountants and to report the results of such review to the Company's Board of Directors. The Audit Committee will also consider the adequacy of the Company's internal controls and internal auditing methods and procedures. Within 90 days after the closing of the Offerings, the Company's Board of Directors will establish a Compensation Committee consisting of at least two directors, none of whom will be an officer or employee of the Company, the duties of which are to make recommendations to the Company's Board of Directors with respect to the salaries, bonuses and other compensation to be paid to the Company's officers. The Company's Board of Directors also intends to establish an Executive Committee consisting of Messrs. Blake M. Roney, Steven J. Lund and Keith R. Halls. The duties of the Executive Committee are, to the extent authorized by the Company's Board of Directors, to exercise all the powers and authority of the Company's Board of Directors with respect to the management of the business and affairs of the Company.

COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS

Following the Offerings, directors who do not receive compensation as officers or employees of the Company, NSI or its affiliates will be paid an annual fee of $25,000 and a fee of $1,000 for each meeting of the Company's Board of Directors or any committee meeting thereof that they attend.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE INTERLOCKS AND INSIDER PARTICIPATION

The Company's Board of Directors does not currently have a compensation committee but anticipates establishing one within 90 days following the closing of the Offerings. Several members of the Company's Board of Directors are also directors of NSI and have set or will set compensation for certain executive officers of the Company who have been or will be following the Offerings, executive officers of NSI.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Company was formed in September 1996, and consequently paid no compensation to the executive officers named in the table below during the year ended December 31, 1995. However, salary, bonus and other compensation is presented in the table below for the year ended December 31, 1995 based on payments by NSI and the Subsidiaries to the named executive officers as if the Company had been in existence during that period. During 1995, Messrs. Bamba, Chou, and Mak were employed full time as the Presidents of Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Taiwan and Nu Skin Korea, respectively. During 1995, Messrs. Lund and Patch were, and after the Offerings will continue to be, executive officers of NSI and the Company. The compensation presented in the table below reflects an allocation of the time spent by Messrs. Lund and Patch providing services to the Subsidiaries during 1995. During 1996, the Company will pay Messrs. Lund and Patch annual salaries commensurate with their 1995 salaries in return for their services to the Company. These salaries and bonuses will be in addition to any amounts received by these officers from NSI in return for their services to NSI. During 1996, the Company, through the Subsidiaries, will pay Messrs. Bamba, Chou and Mak salaries of approximately $361,000, $211,000 and $111,000, respectively. In addition, Messrs. Bamba, Chou and Mak will be eligible to participate in the Bonus Incentive Plan which is intended to be modeled after NSI's cash bonus long term incentive plan which was in effect for these individuals in 1995. See "--Bonus Incentive Plan." It is anticipated that Messrs. Bamba, Chou and Mak will continue to receive all of their compensation from the Company through the Subsidiaries.

EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS

Messrs. Bamba, Chou and Han have entered into employment agreements with Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Taiwan and Nu Skin Korea, respectively. Under these agreements, these individuals are paid an annual salary and receive various other benefits. These individuals, together with Mr. Mak, are also entitled to participate in the Bonus Incentive Plan to be adopted by the Company prior to or concurrently with the Offerings. See "--Bonus Incentive Plan."

Mr. Bamba is employed as the President of Nu Skin Japan at an annual salary of approximately $361,000. This salary is subject to annual review by Nu Skin Japan. Under the terms of his employment agreement, Mr. Bamba is entitled to reimbursement of business-related expenses, the use of an automobile provided by Nu Skin Japan, and participation in any retirement plan offered by Nu Skin Japan. Mr. Bamba also has the right under his employment agreement to have Nu Skin Japan purchase a country club membership and pay related dues, although he has not exercised this right. Mr. Bamba is also provided with a private insurance plan paid for by Nu Skin Japan provided the premium for such private insurance plan does not exceed (Yen)300,000 per year. Mr. Bamba has agreed to certain confidentiality obligations. The term of Mr. Bamba's employment is indefinite, subject to termination by Mr. Bamba or Nu Skin Japan upon three months' notice.

Mr. Chou is employed as the President of Nu Skin Taiwan at an annual salary of approximately $211,000. Under the terms of his employment agreement, Mr. Chou is entitled to health insurance paid for in part by Nu Skin Taiwan. Nu Skin Taiwan also provides Mr. Chou with a monthly car allowance. The term of Mr. Chou's employment agreement currently extends until June 1997. Under his employment agreement, Mr. Chou has agreed to certain confidentiality obligations.

Mr. Han is employed as the President of Nu Skin Korea at an annual salary of approximately $110,000. Under the terms of his employment agreement, Mr. Han is entitled to the use of an automobile and driver provided by Nu Skin Korea, as well as medical insurance and pension benefits. Mr. Han's employment is for a three year term ending January 1, 1999, subject to the right of Nu Skin Korea or Mr. Han to terminate the agreement on 60 days' advance notice. Once Mr. Han has been employed by Nu Skin Korea for 12 months, he will become entitled to receive, upon termination, severance pay equal to two months' salary for each consecutive year of service. Mr. Han has agreed to certain confidentiality and noncompetition obligations.

1996 STOCK INCENTIVE PLAN

The Board of Directors of the Company has adopted the Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. 1996 Stock Incentive Plan (the "Plan"). The purpose of the Plan is to attract and retain executives, other employees, independent consultants and directors who are important to the success and growth of the Company and to ensure that their interests are aligned with the interests of the stockholders of the Company. The Company expects that the Existing Stockholders will approve the Plan prior to consummation of the Offerings.

ADMINISTRATION. The Plan is administered by the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan Committee (the "Plan Committee"). Initially, the Plan Committee will consist of the members of the Company's Board of Directors, and later of the members of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors, once the Compensation Committee has been established. The Plan Committee will determine, from time to time, the individuals to whom awards shall be made, the type of awards, and the amount, size and terms of each award. The Plan Committee will make all other determinations necessary or advisable for the administration of the Plan.

AWARDS. Awards under the Plan may be in the form of options (both nonqualified stock options ("NQSOS") and incentive stock options ("ISOS")), contingent stock, restricted stock, and stock appreciation rights ("SARs"), or such other forms as the Plan Committee in its discretion may deem appropriate. The maximum number of awards that may be issued to any one person during the life of the Plan shall be limited to 10% of the shares reserved for issuance under the Plan. The number of shares which may be issued under the Plan as well as the terms of any outstanding awards may be equitably adjusted by the Plan Committee in the event of a stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, combination or similar events. In general, any shares subject to an option or right which for any reason expires or is terminated unexercised shall again be available under the Plan. No awards may be granted more than ten years after the effective date of the Plan.

NUMBER OF SHARES. A total of 4,000,000 shares of the Class A Common Stock have been authorized to be issued pursuant to the Plan. The Company anticipates issuing stock bonus awards for 1.8% of these shares to executive officers of the Company prior to or immediately following the Offerings. Messrs. Renn M. Patch, Corey B. Lindley, Michael D. Smith, Takashi Bamba, John Chou, S.T. Han, George Mak, and Mark Adams, will receive stock bonus awards of 13,000, 9,000, 13,000, 10,400, 13,000, 1,800, 9,000 and 3,500 shares of Class A Common Stock, respectively. These awards vest ratably over four years following the date of grant, provided the executive officer remains in the employment of the Company. PLAN AMENDMENT. The Board of Directors may amend the Plan, without stockholder approval, anytime in any respect unless stockholder approval of the amendment in question is required under Delaware law, the Code, certain exemptions from Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "1934 Act"), any national securities exchange system on which the shares are then listed or reported, by any regulatory body having jurisdiction with respect to the Plan, or other applicable laws, rules or regulations. No amendment to the Plan may alter or impair any award granted under the Plan without the consent of the holders thereof. The Plan may be terminated at any time by the Board of Directors.

OPTIONS. The Plan provides for the grant of ISOs to employees and NQSOs to employees and independent consultants. In the case of ISOs, the exercise price of an option may not be less than 100% of the fair market value of a share of Class A Common Stock at the time of grant (or 110% of such fair market value if the optionee owns more than 10% of the total voting power of all classes of Company stock outstanding at the time of grant). In the case of NQSOs, the exercise price of an option may not be less than 85% of the fair market value of a share of Class A Common Stock at the time of grant. The Plan Committee may provide for a reduction in the exercise price of a NQSO by dividends paid on a share of Class A Common Stock while the NQSO is outstanding. Options will be exercisable for a term determined by the Plan Committee provided such exercise shall occur not earlier than six months and not later than ten years (five years if the optionee owns more than ten percent of the total voting power of all classes of Company Stock outstanding at the time of grant) after the grant of the option. The aggregate fair market value of ISO's (determined at the time of grant) granted to an employee which may become first exercisable in any one calendar year shall not exceed $100,000. If any option is not granted, exercised, or held pursuant to the provisions applicable to an ISO, it will be considered to be an NQSO to the extent that any or all of the grant is in conflict with such provisions. The Plan Committee has the power to permit acceleration of previously determined exercise terms under certain circumstances and upon such terms and conditions as the Plan Committee deems appropriate. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

CONTINGENT STOCK. The Plan Committee will determine the amount of contingent stock to be granted to a participant based on the past or expected impact the participant has had or can have on the financial well being of the Company and other factors determined by the Plan Committee to be appropriate. A participant receiving an award of contingent stock will receive the stock upon the satisfaction of certain objectives. Contingent stock awards made pursuant to the Plan will be subject to such terms, conditions and restrictions, including obtainment of performance objectives, for such period or periods as may be determined by the Plan Committee at the time of grant. The Plan Committee in its discretion may permit acceleration of the expiration of the applicable restriction period with respect to part or all of the award to any participant. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

RESTRICTED STOCK. The Plan Committee will determine the amount of restricted stock to be granted to a participant based on the past or expected impact the participant has had or can have on the financial well being of the Company and other factors deemed by the Plan Committee to be appropriate. Restricted stock is issued to the participant subject to forfeiture if certain objectives are not met. Restricted stock awards made pursuant to the Plan shall be subject to the terms, conditions and restrictions, including the payment of performance objectives, and for such period or periods as will be determined by the Plan Committee at the time of grant. The Plan Committee in its discretion may permit acceleration of the expiration of the applicable restriction period with respect to part or all of the award to any participant. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions." Shares of restricted stock may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of, except by will or the laws of descent and distribution, for such period provided in the participant's award agreement.

SARS. SARs are rights to receive cash or shares of Company stock, or a combination thereof, as the Plan Committee may determine in an amount equal to the excess of (i) the fair market value of the stock with respect to which the SAR is exercised, or (ii) 100% of the fair market value of such stock at the time the SAR was granted, less any dividends paid on such shares while the SAR was outstanding. No cash consideration will be received by the Company for the grant of any SAR. No SAR may be granted for a period of less than one year or greater than ten years. SARs may be exercised at such time and subject to such terms and conditions as are prescribed by the Plan Committee at the time of grant, subject to certain limitations (including that no SAR shall be exercisable within one year after the date of grant).

FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES. The participant recognizes no taxable gain or loss when an incentive stock option is granted or exercised. If the shares acquired upon the exercise of an incentive stock option are held for at least one year after exercise and two years after grant (the "Holding Period"), the participant recognizes any gain or loss recognized upon such sale as long-term capital gain or loss and the Company is not entitled to a deduction. If the shares are not held for the Holding Period, the gain is ordinary income to the participant to the extent of the difference between the exercise price and the fair market value of the Class A Common Stock on the date the option is exercised and any excess is capital gain. Also, in such circumstances, the Company is entitled to a deduction equal to the amount of any ordinary income recognized by the participant.

The participant recognizes no taxable income and the Company receives no deduction when a nonqualified stock option is granted. Upon exercise of a nonqualified stock option, the participant recognizes ordinary income and the Company is entitled to a deduction equal to the difference between the exercise price and the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise. The participant recognizes as a capital gain or loss any subsequent profit or loss realized on the sale or exchange of any shares disposed of or sold.

A participant granted restricted stock or contingent stock is not required to include the value of such shares in income until the first time such participant's rights in the shares are transferable or are not subject to substantial risk of forfeiture, whichever occurs earlier, unless such participant timely files an election under Code Section 83(b) to be taxed on the receipt of the shares. In either case, the amount of such ordinary income will be equal to the excess of the fair market value of the shares at the time the income is recognized over the amount (if any) paid for the shares. The Company is entitled to a deduction, in the amount of the ordinary income recognized by the participant, for the Company's taxable year in which the participant recognizes such income.

Upon the grant of an SAR, the participant recognizes no taxable income and the Company receives no deduction. The participant recognizes ordinary income and the Company is entitled to a deduction at the time of exercise equal to the cash and the fair market value of shares payable upon such exercise.

Under certain circumstances, an accelerated vesting or cash out of stock options, or accelerated lapse of restrictions on other awards, in connection with a change in control of the Company might be deemed an "excess parachute payment" for purposes of the golden parachute tax provisions of Code Section 280G. To the extent it is so considered, the participant may be subject to a 20% excise tax and the Company may be denied a tax deduction.

Code Section 162(m) limits to $1,000,000 per year the federal income tax deduction available to a public company for compensation paid to any of its chief executive officer and four other highest paid executive officers. However, Section 162(m) provides an exception from its limitation for certain "performance based" compensation if various requirements are satisfied. The Plan contains provisions which are intended to satisfy these requirements for awards made at the time the Company is considered a public company and which otherwise are "performance based" compensation.

BONUS INCENTIVE PLAN

Concurrent with the Offerings, the Company intends to adopt a bonus incentive plan for the Presidents of the Subsidiaries. This bonus incentive plan will be patterned after a similar plan under which Messrs. Bamba, Chou, Han and Mak were compensated by NSI prior to the Reorganization and the Offerings. Under the contemplated bonus incentive plan, Messrs. Bamba, Chou, Han and Mak will be entitled to receive an annual cash bonus based upon the prior year's operating results of the Subsidiary for which they are responsible. Under this bonus incentive plan, participants would be able to receive a bonus equal to 100% of their respective salaries, conditioned on meeting certain performance criteria and subject to cash availability and approval of the Board of Directors of the Company. One half of this bonus would be payable by February 15 of the year following the year in which the bonus is earned and the remaining one half would be deferred and would vest ratably over 10 years or at age 65, whichever occurs first. Prior to or concurrently with the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders, who are also the stockholders of Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Taiwan, Nu Skin Korea and Nu Skin Hong Kong, will contribute their shares of capital stock in such entities to the Company in exchange for shares of Class B Common Stock. See "The Reorganization and S Corporation Distribution."

Upon the consummation of the Offerings, approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock will be held by the Selling Stockholders (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full). Consequently, the Selling Stockholders will have the ability, acting in concert, to elect all directors of the Company and approve any action requiring approval by a majority of the stockholders of the Company. The Selling Stockholders also own, and following the Offerings will continue to own, 100% of the outstanding shares of NSI. As a result of this ownership, the Selling Stockholder decisions on the consolidated financial results of NSI and the Company. The interests of NSI, on the one hand, and of the Company, on the other hand, may differ from time to time. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest" and "Control by Existing Stockholders; Anti-Takeover Effect of Dual Classes of Common Stock."

The Operating Agreements were approved by the present Board of Directors of the Company, which is composed entirely of officers and shareholders of NSI. It is expected that, subsequent to the closing of the Offerings, the composition of the Board of Directors of the Company will be changed so that at least two of its members will be persons unaffiliated with NSI. In addition, most of the executive officers of the Company are also executive officers of NSI. It is expected that a number of the Company's executive officers will continue to spend a portion of their time on the affairs of NSI, for which they will continue to receive compensation from NSI. See "Risk Factors--Relationship with and Reliance on NSI; Potential Conflicts of Interest" and "Business--Relationship with NSI."

Virtually all of the products sold by the Company are purchased from NSI pursuant to distribution agreements with NSI. The Company also manufactures itself, or through third-party manufacturers, certain products and commercial materials which it then sells using NSI trademarks or tradenames licensed under trademark/tradename license agreements with NSI. In addition, the Company does not have its own sales or distribution network but licenses the right to use NSI's distribution network and the Global Compensation Plan pursuant to licensing and sales agreements with NSI. During 1995, the Company paid NSI approximately $99.2 million for goods and services provided to the Company under the Operating Agreements. NSIMG also provides a broad range of management, administrative and technical support to the Company pursuant to management services agreements with the Company. During 1995, the Company paid NSIMG approximately $2.1 million for services provided to the Company under a management service agreement. For a summary of the terms of these agreements, see "Business--Relationship with NSI." See also Combined Financial Statements and footnotes thereto.

During 1995, Nu Skin Japan paid NSI a royalty of 8% of the revenue from sales of products manufactured by a third party manufacturer under a license agreement between Nu Skin Japan and NSI. In fiscal 1995, Nu Skin Japan paid NSI $2.3 million in royalties pursuant to this license agreement.

Pursuant to wholesale distribution agreements, Nu Skin Hong Kong distributes certain NSI products to Nu Skin Personal Care Australia, Inc. and Nu Skin New Zealand, Inc. Pursuant to these agreements, Nu Skin Hong Kong was paid approximately $4.6 million in fiscal 1995 by Nu Skin Personal Care Australia, Inc. and Nu Skin New Zealand, Inc.

Prior to or concurrently with the Offerings, the Company will purchase from NSI for $25.0 million, the exclusive rights to distribute NSI products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the PRC, Singapore and Vietnam. See "Risk Factors--Entering New Markets." The Company will pay $15 million of this amount out of proceeds of the Offerings. See "Use of Proceeds." In addition the Company and NSI will enter into a mutual indemnification agreement pursuant to which NSI will indemnify the Company for certain claims, losses and liabilities relating to the operations of the Subsidiaries prior to the Reorganization and the Company will indemnify NSI for certain claims, losses and liabilities relating to the operations of the Subsidiaries after the Reorganization. See "Business--Relationship with NSI."

Craig Bryson and Craig S. Tillotson are major stockholders of the Company and have been NSI distributors since 1984. Messrs. Bryson and Tillotson are partners in an entity (the "Partnership") which receives substantial commissions from NSI, including commissions on sales generated within the Company's markets. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 1995, total commissions paid to the Partnership on sales originating in the Company's then open markets (Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong) was approximately $1.1 million. By agreement, NSI pays commissions to the Partnership at the highest level of commissions available to distributors. Management believes that this arrangement allows Messrs. Bryson and Tillotson the flexibility of using their expertise and reputations in network marketing circles to sponsor, motivate and train distributors to benefit NSI's distributor force generally, without having to focus solely on their own organizations.

The Existing Stockholders will enter into a stockholders agreement with the Company (the "Stockholders' Agreement"). The Existing Stockholders will in the aggregate own shares having 98.6% of the voting power of the Company immediately after the Offerings (approximately 98.4% if the underwriters overallotment options are exercised in full). In order to ensure the qualification of the Reorganization under Section 351 of the Code, the Existing Stockholders have agreed not to transfer any shares they own for 366 days after the Offerings without the consent of the Company except for certain transfers relating to the funding of the Distributor Options and the grant of the employee stock bonus awards. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale." After the expiration of this 366 day period and subject to any volume limitations imposed by Rule 144, no such stockholder is permitted to transfer in any oneyear period a number of shares equal to the greater of (i) 10% of the total number of shares of Common Stock originally issued to such stockholder in connection with the Reorganization, or (ii) 1.25% of the total Common Stock issued and outstanding at the time of such proposed transfer. The Existing Stockholders have been granted registration rights by the Company permitting each of such Existing Stockholder to register his or her shares of Class A Common Stock, subject to certain restrictions, on any registration statement filed by the Company until such Existing Stockholder has sold a specified value of shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Description of Capital Stock--Registration Rights."

Prior to the Offerings, the Company will enter into indemnification agreements with its officers and directors indemnifying them against liability incurred by them in the course of their service to the Company. Prior to or immediately following the Offerings, the Company has granted certain of its executive officers stock bonus awards of shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Management--1996 Stock Incentive Plan--Number of Shares." In January 1994, NSI stockholders agreed to grant M. Truman Hunt an option to purchase 267,500 shares of Class A Common Stock at an aggregate exercise price of $500,000 which reflects the agreed upon fair market value of this equity interest in January 1994. This option is immediately exercisable upon consummation of the Reorganization. The Company has been advised by M. Truman Hunt that he intends to exercise a portion of this option and purchase 14,500 shares of Class A Common Stock immediately following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings and then sell such shares in the Offerings.

Prior to the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders intend to convert 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock into Class A Common Stock and contribute such shares to the Company. The Company intends to grant to NSI the Distributor Options to purchase such shares of Common Stock and NSI intends to assign the Distributor Options to qualifying distributors of NSI in connection with the Offerings. The Distributor Options will be subject to certain conditions related to distributor performance and will vest on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor incentive expense for the Distributor Options. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

The Company has employment agreements with certain of its executive officers. See "Management--Employment Agreements."

The following table sets forth, as of September 30, 1996, certain information regarding the beneficial ownership of the Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock after giving effect to the Reorganization and as adjusted to give effect to (i) the contribution to the Company by the Existing Stockholders of 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock which the Company has reserved for issuance upon exercise of the Distributor Options; (ii) the contribution of 1,250,000 shares of Class A Common Stock by the Existing Stockholders to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance in connection with certain employee stock bonus awards; and (iii) the sales of shares of Class A Common Stock in the Offerings (assuming no exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment options) by (a) each person known by the Company to own beneficially more than 5% of either the outstanding shares of Class A Common Stock or Class B Common Stock; (b) each of the Company's directors; (c) each of the executive officers whose names appear in the summary compensation table; and (d) all directors and executive officers as a group. The business address of the 5% stockholders is 75 West Center Street, Provo, Utah 84601.

- (1) Each share of Class B Common Stock is convertible at any time at the option of the holder into one share of Class A Common Stock and each share of Class B Common Stock is automatically converted into one share of Class A Common Stock upon the transfer of such share of Class B Common Stock to any person who is not a Permitted Transferee as defined in the Stockholders Agreement entered into by the Existing Stockholders and the Company prior to the Offerings. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."
- (2) Prior to the Offerings, the Selling Stockholders will convert shares of Class B Common Stock to Class A Common Stock to be sold in the Offerings.
- (3) Reflects the conversion prior to the Offerings by the Existing Stockholders of 2,855,000 shares of Class B Common Stock into 2,855,000 shares of Class A Common Stock which were contributed by the Existing Stockholders pro rata to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for distribution to distributors of NSI and employees of NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) pursuant to the Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards. See "Shares Eligible For Future Sale." Does not reflect the exercise of the options granted by the Selling Stockholders to the U.S. Underwriters and the International Managers (on a pro rata basis, based on the number of shares sold by such Selling Stockholders in the Offerings) exercisable for 30 days after the date of this Prospectus to purchase up to 1,058,342 and 306,658 additional shares of Class A Common Stock, respectively, to cover over-allotments, if any, at the initial public offering price, less the underwriting discount. Upon the exercise in full of the underwriters' over-allotment options, the Selling Stockholders will convert 1,365,000 shares of Class B Common Stock into 1,365,000 shares of Class A Common Stock for issuance to the underwriters pursuant to such options.

(4) Includes shares beneficially owned or deemed to be owned beneficially by Blake M. Roney prior to the Offerings as follows: 515,971 shares of Class A Common Stock directly and with respect to which he has sole voting and investment power; 20,866,275 shares of Class B Common Stock as general partner of BNASIA, Ltd., a limited partnership, and with respect to which he shares voting and investment power with his wife Nancy L. Roney as set forth in footnote 23 below; 176,165 shares of Class B Common Stock as trustee and with respect to which he has sole voting and investment power; 150,000 shares of Class A Common Stock as co-trustee and with respect to which he shares voting and investment power with Nancy L. Roney. If the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full, BNASIA, Ltd., of which Blake M. Roney and Nancy L. Roney are the general partners and who share voting and investment power, will sell, pursuant to the Offerings, an additional 413,391 shares of Class A Common Stock, converted from Class B Common Stock, in which event the number and percentage of shares of Class A Common stock To Be Owned After the Offerings by Blake M. Roney would be 0 shares and 0%, the number and percentage of shares of Class B Common Stock owned after the Offerings would be 20,629,049 shares and 28.8% and the Voting Power After the Offerings would be 28.3%. Blake M. Roney is the Chairman of the Board of Directors, of the Company and Chairman of the Board of Directors, an executive officer and a shareholder of NSI.

- (5) Includes shares beneficially owned or deemed to be owned beneficially by Nedra D. Roney prior to the Offerings as follows: 598,656 shares of Class A Common Stock and 14,523,710 shares of Class B Common Stock directly and with respect to which she has sole voting and investment power; 125,000 shares of Class A Common Stock as co-trustee and with respect to which she shares voting and investment power with Evan Schmutz. If the underwriters' over-allotment options are exercised in full, Nedra D. Roney will sell, pursuant to the Offerings, an additional 345,248 shares of Class A Common Stock, converted from Class B Common Stock, in which event the number and percentage of shares of Class A Common Stock To Be Owned After the Offerings by Nedra D. Roney would be 0 shares and 0%, the number and percentage of shares of Class B Common Stock owned after the Offerings would be 14,178,462 shares and 19.8% and the Voting Power After the Offerings would be 19.5%. Nedra D. Roney is a Director and shareholder of NSI.
- (6) Includes shares beneficially owned or deemed to be owned beneficially by Sandie N. Tillotson prior to the Offerings as follows: 260,030 shares of Class A Common Stock and 7,827,810 shares of Class B Common Stock directly and with respect to which she has sole voting and investment power; 354,168 shares of Class A Common Stock and 424,767 shares of Class B Common Stock as trustee and with respect to which she has sole voting and investment power; 500,000 shares of Class B Common Stock as manager of a limited liability company and with respect to which she has sole voting and investment power. SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

GENERAL. Prior to the Offerings, there has been no public market for the Common Stock and no prediction can be made that an active trading market will develop or as to the effect, if any, that market sales of shares or the availability of such shares for sale will have on the market price of the Common Stock prevailing from time to time. Future sales of substantial amounts of Common Stock in the public market could adversely affect prevailing market prices.

Upon completion of the Offerings, the Company will have 10,350,000 shares of Class A Common Stock issued and outstanding. This number includes (i) 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be sold in the Offerings and (ii) 1,250,000 shares of Class B Common Stock converted into Class A Common Stock prior to the Offerings and contributed by the Existing Stockholders to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance to employees of NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) as employee stock bonus awards (approximately 600,000 of which will be awarded prior to the Offerings) and excludes (a) 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock converted into Class A Common Stock prior to the Offerings and contributed by the Existing Stockholders to the Company and held by the Company in reserve as treasury shares for issuance upon the exercise of the Distributor Options, (b) 253,000 shares of Class A Common Stock subject to a stock option which has been granted to an executive officer of the Company, and (c) 109,000 shares reserved for issuance by the Company to its employees as employee stock bonus awards. In addition, upon completion of the Offerings and the aforementioned conversions, the Company will have 73,059,500 shares of Class B Common Stock issued and outstanding, each share of which is convertible at any time into one share of Class A Common Stock. The 73,059,500 shares of Class B Common Stock and the 253,000 shares of Class A Common Stock subject to the aforementioned executive option are "restricted" shares within the meaning of Rule 144 under the 1933 Act ("Rule 144"). Restricted shares may not be resold in the public market except in compliance with the registration requirements of the 1933 Act or pursuant to an exemption therefrom, including the exemption provided by Rule 144. The 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be sold in the Offerings, the 1,605,000 shares underlying the Distributor Options and the 1,250,000 and 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock reserved for issuance as employee stock bonus awards have been registered under the 1933 Act and are, accordingly, freely tradeable without restriction or further registration under the 1933 Act, unless held by "affiliates" of the Company, as that term is defined in Rule 144. The shares underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards are, however, subject to certain vesting and resale limitations, as described below.

Prior to the Offerings, the Company anticipates granting stock bonus awards under the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan to certain of its executive officers and employees for 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock. These awards will vest ratably over four years following the date of grant. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions." After such grants, an aggregate of approximately 3,891,000 shares will remain available for future option grants and other equity awards under the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan. See "Management--1996 Stock Incentive Plan." Shares granted or issuable upon exercise of options granted pursuant to the Plan are "restricted" shares within the meaning of Rule 144. The Company intends to file a registration statement on Form S-8 under the 1933 Act to register all of the shares of Class A Common Stock reserved for issuance under the Plan. Such registration statement is expected to be filed as soon as practicable after the date of the Offerings and will become automatically effective upon filing. Shares issued under the Plan after such registration statement is filed may thereafter be sold in the open market, subject to the Rule 144 volume limitations applicable to affiliates and any transfer restrictions imposed on the date of the grant.

Generally, as currently in effect, Rule 144 provides that beginning 90 days after the date of this Prospectus, a person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has beneficially owned "restricted" shares of the Common Stock for at least two years will be entitled to sell on the open market in broker's transactions within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of (i) 1% of the then outstanding shares of the Class A Common Stock (1% is expected to be equal to approximately 103,500 shares immediately following the Offerings) or (ii) the average weekly trading volume in the Class A Common Stock on the open market during the four calendar weeks preceding such sale. Sales under Rule 144, as currently in effect, are also subject to certain notice requirements and the availability of current public information about the Company.

Under the provisions of Rule 144, the Existing Stockholders will be deemed to have acquired beneficial ownership of the shares of Common Stock currently held by them on the date of the issuance of such shares by the Company in the Reorganization. The Commission has recently proposed to reduce the Rule 144 holding periods. If enacted, such modification will have a material effect on the timing of when shares of the Common Stock become eligible for resale.

Upon completion of the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders will hold 73,059,500 shares of the Class B Common Stock (which Class B shares are convertible into Class A shares). See "Risk Factors--Control by Existing Stockholders; Anti-Takeover Effect of Dual Classes of Common Stock." The Existing Stockholders have entered into a stockholders agreement (the "Stockholders Agreement") which restricts the extent to which any Existing Stockholder can dispose of its shares of Common Stock following the Offerings. Among other things, in order to ensure the qualification of the Reorganization under Section 351 of the Code, such stockholders have agreed not to transfer any shares they own for 365 days after the Offerings without the consent of the Company except for the funding of the Distributor Options and the grant of the employee stock bonus awards. After the expiration of the 365-day period, no such stockholder is permitted to transfer in any one-year period a number of shares greater than the lesser of (i) the amount that could be sold under Rule 144 during that period, or (ii) 1.25% of the total Common Stock owned by Existing Stockholders as of the date of the Stockholders Agreement. The Existing Stockholders have been granted registration rights by the Company permitting each of such Existing Stockholders to register his or her shares of Class A Common Stock, subject to certain restrictions, on any registration statement filed by the Company until such Existing Stockholder has sold a specified value of shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

The Company, its directors and officers, and the Existing Stockholders of NSI have agreed or will agree prior to the Offerings not to sell or otherwise dispose of any shares of Common Stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for Common Stock, without the prior consent of Merrill Lynch & Co., for a period of 180 days after the date of this Prospectus, except that the Company and the Existing Stockholders may, without such consent, grant options or issue shares of Common Stock pursuant to certain equity incentives, including, without limitation, the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards. See "Risk Factors--Shares Eligible for Future Sale" and "Underwriting."

DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS AND EMPLOYEE STOCK BONUS AWARDS. Prior to the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders intend to convert 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock to Class A Common Stock and contribute such shares of Class A Common Stock to the Company. The Company intends to grant to NSI the Distributor Options to purchase such shares of Class A Common Stock, and NSI intends to assign these Distributor Options to qualifying distributors of NSI in connection with the Offerings. The vesting of and the right to exercise the Distributor Options are subject to certain conditions, and the Distributor Options are being registered along with the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying such Distributor Options concurrently with the Offerings pursuant to Rule 415 under the 1933 Act.

Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will also convert 1,250,000 shares of Class B Common Stock to Class A Common Stock and contribute such shares to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance in connection with the employee stock bonus awards to be made by NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) to their respective employees (approximately 600,000 of which will be awarded in connection with the Offerings). The shares of Class A Common Stock underlying each such employee stock bonus award will be issued to the employee recipient at a rate of 25% per year commencing one year following the date of the award, provided the employee recipient is still employed by NSI or one of its affiliates (other than the Company). The Company also intends to issue 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to its employees in connection with employee stock bonus awards to be made to the Company's employees on the same terms as described above pursuant to the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan.

The Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards have been registered pursuant to Rule 415 under the 1933 Act. The shares of Class A Common Stock will be issued by the Company upon the exercise of the Distributor Options. The Company will not receive any of the proceeds from the distribution of shares in connection with the employee stock bonus awards. The Company will receive the proceeds from the issuance of shares in connection with the exercise of the Distributor Options. The Distributor Options will be issued with an exercise price of 25% of the initial price per share in the Offerings.

The Company and its affiliates anticipate that the Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards will be qualified in some form pursuant to the securities laws of each jurisdiction in which the Company and its affiliates operate. There can be no assurance, however, that NSI will be able to qualify the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards in each jurisdiction, the timing of such qualification, or that, if qualified, the governmental authorities in such jurisdictions will not suspend such qualifications or require material modifications to the terms of the programs as they are currently contemplated to be implemented. In certain European countries, including France and Spain, only existing executive distributors will be allowed to participate in the Distributor Option program. South Korean officials, for example, have indicated a preliminary willingness to allow NSI to implement the Plan, but have reserved the right to rule on the details of the Plan, including the exercise of the Distributor Options by South Korean residents, until a later date. No assurances can be given as to the timing of any governmental approvals received in connection with the Distributor Options. In addition, there can be no assurance that the laws and relevant regulations and judicial and administrative interpretations in such jurisdictions will not change in a manner that has a material impact on the ability of NSI to adopt or maintain such programs in such jurisdictions.

GENERAL

As of the date of this Prospectus (and after consummation of the Reorganization), the authorized capital stock of the Company consists of 500,000,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, par value $.001 per share and 100,000,000 shares of Class B Common Stock, par value $.001 per share, and 25,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $.001 per share ("Preferred Stock"). Upon completion of the Offerings, the Company will have 10,350,000 shares of Class A Common Stock issued and outstanding. This number includes (i) 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be sold in the Offerings and (ii) 1,250,000 shares of Class B Common Stock converted into Class A Common Stock prior to the Offerings and contributed by the Existing Stockholders to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance to employees of NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) as employee stock bonus awards and excludes (a) 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock converted into Class A Common Stock prior to the Offerings and contributed by the Existing Stockholders to the Company and held by the Company in reserve as treasury shares for issuance upon the exercise of the Distributor Options, (b) 253,000 shares of Class A Common Stock subject to a stock option which has been granted to an executive officer of the Company and (c) 109,000 shares reserved for issuance by the Company to its employees as employee stock bonus awards. In addition, upon completion of the Offerings, the Company will have 73,059,500 shares of Class B Common Stock issued and outstanding, all of which are held of record by the Existing Stockholders. Of the authorized shares of Preferred Stock, no shares of Preferred Stock are outstanding. The following description is a summary and is subject to and qualified in its entirety by reference to the provisions of the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the "Certificate of Incorporation") filed as an exhibit to the Registration Statement of which this Prospectus forms a part.

COMMON STOCK

The shares of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock are identical in all respects, except for voting rights and certain conversion rights and transfer restrictions regarding the shares of the Class B Common Stock, as described below.

VOTING RIGHTS. Each share of Class A Common Stock entitles the holder to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the Company's stockholders and each share of Class B Common Stock entitles the holder to ten votes on each such matter, including the election of directors. There is no cumulative voting. Except as required by applicable law, holders of Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock will vote together on all matters submitted to a vote of the stockholders. With respect to certain corporate changes, such as liquidations, reorganizations, recapitalizations, mergers, consolidations and sales of substantially all of the Company's assets, holders of Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock will vote together as a single class and the approval of 66 2/3% of the outstanding voting power is required to authorize or approve such transactions. See "Risk Factors--Control by Existing Stockholders; Anti-Takeover Effect of Dual Classes of Common Stock" and "-- Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

Any action that can be taken at a meeting of the stockholders may be taken by written consent in lieu of a meeting if the Company receives consents signed by stockholders having the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to approve the action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote on the matter were present. This could permit holders of Class B Common Stock to take all actions required to be taken by the stockholders without providing the other stockholders an opportunity to make nominations or raise other matters at a meeting. The right to take action by less than unanimous written consent expires at such time as there are no shares of Class B Common Stock outstanding.

DIVIDENDS. Holders of Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock are entitled to receive dividends at the same rate if, as and when such dividends are declared by the Board of Directors of the Company out of assets legally available therefor after payment of dividends required to be paid on shares of Preferred Stock, if any.

If a dividend or distribution payable in Class A Common Stock is made on the Class A Common Stock, the Company must also make a pro rata and simultaneous dividend or distribution on the Class B Common Stock payable in shares of Class B Common Stock. Conversely, if a dividend or distribution payable in Class B

Common Stock is made on the Class B Common Stock, the Company must also make a pro rata and simultaneous dividend or distribution on the Class A Common Stock payable in shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Risk Factors--Absence of Dividends" and "Dividend Policy."

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER. If a holder of Class B Common Stock transfers such shares, whether by sale, assignment, gift, bequest, appointment or otherwise, to a person other than a permitted transferee (as defined in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation) such shares will be converted automatically into shares of Class A Common Stock. In the case of a pledge of shares of Class B Common stock to a financial institution, such shares will not be deemed to be transferred unless and until a foreclosure occurs.

CONVERSION. The Class A Common Stock has no conversion rights. The Class B Common Stock is convertible into shares of Class A Common Stock, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the option of the holder, on the basis of one share of Class A Common Stock for each share of Class B Common Stock converted. In the event of a transfer of shares of Class B Common Stock to any person other than a Permitted Transferee each share of Class B Common Stock so transferred automatically will be converted into one share of Class A Common Stock. Each share of Class B Common Stock will also automatically convert into one share of Class A Common Stock if, on the record date for any meeting of the stockholders, the number of shares of Class B Common Stock then outstanding is less than 10% of the aggregate number of shares of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock then outstanding.

LIQUIDATION. In the event of liquidation, after payment of the debts and other liabilities of the Company and after making provision for the holders of Preferred Stock, if any, the remaining assets of the Company will be distributable ratably among holders of Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock treated as a single class.

MERGERS AND OTHER BUSINESS COMBINATIONS. Upon the merger or consolidation of the Company, holders of each class of Common Stock are entitled to receive equal per share payments or distributions, except that in any transaction in which shares of capital stock are distributed, such shares may differ as to voting rights to the extent and only to the extent that the voting rights of the Class A Common Stock and the Class B Common Stock differ at that time. The Company may not dispose of all or any substantial part of the assets of the Company to, or merge or consolidate with, any person, entity or "group" (as defined in Rule 13-d-5 of the 1934 Act), which beneficially owns in the aggregate 10% or more of the outstanding Common Stock of the Company (a "Related Person") without the affirmative vote of the holders, other than such Related Person, of not less that 66 2/3% of the voting power of outstanding Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock voting as a single class. For the sole purpose of determining the 66 2/3% vote, a Related Person will also include the seller or sellers from whom the Related Person acquired, during the preceding six months, at least 5% of the outstanding shares of Class A Common Stock in a single transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to one or more agreements or other arrangements (and not through a brokers' transaction), but only if such seller or sellers have beneficial ownership of shares of Common Stock having a fair market value in excess of $10 million in the aggregate following such disposition to such Related Person. This 66 2/3% voting requirement is not applicable, however, if (i) the proposed transaction is approved by a vote of not less than a majority of the directors of the Company who are neither affiliated nor associated with the Related Person (or the seller of shares to the Related Person as described above) or (ii) in the case of a transaction pursuant to which the holders of Common Stock are entitled to receive cash, property, securities or other consideration, the cash or fair market value of the property, securities or other consideration to be received per share in such transaction is not less than the higher of (A) the highest price per share paid by the Related Person for any of its holdings of Common Stock within the two-year period immediately prior to the announcement of the proposed transaction or (B) the highest closing sale price during the 30-day period immediately preceding such date or during the 30-day period immediately preceding the date on which the Related Person became a Related Person, whichever is higher. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

OTHER PROVISIONS. Holders of the Class A Common Stock and holders of Class B Common Stock are not entitled to preemptive rights. Neither the Class A Common Stock nor the Class B Common Stock may be subdivided or combined in any manner unless the other class is subdivided or combined in the same proportion.

TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR. The Transfer Agent and Registrar for the Class A Common Stock is American Stock Transfer and Trust Company.

LISTING. The Class A Common Stock has been approved for listing on the New York Stock Exchange under the trading symbol "NUS," subject to official notice of issuance.

PREFERRED STOCK

The Board of Directors is authorized, subject to any limitations prescribed by the DGCL or the rules of the New York Stock Exchange or other organizations on whose systems stock of the Company may be quoted or listed, to provide for the issuance of additional shares of Preferred Stock in one or more series, to establish from time to time the number of shares to be included in each such series, to fix the rights, powers, preferences and privileges of the shares of each wholly unissued series and any qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereon, and to increase or decrease the number of shares of such series, without any further vote or action by the stockholders. The approval of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock, however, is required for the issuance of shares of Preferred Stock that have the right to vote for the election of directors under ordinary circumstances or to elect 50% or more of the directors under any circumstances. Depending upon the terms of the Preferred Stock established by the Company's Board of Directors, any or all series of Preferred Stock could have preference over the Common Stock with respect to dividends and other distributions and upon liquidation of the Company or could have voting or conversion rights that could adversely affect the holders of the outstanding Common Stock. In addition, the Preferred Stock could delay, defer or prevent a change of control of the Company. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions.¹ The Company has no present plans to issue any shares of Preferred Stock.

OTHER CHARTER AND BYLAW PROVISIONS

Special meetings of stockholders may be called only by the majority stockholders, the Company's Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary. Except as otherwise required by law, stockholders, in their capacity as such, are not entitled to request or call a special meeting of the stockholders.

Stockholders of the Company are required to provide advance notice of nominations of directors to be made at, and of business proposed to be brought before, a meeting of the stockholders. The failure to deliver proper notice within the periods specified in the Company's Amended and Restated Bylaws (the "Bylaws") will result in the denial of the stockholder of the right to make such nominations or propose such action at the meeting. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

SECTION 203 OF THE DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW

Upon consummation of the Offerings, the Company will be subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the DGCL (the "Anti-Takeover Law") regulating corporate takeovers. The Anti-Takeover Law prevents certain Delaware corporations, including those whose securities are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, from engaging, under certain circumstances, in a "business combination" (which includes a merger of not more than 10% of the corporations' assets) with an "interested stockholder" (a stockholder who, together with affiliates and associates, within the prior three years did own, 15% or more of the corporation's outstanding voting stock) for three years following the date that such stockholder became an "interested stockholder, unless the "business combination" or "interested stockholder" is approved in a prescribed manner. A Delaware corporation may "opt out" of the Anti-Takeover Law with an express provision in its original certificate of incorporation or an express provision in its certificate of incorporation or bylaws resulting from a stockholders' amendment approved by at least a majority of the outstanding voting shares. The Company has not "opted out" of the provisions of the Anti-Takeover Law. See "Risk Factors--Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Charter, Contractual and Statutory Provisions."

INDEMNIFICATION AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

To the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws provide that the Company shall indemnify and advance expenses to each of its directors, officers, employees and agents. The Company believes the foregoing provisions are necessary to attract and retain qualified persons as directors and officers. Prior to the consummation of the Offerings, the Company intends to enter into separate indemnification agreements with each of its directors and executive officers in order to effectuate such provisions. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions." The Company's Certificate of Incorporation also provides for, to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, elimination or limitation of liability of directors for breach of their fiduciary duty to the Company or its stockholders.

REGISTRATION RIGHTS

The Existing Stockholders have been granted registration rights by the Company permitting each of such Existing Stockholders to register his or her shares of Class A Common Stock, subject to certain restrictions, on any registration statement filed by the Company until such Existing Stockholder has sold a specified value of shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

CERTAIN UNITED STATES TAX CONSEQUENCES TO NON-UNITED STATES HOLDERS

The following is a general discussion of certain United States federal income and estate tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of Class A Common Stock by a Non-U.S. Holder. For this purpose, a "Non-U.S. Holder" is any person who is, for United States federal income tax purposes, a foreign corporation, a non-resident alien individual, a foreign partnership or a foreign estate or trust. This discussion does not address all aspects of United States federal income and estate taxes and does not deal with foreign, state and local consequences that may be relevant to such Non-U.S. Holders in light of their personal circumstances. Furthermore, this discussion is based on provisions of the Code, existing and proposed regulations promulgated thereunder and administrative and judicial interpretations thereof, as of the date hereof, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). Each prospective purchaser of Class A Common Stock is advised to consult a tax advisor with respect to current and possible future tax consequences of acquiring, holding and disposing of Class A Common Stock as well as any tax consequences that may arise under the laws of any U.S. state, municipality or other taxing jurisdiction.

An individual may, subject to certain exceptions, be deemed to be a resident alien (as opposed to a non-resident alien) by virtue of being present in the United States on at least 31 days in the calendar year and for an aggregate of at least 183 days during a three-year period ending in the current calendar year (counting for such purposes all of the days present in the current year, one-third of the days present in the immediately preceding year, and one-sixth of the days present in the second preceding year). Resident aliens are subject to U.S. federal tax as if they were U.S. citizens.

DIVIDENDS

Dividends paid to a Non-U.S. Holder of Class A Common Stock generally will be subject to withholding of United States federal income tax either at a rate of 30% of the gross amount of the dividends or at such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty. However, dividends that are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business by the Non-U.S. Holder within the United States and, where a tax treaty applies, are attributable to a United States permanent establishment of the Non-U.S. Holder, are not subject to the withholding tax (provided the Non-U.S. Holder files appropriate documentation, including, under current law, IRS Form 4224, with the payor of the dividend), but instead are subject to United States federal income tax on a net income basis at applicable graduated individual or corporate rates. Any such effectively connected dividends received by a foreign corporation may, under certain circumstances, be subject to an additional "branch profits tax" at a 30% rate or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty.

Under current law, dividends paid to an address outside the United States are presumed to be paid to a resident of such country (unless the payer has knowledge to the contrary) for purposes of the withholding discussed above and for purposes of determining the applicability of a tax treaty rate. However, under proposed Treasury regulations not currently in effect, in the case of dividends paid after December 31, 1997 (December 31, 1999 in the case of dividends paid to accounts in existence on or before the date that is 60 days after the proposed regulations are published as final regulations), a Non-U.S. Holder of Class A Common Stock who wishes to claim the benefit of an applicable treaty rate would be required to satisfy applicable certification and other requirements either directly or through an intermediary. In addition, backup withholding, as discussed below, may apply in certain circumstances if applicable certification and other requirements are not met.

A Non-U.S. Holder of Class A Common Stock eligible for a reduced rate of United States withholding tax pursuant to an income tax treaty may obtain a refund of any excess amounts withheld by filing an appropriate claim for refund with the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS").

GAIN ON DISPOSITION OF COMMON STOCK

A Non-U.S. Holder will generally not be subject to United States federal income tax with respect to gain recognized on a sale or other disposition of Class A Common Stock unless (i) the gain is effectively connected with a trade or business of the Non-U.S. Holder in the United States, and, where a tax treaty applies, is attributable to a United States permanent establishment of the Non-U.S. Holder, (ii) in the case of a Non-U.S.

Holder who is an individual and holds the Class A Common Stock as a capital asset, such holder is present in the United States for 183 or more days in the taxable year of the sale or other disposition and certain other conditions are met, or (iii) the Company is or has been a "U.S. real property holding corporation" for United States federal income tax purposes. The Company believes it is not and does not anticipate becoming a "U.S. real property holding corporation" for United States federal income tax purposes.

If an individual Non-U.S. Holder falls under clause (i) above, he will, unless an applicable treaty provides otherwise, be taxed on his net gain derived from the sale under regular graduated United States federal income tax rates. If an individual Non-U.S. Holder falls under clause (ii) above, he will be subject to a flat 30% tax on the gain derived from the sale, which may be offset by certain United States capital losses.

If a Non-U.S. Holder that is a foreign corporation falls under clause (i) above, it will be taxed on its gain under regular graduated United States federal income tax rates and may be subject to an additional branch profits tax at a 30% rate, unless it qualifies for a lower rate under an applicable income tax treaty.

FEDERAL ESTATE TAX

Class A Common Stock held by an individual Non-U.S. Holder at the time of death will be included in such holder's gross estate for United States federal estate tax purposes, unless an applicable estate tax treaty provides otherwise.

INFORMATION REPORTING AND BACKUP WITHHOLDING TAX

The Company must report annually to the IRS and to each Non-U.S. Holder the amount of dividends paid to such holder and the tax withheld with respect to such dividends, regardless of whether withholding was required. Copies of the information returns reporting such dividends and withholding may also be made available to the tax authorities in the country in which the Non-U.S. Holder resides under the provisions of an applicable income tax treaty.

A backup withholding tax is imposed at the rate of 31% on certain payments to persons that fail to furnish certain identifying information to the payor. Under current law, backup withholding generally will not apply to dividends paid to a Non-U.S. Holder at an address outside the United States (unless the payer has knowledge that the payee is a U.S. person), but generally will apply to dividends paid on Class A Common Stock at addresses inside the United States to Non-U.S. Holders that fail to provide certain identifying information in the manner required. However, under proposed Treasury regulations not currently in effect, in the case of dividends paid after December 31, 1997 (December 31, 1999 in the case of dividends paid to accounts in existence on or before the date that is 60 days after the proposed regulations are published as final regulations), a Non-U.S. Holder generally would be subject to backup withholding at a 31% rate, unless certain certification procedures (or, in the case of payments made outside the United States with respect to an offshore account, certain documentary evidence procedures) are complied with, directly or through an intermediary or a Non-U.S. Holder otherwise establishes an exemption from backup withholding.

Payment of the proceeds of a sale of Class A Common Stock by or through a United States office of a broker is subject to both backup withholding and information reporting unless the beneficial owner provides the payor with its name and address and certifies under penalties of perjury that it is a Non-U.S. Holder, or otherwise establishes an exemption. In general, backup withholding and information reporting will not apply to a payment of the proceeds of a sale of Class A Common Stock by or through a foreign office of a foreign broker. If, however, such broker is, for United States federal income tax purposes a U.S. person, a controlled foreign corporation, or a foreign person that derives 50% or more of its gross income for certain periods from the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, such payments will be subject to information reporting, but not backup withholding, unless (i) such broker has documentary evidence in its records that the beneficial owner is a Non-U.S. Holder and certain other conditions are met, or (ii) the beneficial owner otherwise establishes an exemption.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules generally will be allowed as a refund or a credit against such holder's U.S. federal income tax liability provided the required information is furnished in a timely manner to the IRS.

UNDERWRITING

The U.S. Underwriters named below (the "U.S. Underwriters"), acting through their U.S. representatives, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("Merrill Lynch"), Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. and Nomura Securities International, Inc. (collectively, the "U.S. Representatives"), have severally agreed, subject to the terms and conditions of a U.S. Purchase Agreement (the "U.S. Purchase Agreement") with the Company, the Selling Stockholders and Nu Skin Japan, as guarantor (the "Guarantor"), to purchase from the Company and the Selling Stockholders the number of shares of Class A Common Stock set forth opposite their respective names below.

The Company, the Selling Stockholders and the Guarantor have also entered into an International Purchase Agreement (the "International Purchase Agreement") with certain underwriters outside the United States, Canada and Japan (the "International Managers"), for whom Merrill Lynch International, Morgan Stanley & Co. International Limited, Dean Witter International Ltd. and Nomura International plc are acting as representatives (the "Lead International Managers"). Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the International Purchase Agreement, the Company and the Selling Stockholders have agreed to sell to the International Underwriters, and the International Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase, an aggregate of 1,670,000 shares of Class A Common Stock pursuant to Regulation S under the 1933 Act.

The Company, the Selling Stockholders and the Guarantor have also entered into a Japanese Underwriting Agreement (the "Japanese Underwriting Agreement" and, together with the U.S. Purchase Agreement and the International Purchase Agreement, the "Purchase Agreements") with The Nomura Securities Co., Ltd., Merrill Lynch Japan Incorporated and Morgan Stanley Japan Limited (the "Japanese Underwriters" and, together with the U.S. Underwriters and the International Managers, the "Underwriters"). Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Japanese Underwriting Agreement, the Selling Stockholders have agreed to sell to the Japanese Underwriters, and the Japanese Underwriters have jointly and severally agreed to purchase, an aggregate of 1,670,000 shares of Class A Common Stock pursuant to Regulation S under the 1933 Act.

In each Purchase Agreement, the Underwriters named therein have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such Purchase Agreement, to purchase all of the shares of Class A Common Stock being sold pursuant to such Purchase Agreement if any of the shares of Class A Common Stock being sold pursuant to such Purchase Agreement are purchased. Under certain circumstances, under the U.S. or International Purchase Agreements, the commitments of non-defaulting Underwriters may be increased. Each Purchase Agreement provides that the Company and the Selling Stockholders are not obligated to sell, and the U.S. Underwriters, International Managers and Japanese Underwriters are not obligated to purchase, the shares of Class A Common Stock under the terms of each Purchase Agreement unless the shares of Class A Common Stock to be sold pursuant to the Purchase Agreements are contemporaneously sold. The initial public offering price per share and the total underwriting discount per share are identical under the U.S. Purchase Agreement, the International Purchase Agreement and the Japanese Underwriting Agreement.

All of the shares to be offered in connection with the Offerings have been registered under the 1933 Act. With regards to the Japanese Offering, a filing of a securities registration statement and amendments thereto under the Securities and Exchange Laws of Japan has also been made with the Minister of Finance of Japan. The Japanese Underwriters have agreed that the Japanese Offering will be a public offering without listing in Japan and will be governed by Japanese laws and regulations.

The Company has been informed that the U.S. Underwriters, the International Managers and the Japanese Underwriters have entered into an Intersyndicate Agreement dated the date hereof (the "Intersyndicate Agreement") which provides for the coordination of their activities. Under the terms of the Intersyndicate Agreement, the U.S. Underwriters, the International Managers and the Japanese Underwriters are permitted to sell shares of Class A Common Stock to each other.

The Company has been informed that, under the terms of the Intersyndicate Agreement (i) the U.S. Underwriters and any dealer to whom they sell shares of Class A Common Stock will not offer to sell or resell shares of Class A Common Stock to persons who are non-U.S. or non-Canadian persons or to persons they believe intend to resell to persons who are non-U.S. or non-Canadian persons, (ii) the International Managers and any dealer to whom they sell shares of Class A Common Stock will not offer to sell or resell shares of Class A Common Stock to U.S., Canadian or Japanese persons, or to persons they believe intend to resell to persons who are U.S., Canadian or Japanese persons, and (iii) the Japanese Underwriters and any sub-underwriter to whom they sell shares of Class A Common Stock will not offer to sell or resell shares of Class A Common Stock to non-Japanese persons, or to persons they believe intend to resell to persons who are non-Japanese persons, except in each case for transactions pursuant to the Intersyndicate Agreement, which, among other things, permits the Underwriters to purchase from each other and offer for resale such number of shares of Class A Common Stock as the selling Underwriter or Underwriters and the purchasing Underwriter or Underwriters may agree. As used in this section, "United States Person" shall mean any person who is a "United States Person," as such term is defined in Regulation S ("Regulation S") under the 1933 Act, which includes (i) any natural person resident in the United States, (ii) any estate or trust of which any executor, administrator or trustee is a United States Person, with certain exceptions relating to estates governed by foreign law and trusts of which no beneficiary is a United States Person, (iii) any agency or branch of a foreign entity located in the United States, (iv) any non-discretionary account (other than an estate or trust) held by a dealer or other fiduciary for the benefit or account of a United States Person, (v) any discretionary account incorporated in the United States, with certain exceptions relating to accounts held for the benefit or account of non-United States Persons and (vi) any corporation or partnership incorporated or organized under the laws of any foreign jurisdiction by a United States Person principally for the purpose of investing in securities not registered under the 1933 Act, unless it is organized or incorporated, and owned, by accredited investors (as defined in Rule 501(a) under the 1933 Act) who are not natural persons, estates or trusts. In accordance with Regulation S, "United States Person" as used herein does not include (i) any agency or branch of a United States Person located outside of the United States that is engaged in the business of banking or insurance and is subject to substantive banking or insurance regulation in the jurisdiction where located or (ii) any employee benefit plan established and administered in accordance with the law and customary practice of a country other than the United States. "Japanese Person" or "Canadian Person" shall mean, respectively, any individual who is resident in Japan or Canada or any corporation, pension, profit-sharing or other trust or entity organized under or governed by the laws of Japan or Canada or any political subdivision thereof (other than a foreign branch or office of any Japanese or Canadian Corporation), and shall include, respectively, any Japanese or Canadian branch or office of a person other than a Japanese or Canadian Person. "United States" shall mean the United States of America, its territories, its possessions and all areas subject to its jurisdiction. "Canada" shall mean the provinces of Canada, its territories, its possessions and all areas subject to its jurisdiction. Japan shall mean the country of Japan, its territories, its possessions and all areas subject to its jurisdiction.

The Selling Stockholders have granted the U.S. Underwriters and the International Managers (on a pro rata basis in accordance with the number of shares sold by each such Selling Stockholder in the Offerings) options exercisable for 30 days after the date of this Prospectus to purchase up to 1,058,342 and 306,658 additional shares of Class A Common Stock, respectively, to cover over-allotments, if any, at the initial public offering price, less the underwriting discount. To the extent that the U.S. Underwriters and International Managers exercise such options, each of the U.S. Underwriters and International Managers will have a firm commitment, subject to certain conditions, to purchase approximately the same percentage of the option shares that the number of shares to be purchased initially by that Underwriter is of the number of shares of Common Stock initially purchased by the U.S. Underwriters and International Managers. No over-allotment option has been granted under the Japanese Underwriting Agreement.

The U.S. Representatives have advised the Company and the Selling Stockholders that the U.S. Underwriters propose to offer the shares of Class A Common Stock to the public initially at the public offering price set forth on the cover page of this Prospectus, and to certain dealers at such price less a concession not in excess of $ per share. The U.S. Underwriters may allow, and such dealers may reallow, a discount not in excess of $ per share on sales to certain other dealers. After the initial public offering of the Class A Common Stock, the public offering price, concession and discount may be changed.

The Company and the Selling Stockholders have agreed to indemnify the U.S. Underwriters, the Japanese Underwriters and the International Managers against certain liabilities which may be incurred in connection with the offering of the Class A Common Stock and the exercise of the over-allotment options, including liabilities under the 1933 Act and other applicable securities laws. In addition, the Company has agreed to reimburse the Japanese Underwriters for certain out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the Japanese Offering.

Without the consent of Merrill Lynch, the Company, its executive officers and directors and the Existing Stockholders have agreed that they will not, for a period of 180 days following the date of this Prospectus, directly or indirectly, offer to sell, grant any option for the sale of, or otherwise dispose of, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any such shares. The foregoing agreements are subject to certain exceptions, including the contribution of shares of Class A Common Stock to the Company and NSI for use in connection with the granting of the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

The Class A Common Stock has been approved for listing on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "NUS." In order to meet the requirements for listing of the Class A Common Stock on the NYSE subject to official notice of issuance, the U.S. Underwriters have undertaken to sell lots of 100 or more shares to a minimum of 2,000 beneficial owners. The shares of Class A Common Stock sold in the Offerings will not be listed on any stock exchange in Japan and will not be registered with the Japan Securities Dealers Association as shares to be traded in the Japanese over-the-counter market. Therefore, there will be no public market in Japan for the trading of such shares. Under the Securities and Exchange Law of Japan, if the offer of shares of Class A Common Stock is made to 50 or more persons in Japan on uniform terms and conditions and the aggregate offering price is (Yen)500 million or more, such offer will be subject to regulations applicable to secondary public offerings, the primary requirements of which are the filing of a notification with the MOF and the distribution of a prospectus.

At the request of the Company, the U.S. Underwriters and the International Managers have reserved up to 910,000 shares of Class A Common Stock for sale at the public offering price to certain employees of NSI and the Company and to certain distributors of NSI and the Company, who have expressed an interest in purchasing such shares. The number of shares available to the general public will be reduced to the extent these persons purchase the reserved shares. Any reserved shares that are not so purchased by such employees or distributors at the closing of the Offerings will be offered by the U.S. Underwriters and the International Underwriters to the general public on the same terms as the other shares offered hereby. Certain of the reserved shares will be sold directly by the Company in the Offerings and to the extent such shares are so sold the underwriting discount set forth on the cover of this Prospectus will be accordingly reduced.

In order to comply with local securities laws in certain jurisdictions outside the United States, sales to certain employees and distributors will be made directly by the Company rather than through the Underwriters. In addition, all shares sold to employees and distributors outside the United States will be shares offered by the Company, rather than by the Selling Stockholders. Prior to the Offerings, there has been no established trading market for the shares of Class A Common Stock. The initial public offering price for the Class A Common Stock offered hereby has been determined by negotiation among the Company, the Selling Stockholders and the Underwriters. Among the factors considered in making such determination were the history of and the prospects for the industry in which the Company competes, an assessment of the Company's management, the past and present operations of the Company, the historical results of operations of the Company and the trend of its revenues and earnings, the prospects for future earnings of the Company, the general condition of the securities markets at the time of the Offerings, the prices of similar securities of generally comparable companies and other relevant factors. There can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop for the Class A Common Stock or that the Offerings at or above the initial public offering price.

The U.S. Representatives have informed the Company that the U.S. Underwriters do not intend to confirm sales of Class A Common Stock offered hereby to any accounts over which they exercise discretionary authority.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of income, of stockholders' equity and of cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. at December 31, 1994 and 1995, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years ended September 30, 1993 and 1994, the three months ended December 31, 1994, and the year ended December 31, 1995, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. --Hong Kong Branch for the year ended September 30, 1993, which statements reflect 17% of revenue for the year then ended. Those statements were audited by other independent accountants whose report dated April 14, 1994 (except for Notes 2 and 8, as to which the date is August 30, 1996) expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements. Our opinion, as it relates to data of Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. for the year ended September 30, 1993, is based solely on the report of other independent accountants. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for the opinion expressed above.

Price Waterhouse LLP Salt Lake City, Utah September 10, 1996

Board of Directors Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. -Hong Kong Branch as of September 30, 1993, and the related statements of earnings, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of the branch. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. -Hong Kong Branch as of September 30, 1993, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. THE COMPANY

Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. (the "Company") is a network marketing company involved in the distribution of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products in Asia. The Company is the exclusive distribution vehicle for Nu Skin International, Inc. ("NSI") through the Company's subsidiaries in the countries of Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong (including Macau) and South Korea (collectively referred to as the "Subsidiaries"). Additionally, the Company sells products to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand. NSI was founded in 1984 and is one of the largest network marketing companies in the world. NSI owns the Nu Skin trademark and provides the products and marketing materials to each of its affiliates. Nu Skin Management Group, Inc. ("NSIMG"), an NSI affiliate, has provided, and will continue to provide, a high level of support services to the Company, including product development, marketing, legal, accounting and other managerial services. The operations of the Company, of NSI, of NSIMG and of other NSI affiliates are conducted by a variety of individual entities that are under the control of a group of common stockholders.

Inasmuch as the Subsidiaries are under common control, and in accordance with the planned reorganization discussed in Note 11, the Subsidiaries' historical balance sheets and related statements of income, of stockholders' equity and of cash flows are combined and presented as a single entity after elimination of intercompany transactions.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

CHANGE IN FISCAL YEAR

In October 1994, the Company's Board of Directors approved a change in the Company's fiscal year end from September 30 to December 31. The change became effective as of September 30, 1994.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles required management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for product returns, obsolete inventory and taxes. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

Cash equivalents are short-term, highly liquid instruments with original maturities of 90 days or less.

INVENTORIES

Inventories consist of merchandise purchased for resale and are stated at the lower of cost using the first-in, first-out method or market.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Furniture and fixtures...... 5 - 7 years
Computers and equipment..... 3 - 5 years
Leasehold improvements...... Shorter of estimated useful life or lease term Vehicles...... 3 - 5 years
```

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred.

OTHER ASSETS

Other assets consist primarily of deposits for noncancelable operating leases.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is recognized when products are shipped and title passes to independent distributors who are the Company's customers. A reserve for product returns is accrued based on historical experience. The Company generally requires cash payment at the point of sale. The Company has determined that no allowance for doubtful accounts is necessary. Amounts received prior to shipment to distributors are recorded as deferred revenue.

INCOME TAXES

Effective October 1, 1993, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 ("SFAS 109"), "Accounting for Income Taxes". Under SFAS 109, the liability method is used in accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the differences between financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities and are measured using the enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse.

The Company elected to be taxed as an S corporation whereby the U.S. Federal and state income tax effects of the Company's activities accrue directly to its stockholders. The cumulative affect of adopting SFAS No. 109 as of October 1, 1993 was not material to the Company's operations.

FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

All business operations of the Company occur outside of the United States. Each Subsidiary's local currency is considered the functional currency. Since a substantial portion of the Company's inventories are purchased with U.S. dollars from the United States and since the Company is incorporated in the United States, its reporting currency is the U.S. dollar, and assets and liabilities are translated into U.S. dollars at exchange rates existing at the balance sheet dates. Revenues and expenses are translated at average exchange rates and stockholders' equity is recorded at historical exchange rates. The resulting foreign currency translation adjustments are recorded as a separate component of stockholders' equity in the combined balance sheets, and transaction gains and losses are included in other income in the combined statements of income.

INDUSTRY SEGMENT AND GEOGRAPHIC AREA

The Company operates in a single industry, which is the direct selling of personal care and nutritional products, and in a single geographic area, which is the Asia Pacific Region.

FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The fair value of financial instruments including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, related parties receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and related parties payable approximate their recorded values.

PRO FORMA AMOUNTS

The pro forma amounts reflect the Company's planned reorganization of the capital structure, the declaration of S Distribution Notes of $81.9 million in connection with the Company's conversion from an S corporation to a C corporation prior to the Company's planned public offerings and the recognition of a deferred tax asset of $5.8 million relating to adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C corporation rather than an S corporation since inception.

PRO FORMA NET INCOME PER SHARE

Pro forma net income per share is computed based on the weighted average number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding after the Reorganization and is adjusted for the number of shares (4,284,000) to be issued as if $81.9 million of the proceeds from the Company's planned public offerings were used to pay S Distribution Notes (assuming net proceeds of $19.11 per share). Supplemental pro forma income per share, calculated as if $25.0 million of the proceeds from the Company's planned public offerings were used to repay notes payable, have not been presented as they do not differ materially from pro forma net income per share.

INTERIM RESULTS (UNAUDITED)

The accompanying balance sheet as of September 30, 1996, the statement of stockholders' equity for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and the statements of income and of cash flows for the three months ended December 31, 1993 and the nine months ended September 30, 1995 and 1996 are unaudited. In the opinion of management, these statements have been prepared on the same basis as the audited financial statements and include all normal recurring adjustments necessary for the fair statement of the results of interim periods. The data disclosed in these notes to the combined financial statements at such dates or for such periods are also unaudited.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

SCOPE OF RELATED PARTY ACTIVITY

The Company has extensive and pervasive transactions with affiliated entities that are under the control of a group of common stockholders. These transactions are as follows: (1) The Company purchases virtually all of its products from NSI through Nu Skin Hong Kong under the terms of the Regional Distribution Agreement. The Company's purchase prices for NSI products and commercial materials are governed by a price schedule which is subject to negotiation between the Company and NSI. (2) The Company sells NSI products to each of its Subsidiaries and to NSI affiliates in Australia and New Zealand through Nu Skin Hong Kong under the terms of the Wholesale Distribution Agreements. (3) The Company pays a royalty to NSI for use of licensed trademarks and trade names on products and commercial materials not purchased from NSI, including products and commercial materials manufactured or locally sourced by each of the Subsidiaries under the terms of the Trademark/Tradename License Agreements. (4) Distributor agreements are entered into between the distributor and NSI rather than the Company. The Company pays license fees to NSI for the right to use NSI's distributor lists, the distribution system and other intangibles in the countries in which the Company maintains exclusive distribution rights under the terms of the Licensing and Sales Agreements. (5) The Company has agreed to incur a commission fee of 42% of commissionable product sales (with the exception of South Korea, where, due to government regulations, the Company satisfies this obligation by using a formula based upon a maximum payout of 35% of commissionable product sales) to fulfill NSI's obligation under the Global Compensation Plan as outlined in the Licensing and Sales Agreements. Such payment is compensation to NSI for the commissions which become payable by NSI to the independent distributors upon the Company's sales of product and covers the costs of such commissions and the administration of the Global Compensation Plan. The Company satisfies this liability by paying directly the commissions owed to distributors resident in the countries in which it operates and settling the difference with NSI. (6) The Company pays fees to NSIMG for management and support services under the terms of the Management Services Agreement. The Company's management believes that the fees charged by NSI and NSIMG are reasonable and would not have been materially different had the Company operated as a stand-alone entity during the periods presented. In the event NSI and NSIMG are unable or unwilling to perform their obligations under certain of the above agreements, or terminate these agreements as provided therein, the Company's business and results of operations will be adversely affected.

Total commission fees (including those paid directly to distributors within the Company's geographic territory) are recorded as distributor incentives in the combined statements of income. Trademark royalty fees, license fees and management fees are included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the combined statements of income.

RELATED PARTIES RECEIVABLE AND PAYABLE BALANCES

The Company has receivable and payable balances with affiliates in Australia and New Zealand, and with NSI and NSIMG. Related parties balances outstanding greater than 60 days bear interest at prime plus 2%. Since no significant balances have been outstanding greater than 60 days, no related parties interest income or interest expense has been recorded in the combined financial statements. Sales to related parties were $7,426,000 and $2,288,000 for the years ended September 30, 1993 and 1994, respectively, $855,000 for the three months ended December 31, 1994, $4,608,000 for the year ended December 31, 1995 and $3,404,000 (unaudited) for the nine months ended September 30, 1996.

Related parties receivable includes $15,746,000 due from NSI at December 31, 1994 for excess payments made during 1994 relating to overpayments on inventory purchased from NSI during 1994. This balance was settled by amounts due for shipments of inventory from NSI during 1995. The Company has determined that no allowance is necessary for amounts due from related parties.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS WITH STOCKHOLDER DISTRIBUTORS

Two major stockholders of the Company have been NSI distributors since 1984. These stockholders are partners in an entity which receives substantial commissions from NSI, including commissions relating to sales within the countries in which the Company operates. By agreement, NSI pays commissions to this partnership at the highest level of distributor compensation to allow the stockholders to use their expertise and reputations in network marketing to further develop NSI's distributor force, rather than focusing solely on their own distributor organizations. The commissions paid to this partnership relating to sales within the countries in which the Company operates were $1,100,000 and $1,100,000 for the years ended September 30, 1993 and 1994, respectively, $270,000 for the three months ended December 31, 1994, $1,100,000 for the year ended December 31, 1995 and $1,200,000 (unaudited) for the nine months ended September 30, 1996.

9. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Subsidiaries enter into significant transactions with each other, NSI and third parties which may not be denominated in the respective entity's functional currency. The Company reduces its exposure to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates by creating offsetting positions through the use of foreign currency exchange contracts. The Company currently does not use such financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. The Company regularly monitors its foreign currency risks and periodically takes measures to reduce the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations on the Company's operating results.

At December 31, 1994 and 1995, and September 30, 1996, the Company held foreign currency forward contracts with amounts totaling $-0-, $1,000,000 and $13,150,000 (unaudited), respectively, to hedge certain foreign currency risks. These contracts all have maturities prior to December 31, 1996. At December 31, 1995 and September 30, 1996 and for the periods then ended, there were no significant unrealized gains or losses on these contracts.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company is subject to governmental regulations pertaining to product formulation, labeling and packaging, product claims and advertising and to the Company's direct selling system. The Company is also subject to the jurisdiction of numerous foreign tax authorities. These tax authorities regulate and restrict various corporate transactions, including intercompany transfers. The Company believes that the tax authorities in Japan and South Korea are particularly active in challenging the tax structures and intercompany transfers of foreign corporations. Any assertions or determination that either the Company, NSI or any of NSI's distributors is not in compliance with existing statutes, laws, rules or regulations could potentially have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations. In addition, in any country or jurisdiction, the adoption of new statutes, laws, rules or regulations or changes in the interpretation of existing statutes, laws, rules or regulations could have a material adverse effect on the Company and its operations. Although management believes that the Company is in compliance, in all material respects, with the statutes, laws, rules and regulations of every jurisdiction in which it operates, no assurance can be given that the Company's compliance with applicable statutes, laws, rules and regulations will not be challenged by foreign authorities or that such challenges will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations or cash flows.

11. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

PLANNED REORGANIZATION

Prior to or concurrently with the initial public offerings, the stockholders of the Subsidiaries will effectuate a tax-free reorganization whereby the stockholders will contribute their shares of capital stock to the Company in exchange for shares of the Company's Class B Common Stock intended to qualify as a tax free transfer under Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Reorganization"). The Reorganization will result in each of the Subsidiaries becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. Prior to the Reorganization, each Subsidiary elected to be treated as an S corporation. As part of the Reorganization, each Subsidiary will terminate its S corporation status.

Inasmuch as the separate entities that will be reorganized to constitute the Company are under common control, the Reorganization will be accounted for in a manner similar to a pooling of interests. Accordingly, the individual Subsidiaries' historical balance sheets and related statements of income, of stockholders' equity and of cashflows are combined and presented as a single entity after elimination of intercompany transactions. The unaudited pro forma statements included elsewhere in this registration statement reflect the Reorganization and related accounting treatment. To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. at September 6, 1996, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit of this statement in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the balance sheet is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the balance sheet, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall balance sheet presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for the opinion expressed above.

NOTES TO BALANCE SHEET

AS OF SEPTEMBER 6, 1996

NOTE 1--DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. (the "Company") is a network marketing company involved in the marketing, distribution and sale of premium quality, innovative personal care and nutritional products. The Company is the exclusive distribution vehicle of products produced by Nu Skin International, Inc. ("NSI") in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and South Korea, where the Company currently has operations, and in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the People's Republic of China, Singapore and Vietnam, where operations have not commenced. The Company belongs to a group of affiliated entities that are under the control of a group of common stockholders (the "Nu Skin Group"). The Nu Skin Group's affiliates include various entities that have exclusive Nu Skin marketing rights, distribution rights and trademark licenses in each of the markets in which the Company operates.

The Company was organized in September 1996 as a holding company in anticipation of a tax-free reorganization of the distribution and marketing entities operating in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and South Korea (collectively referred to as the "Subsidiaries"). The Reorganization will be undertaken in anticipation of the initial public offerings (the "Offerings").

The balance sheet should be read in conjunction with the historical Combined Financial Statements of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. included elsewhere in this registration statement.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of the balance sheet in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles required management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of certain assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the balance sheet. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Management believes that the estimates are reasonable.

INCOME TAXES

Income taxes are computed using the asset and liability method. Under the asset and liability method, deferred income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the financial and tax bases of assets and liabilities and are measured using the currently enacted tax rates and laws in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes.

STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

The Company will adopt Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (SFAS 123), Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. SFAS 123 becomes effective during 1996. The Company will measure compensation expense for its stock-based employee compensation plans using the intrinsic value method prescribed by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25 ("APB 25"), Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and will provide pro forma disclosures of net income and net income per share as if the fair value-based method prescribed by SFAS 123 had been applied in measuring compensation expense.

NOTE 2--DEFERRED OFFERING COSTS

The Company has incurred costs totaling $1,676,000, as of September 6, 1996, in connection with the Offerings. These costs have been reflected as deferred offering costs in the accompanying balance sheet as of September 6, 1996. If the Offerings are successful, the costs will be deducted from the proceeds received from the Offerings. If the Offerings are not successful, the costs will be charged to expense in the period in which a decision is made to terminate the Offerings. In such event, the costs would be paid by NSI.

AS OF SEPTEMBER 6, 1996

NOTE 3--CAPITAL STOCK

The Company's capital stock consists of Preferred Stock, Class A Common Stock, and Class B Common Stock. The shares of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock are identical in all respects, except for voting rights and certain conversion rights and transfer restrictions, as follows: (1) each share of Class A Common Stock entitles the holder to one vote on matters submitted to a vote of the Company's stockholders and each share of Class B Common Stock entitles the holder to ten votes on each such matter; (2) stock dividends of Class A Common Stock may be paid only to holders of Class A Common Stock and stock dividends of Class B Common Stock may be paid only to holders of Class B Common Stock; (3) if a holder of Class B Common Stock transfers such shares to a person other than a permitted transferee, as defined in the Company's' Certificate of Incorporation, such shares will be converted automatically into shares of Class A Common Stock; and (4) Class A Common Stock has no conversion rights; however, each share of Class B Common Stock is convertible into one share of Class A Common Stock, in whole or in part, at any time at the option of the holder.

STOCKHOLDER CONTROL

Subsequent to the Offerings, a group of common stockholders (the "Existing Stockholders") will own all of the outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock, which will represent approximately 99% of the combined voting rights of all outstanding Common Stock. Accordingly, the Existing Stockholders, acting as a group, will control the election of the entire Board of Directors and decisions with respect to the Company's dividend policy, the Company's access to capital, mergers or other business combinations involving the Company, the acquisition or disposition of assets by the Company and any change in control of the Company.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS WITH STOCKHOLDERS

Prior to or concurrent with the Offerings of the Company's shares, all of the Company's current stockholders will enter into a Stockholders' Agreement with the Company which will contain certain limitations on the transfer of shares of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock. Additionally, each Existing Stockholder who is a party to the Stockholders' Agreement will grant the other parties (subject to certain exceptions) a right of first offer to purchase a pro rata (based on ownership percentages) portion of shares to be offered as well as any shares not purchased by the other parties.

DIVIDEND REPATRIATION

The Company will conduct all of its operations through the Subsidiaries. Accordingly, an important source of the Company's income will be dividends and other distributions from the Subsidiaries. The Company's ability to obtain dividends or other distributions is subject to, among other things, restrictions on dividends under applicable local statutes, laws, rules and regulations, and foreign currency exchange regulations of the countries in which the Subsidiaries operate. The Subsidiaries' ability to pay dividends or make other distributions to the Company is also subject to the Subsidiaries having sufficient funds from their operations which are legally available for the payment of such dividends or distributions and which are not required to fund future operations. Because the Company will be a stockholder of each of the Subsidiaries, the Company's claims will generally rank junior to all other creditors. Therefore, in the event of an entity's liquidation, there may not be assets sufficient for the Company to recoup its investment in such entity.

NOTE 4--EQUITY INCENTIVE PLANS (UNAUDITED)

The Company has reserved 4,000,000 of the outstanding shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock just prior to the Offerings for issuance as equity incentives to employees and other eligible participants under the Company's 1996 Stock Incentive Plan. The Company will account for employee equity incentives in accordance with APB 25.

AS OF SEPTEMBER 6, 1996

Prior to the Offerings, certain existing stockholders of the Company (the "Selling Stockholders") intend to contribute to the Company an aggregate of up to 1,605,000 of the outstanding shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock on the date of such contribution. The Company intends to grant to NSI options to purchase such shares of Common Stock, and NSI intends to assign these options (the "Distributor Options") to qualifying distributors of NSI in connection with the Offerings. The Distributor Options will vest subject to certain conditions related to distributor performance on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor incentive expense for the Distributor Options, calculated in accordance with SFAS 123.

In addition, prior to the Offerings, the Selling Stockholders will contribute to NSI and other members of the Nu Skin Group, shares equal to an aggregate of up to 1,250,000 of the outstanding shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock on the date of such contribution for issuance to employees of NSI and employees of other members of the Nu Skin Group as part of an employee equity incentive plan. Equity incentives granted or awarded under this plan will vest over the four year period following the grant or award date. Compensation expense related to equity incentives granted to employees of NSI and other members of the Nu Skin Group will be recorded by the entity that benefits from the employee's services.

In addition, in January 1994, NSI agreed to grant one of the Company's executives an option to purchase 267,500 of the Company's Class A Common Stock, to become exercisable upon the Reorganization. The exercise price of this option was set at the estimated fair market value of this equity interest in January 1994.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET AND STATEMENTS OF INCOME

NOTE 1--BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Prior to or concurrently with the initial public offerings (the "Offerings"), the stockholders of Nu Skin Japan Company, Limited, Nu Skin Taiwan, Inc., Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc. and Nu Skin Korea, Inc. (the "Subsidiaries") will contribute their shares of capital stock to the capital of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. (the "Company") in a reorganization which is a transaction intended to qualify under Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as a tax free transfer in exchange for shares of the Company's Class B Common Stock (the "Reorganization"). The Reorganization will result in each of the Subsidiaries becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. Prior to the Reorganization, each of the Subsidiaries elected to be taxed as an S corporation whereby the income tax effects of the Company's activities accrued directly to the stockholders.

Inasmuch as the Subsidiaries that will be reorganized are under common control, the Reorganization will be accounted for in a manner similar to a pooling of interests. Accordingly, the historical balance sheets and related statements of income, of stockholders' equity and of cash flows are combined and presented as a single entity after elimination of intercompany transactions.

The unaudited pro forma financial data reflect the Reorganization and the Offerings as if all conditions to these transactions had been completed as of September 30, 1996 for pro forma combined balance sheet data purposes and as of January 1, 1995 for pro forma combined statement of income data purposes. These data do not necessarily reflect the results of operations or financial position of the Company that would have resulted had such transactions actually been consummated as of such dates. Also, these data are not necessarily indicative of the future results of operations of future financial position of the Company.

NOTE 2--PRO FORMA ADJUSTMENTS

The pro forma adjustments reflect the following:

a) Reflects the contribution by the existing stockholders of their interest in the Subsidiaries in exchange for all shares of the Class B Common Stock. As a result, the Company will become the parent company and the Subsidiaries will become wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company. No shares of Class A Common Stock will be issued in connection with the Reorganization.

b) Reflects the recognition of a deferred tax asset of 5.8 million relating to adjustments for U.S. Federal and state income taxes as if the Company had been taxed as a C Corporation rather than an S Corporation since inception.

c) Reflects incremental costs of $4.4 million per year related to operating a public company. These costs include additional infrastructure, operating and accounting systems, and business processes as well as the additional outside services inherent in supporting a public entity.

d) Reflects the distribution of $81.9 million of notes (the "S Distribution Notes") to the existing stockholders of the Company in respect of the earned and undistributed taxable S corporation earnings at September 30, 1996 that would have been distributed had the Subsidiaries' S corporation status been terminated on September 30, 1996.

The adjustments reflect the distribution and the related issuance of promissory notes. The Company estimates that, at the Offerings, it will reserve between $60.0 million and $70.0 million of cash on hand for repayment of the S Distribution Notes. The balance of the S Distribution Notes will be repaid from cash generated by operations.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA

CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET AND STATEMENTS OF INCOME--(CONTINUED) e) Reflects the increase in interest expense for the promissory notes issued in connection with the distribution to the stockholders of the undistributed S corporation earnings, net of a $15.0 million payment of such notes from the proceeds of the Offerings. The promissory notes will bear interest at 8% per annum and are due and payable within six months from the date of issuance.

OFFERING

f) Reflects an estimated $10.0 million note receivable in connection with the sale of an option to purchase 481,500 shares of Class A Common Stock to NSI. The pro forma statements of income do not reflect the estimated compensation expense of $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of stock options at 25% of the initial public offering price to independent distributors (non-employees) of the Company immediately prior to the Offerings. These options will include conditions related to the achievement of performance goals and will vest on December 31, 1997. The Company will record distributor stock incentive expense for these non-employee stock options.

g) Reflects the net proceeds to the Company from the Offerings of $90,765,000 less a $15.0 million payment of short term notes to the stockholders, the $25.0 million purchase from NSI of the exclusive rights to distribute products in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, the People's Republic of China, Singapore and Vietnam, which purchase consists of $20.0 million in notes payable to NSI and a $5.0 million payment to NSI, and the related adjustments to stockholders' equity. Also, reflects the conversion of 7,190,500 shares of Class B Common Stock into Class A Common Stock and the sale by the Company of 4,750,000 shares of Class A Common Stock. 1,605,000 of the converted shares will be held by the Company and reserved for issuance upon exercise of the distributor options. Also reflects 14,500 shares of Class A Common Stock that will be issued immediately following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings upon exercise of options by an executive officer of the Company and which shares will be sold in the Offerings.

h) The pro forma statements of income reflect the amortization for the distribution rights acquired from NSI. Amortization will be recorded on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of twenty years. Also reflects estimated annual compensation expense of $1.2 million related to the employee stock bonus awards granted to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates. The pro forma balance sheet reflects estimated deferred compensation and additional paid-in capital of $25.9 million, $4.8 million of which represents the estimated to employees of the Company, NSI and its affiliates which will be amortized over a period of four years, and $21.1 million in connection with the one-time grant of stock options at 25% of the initial public offering price to independent distributors of the Company immediately prior to the Offerings which will be amortized over a period of approximately one year.

i) Reflects interest expense for the $20.0 million in notes payable to NSI issued in connection with the purchase of exclusive distribution rights in certain Asian countries. The notes will bear interest at 8% per annum and are due and payable within 14 months from the date of issuance. Also reflects interest income for the estimated $10.0 million note receivable from NSI issued in connection with the sale of an option to purchase 481,500 shares of Class A Common Stock. The note will bear interest at 8% per annum and is due and payable ten years from the date of issuance.

j) Reflects tax effect of pro forma adjustments on earnings.

NOTE 3--DEFERRED OFFERING COSTS

The Company has incurred costs totaling $1,676,000 as of September 6, 1996 in connection with the Offerings of the Class A Common Stock. These costs have been reflected as deferred offering costs in the

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA

CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET AND STATEMENTS OF INCOME--(CONTINUED) accompanying pro forma balance sheet as of September 30, 1996. If the Offerings are successful, the costs will be deducted from the proceeds received from the Offerings. If the Offerings are not successful, the costs will be charged to expense in the period in which a decision is made to terminate the Offerings. In such event, the costs would be paid by NSI.

NOTE 4--PRO FORMA NET INCOME PER SHARE

For the Reorganization, pro forma per share data is computed based on 80,250,000 (includes 1,605,000 shares and 1,250,000 shares of Common Stock reserved for distributor options and employee stock bonus awards, respectively) shares of Common Stock outstanding and Common Stock equivalents after giving effect to the Reorganization and an option granted to an executive officer of the Company to purchase 267,500 shares of Common Stock (14,500 of which will be issued upon partial exercise of such options following the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings and sold in connection with the Offerings). For the Offerings, shares of Common Stock outstanding and Common Stock equivalents are increased by the sale of 4,750,000 shares of Common Stock assuming an offering price of $21 per share and by the award of 109,000 shares of Common Stock to employees of the Company. Supplemental income per share, calculated as if $25.0 million of the proceeds from the Offerings were used to pay down a note payable, had a dilutive effect of less than 2%, and therefore, is not presented.

PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUS DATED NOVEMBER 19, 1996

PROSPECTUS

2,964,000 SHARES OF CLASS A COMMON STOCK [Logo]

This Prospectus relates to the offering by Nu Skin International, Inc. ("NSI"), an affiliate of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. (the "Company"), of options (the "Distributor Options") to purchase 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, the offering by the Company of 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be issued upon the exercise of the Distributor Options, the offering by the Company to its employees of 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock in connection with the awarding of employee stock bonus awards, and the offering by NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) (the "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders") of 1,250,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to their employees as employee stock bonus awards. The offering of the Distributor Options, the underlying shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards are collectively referred to as the "Rule 415 Offerings." See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders" and "Plan of Distribution". The Company will not receive any of the proceeds from the distribution of shares by the Rule 415 Selling Stockholders in connection with the employee stock bonus awards. The Company will receive the proceeds from the issuance of shares in connection with the exercise of the Distributor Options.

Each share of Class A Common Stock entitles its holder to one vote, and each share of Class B Common Stock (the "Class B Common Stock", together with the Class A Common Stock, the "Common Stock") of the Company entitles its holder to ten votes. All of the shares of Class B Common Stock are held by the existing stockholders (the "Existing Stockholders") of the Company prior to the consummation of the Reorganization. Each share of Class B Common Stock is convertible into one share of Class A Common Stock at the option of the holder of Class B Common Stock and in certain other instances. See "Description of Capital Stock--Common Stock--Conversion."

In addition to the shares underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards, the Company has registered 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, including 4,750,000 shares being offered by the Company and 4,350,000 shares being offered by certain selling stockholders (the "Selling Stockholders"), for issuance and sale in connection with underwritten offerings (the "Offerings") of such shares of Class A Common Stock and 1,058,342 shares and 306,658 shares of Class A Common Stock which the U.S. Underwriters and the International Managers, respectively, have the option to purchase from the Selling Stockholders to cover over-allotments, if any. After consummation of the Offerings, the Existing Stockholders will beneficially own shares of Common Stock having approximately 98.6% of the combined voting power of the outstanding shares of Common Stock.

Prior to the Offerings, there has been no public market for the Class A Common Stock.

The Class A Common Stock has been approved for listing on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "NUS," subject to official notice of issuance.

- (1) The Rule 415 Offerings are being made by the Rule 415 Selling Stockholders and by the Company from time to time pursuant to Rule 415 under the Securities Act of 1933 and are not being made in connection with an underwritten distribution. Therefore, no underwriting commissions or discounts will be paid in connection with the Rule 415 Offerings. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders" and "Plan of Distribution."
- (2) Before deducting expenses payable by the Company, which, together with the expenses of the Offerings, are estimated to be $3,000,000.
- (3) Includes proceeds from the exercise of the Distributor Options to purchase shares of Class A Common Stock. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders" and "Plan of Distribution."
- (4) No consideration is being paid upon the issuance and grant of the Distributor Options and the awarding of employee stock bonus awards by the Rule 415 Selling Stockholders. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders" and "Plan of Distribution."

The date of this Prospectus is , 1996.

THE RULE 415 OFFERINGS

DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will contribute to the Company 1,605,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock for use in implementing a distributor equity incentive program. Also prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Company will grant to NSI 1,605,000 options to purchase such shares (the "Distributor Options"). Each Distributor Option entitles the holder to purchase one share of Class A Common Stock.

NSI intends to initially allocate the Distributor Options to executive distributors who have achieved gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan on the date of this Prospectus in each country where NSI conducts business and where local laws permit the issuance of options hereunder and in a manner similar to that described below. From December 1, 1996 until August 31, 1997 (the "Qualification Period"), existing and new distributors will have the opportunity to qualify for a reallocation of the Distributor Options from NSI by achieving gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan as of August 31, 1997 and by submitting a representation letter to NSI as provided in the NSI 1996 Distributor Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") (such qualifying distributors are hereinafter referred to as "Eligible Distributors"). NSI will notify Eligible Distributors of the results of the reallocation of the Distributor Options by October 31, 1997. At the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor will receive Distributor Options based upon a reallocation of the Distributor Options determined by multiplying the total number of Distributor Options by the quotient obtained by dividing (x) the Eligible Distributor's weighted total compensation (determined in the manner set forth below) under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Individual Compensation") by (y) the sum of the Weighted Individual Compensation earned by all Eligible Distributors under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Total Compensation"). For purposes of calculating such quotient, the following weighting factors will be applied to an Eligible Distributor's compensation to calculate "Weighted Individual Compensation" according to executive distributor levels:

	EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTOR
EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTOR LEVEL	WEIGHTING FACTOR
Hawaiian Blue Diamond
Blue Diamond
Diamond
Emerald
Ruby
Lapis
Gold	72%

In addition, for each 1% increase in average monthly commissions earned during the Qualification Period that is greater than actual commission earnings during September 1996 for a gold or higher executive distributor as of September 1996, or for a distributor qualifying as a gold or higher executive distributor after September 1996, actual commissions earned during such distributor's first month as a gold or higher executive distributor (the "Base Month"), the Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factors will increase by one third (1/3) of 1% up to a maximum increase of 100% (such increase is referred to as the "Growth Weighting Factor").

For purposes of illustration, for the nine-month period ended on August 31, 1996 (the "Illustrative Qualification Period"), the Weighted Total Compensation will be assumed to have been $200,000,000. An Emerald level distributor who earned total commissions of $40,000 (or average monthly commissions of $4,444) during the Illustrative Qualification Period and who had previously earned commissions of $1,000 during the Base Month would apply a weighting factor of 182% to such commissions (computed using the 82% Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor for an Emerald level distributor plus a 100% Growth Weighting Factor based on the 344% increase in average commissions during the Illustrative Qualification Period over commissions earned during the Base Month), resulting in Weighted Individual Compensation of $72,800. Such distributor's allotment of the Distributor Options would be equal to the quotient of his or her Weighted Individual Compensation ($72,800) divided by the Weighted Total Compensation ($200,000,000), multiplied by the total number of Distributor Options (1,605,000). Such distributor would therefore be allocated 584 of the Distributor Options.

The foregoing example is presented for illustrative purposes only. There can be no assurance that the number of Eligible Distributors will remain constant during the Qualification Period. Given the fixed number of Distributor Options available, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as the total number of Eligible Distributors increases and conversely will increase as the total number of Eligible Distributors decreases. NSI has historically experienced periods of significant fluctuations in its total number of executive distributors and may experience such fluctuations in the future. An increase in the total number of Eligible Distributors during the Qualification Period could result in a material reduction in the number of Distributor Options allocable to an individual Eligible Distributor. The number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will also decrease as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels increases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels decreases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that the proportion of Eligible Distributors at each executive distributor level will remain constant during the Qualification Period. In addition, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as such Eligible Distributor's compensation decreases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as such Eligible Distributor's compensation increases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor's compensation will remain constant as a percentage of total Eligible Distributor compensation during the Qualification Period. Further, there can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor will be able to earn particular compensation amounts during the Qualification Period.

The availability of the Distributor Options in each country in which NSI distributors reside is entirely dependent upon and subject to NSI's ability to secure any necessary regulatory approvals, qualifications or exemptions in each such country. It is anticipated that necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications will not be secured in certain countries until sometime after December 1, 1996, the commencement of the Qualification Period, and that in certain countries the exercisability of the Distributor Options may be suspended after the commencement of the Qualification Period until further regulatory approvals are secured. For example, South Korean officials have indicated a preliminary willingness to allow NSI to implement the Plan, but have reserved the right to rule on the details of the Plan, including the exercise of the Distributor Options by South Korean residents, until a later date. In addition, it is possible that NSI may not be able to secure the necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in certain countries. In certain countries, such as France and Spain, only existing executive distributors will be allowed to participate in the Plan. In the event the Plan is either not implemented until after commencement of the Qualification Period or is suspended after commencement of such period in a given country (a "Deferred Qualification Country"), the formulas referenced above will be modified as follows. For purposes of calculating Weighted Individual Compensation and Weighted Total Compensation, a distributor resident in a Deferred Qualification Country shall be deemed to have earned during each month during the Qualification Period for which the Plan was not implemented or was suspended, commissions equal to the average monthly commissions actually earned by such distributor during the portion of the Qualification Period during which the Plan was implemented in such Deferred Qualification Country.

For Distributor Options to vest, an Eligible Distributor will generally be required to maintain, during the period from September 1, 1997 through December 31, 1997 (the "Vesting Period"), the executive distributor level he or she achieved by the end of the Qualification Period (the "Qualifying Executive Level"). If an Eligible Distributor fails to maintain the Qualifying Executive Level for any month during the Vesting Period, the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor will be recalculated at the end of the Vesting Period to be that number of Distributor Options such Eligible Distributor would have been allocated had he or she achieved the lowest executive distributor level held by him or her during the Vesting Period as of August 31, 1997 (the "Recalculated Distributor Options"). For example, if an Eligible Distributor with an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 86% and a Growth Weighting Factor of 15%, resulting in a combined weighting factor of 101%, but during the Vesting Period the lowest level to which the distributor falls is Ruby level, which carries an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 78% (the Growth Weighting Factor would remain unchanged) the combined weighting factor would be reduced to 93%. Therefore, the difference between the number of Distributor Options allocated to an Eligible Distributor at the end of the Qualification Period and the Recalculated Distributor Options, if the amount of Recalculated Distributor Options is lower, will be forfeited by such Eligible Distributor. If an Eligible Distributor ceases to be an executive distributor at any time during the Vesting Period, all Distributor Options held by such Eligible Distributor will be immediately forfeited. Forfeited options will not vest but will revert to NSI.

Distributor Options vested in an Eligible Distributor will become exercisable upon receipt of written notice from NSI of the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor which is currently estimated to be by January 31, 1998, and will remain exercisable for a four-year period following December 31, 1997 provided the Eligible Distributor remains an executive distributor until the date of exercise. No Distributor Options will be exercisable after December 31, 2001. By exercising any portion of the Distributor Options, each Eligible Distributor who is granted more than 3,000 Distributor Options will agree not to resell in any given six-month period more than 33% of the shares of Class A Common Stock issuable upon exercise of the Distributor Options originally granted to such Eligible Distributor. Upon vesting, Distributor Options will be exercisable at 25% of the initial price per share to the public in the Offerings (the "Exercise Price").

By receiving an allocation of Distributor Options at the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor confirms his or her agreement to continue to resell or personally consume at least 80% of all products purchased by such distributor per month. In addition, product returns during the Qualification or Vesting Periods will reduce commission levels and may affect distributor level, consequently impacting the number of Distributor Options received by an individual distributor. In the event of product returns occurring after the Qualification or Vesting Periods which would have affected distributor levels or qualification for or vesting of Distributor Options had such product returns been made during the Qualification or Vesting Periods, NSI reserves the right to use any mechanism available to it under the NSI distributor policies and procedures, as may be amended from time to time, to recoup the value of the Distributor Options received by an individual distributor on the Vesting Date in excess of the value of Distributor Options which would have vested had such returns been made prior to the Vesting Date.

The Distributor Option program is not intended to be an executive distributor's primary source of income. Even though the exact number of Distributor Options initially allocated to an individual distributor may fluctuate materially during the Qualification Period due to increases and decreases in overall executive distributor activity, an executive distributor's primary income source, i.e., product sales and commissions, will continue to be based on the efforts of the executive distributor and leadership of his or her downline organization.

EMPLOYEE STOCK BONUS AWARDS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will also contribute an aggregate of 1,250,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock (the "Employee Shares") to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for use in connection with the employee stock bonus awards to be made by NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) to their respective employees in connection with the 415 Offerings. The shares of Class A Common Stock underlying each such employee stock bonus award will be issued to the employee recipient at a rate of 25% per year commencing one year following the date of the award, provided the employee recipient is still employed by NSI or one of its affiliates (other than the Company). The Company also intends to issue 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to its employees in connection with employee stock bonus awards to be made to the Company's employees on the same terms as described above pursuant to the Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. 1996 Stock Incentive Plan.

REGULATORY AND TAX ISSUES. The availability of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards in each country in which NSI distributors and/or employees reside is entirely dependent upon and subject to NSI's ability to secure any necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in each such country. There can be no assurance that such qualifications will be secured or, once secured, will not be suspended. The receipt of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards will also subject the recipient to potentially material income tax and capital gains tax implications. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders--Certain U.S. Tax Consequences to Recipients of Distributor Options and Employee Stock Bonus Awards" and "--Non-U.S. Regulatory and Tax Consequences." The Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards are included in this Prospectus pursuant to Rule 415 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "1933 Act"). The distribution of the Distributor Options will occur for purposes of Rule 415 upon the assignment of the Distributor Options by NSI to the distributors. The shares of Class A Common Stock will be issued by the Company upon the exercise of the Distributor Options. The Company will not receive any of the proceeds from the distribution of shares in connection with the employee stock bonus awards. The Company will receive the proceeds from the issuance of shares in connection with the exercise of the Distributor Options. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders."

- (4) Includes (a) 2,964,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be offered in the Rule 415 Offerings (assuming exercise of all 1,605,000 Distributor Options); and (b) 9,100,000 shares of Class A Common Stock being offered in the Offerings by the Company and the Selling Stockholders.
- (5) Gives effect to the conversion by the Existing Stockholders prior to the Rule 415 Offerings of (a) 1,605,000 shares of Class B Common Stock into shares of Class A Common Stock for issuance upon the exercise of the Distributor Options; and (b) 1,250,000 shares of Class B Common Stock into shares of Class A Common Stock for issuance pursuant to employee stock bonus awards.
- (6) Does not include: (i) 3,891,000 shares of Class A Common Stock reserved for issuance pursuant to the 1996 Stock Incentive Plan; and (ii) 253,000 shares of Class A Common Stock subject to a stock option which was granted to an executive officer of the Company. See "Management--1996 Stock Incentive Plan," "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sales."
- (7) Assumes no exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment options aggregating 1,365,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, which have been granted by the Selling Stockholders in connection with the Offerings.
- (8) All shares of Class B Common Stock are currently held by the Existing Stockholders and each such share is convertible at any time into one share of Class A Common Stock and converts automatically into one share of Class A Common Stock (i) upon a transfer to a person other than an Existing Stockholder, and (ii) if the number of shares of Class B Common Stock becomes less than 10% of the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. See "Description of Capital Stock--Common Stock--Conversion." RISKS RELATED TO REALLOCATION AND VESTING OF DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS; DECREASE IN NUMBER OF DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS AVAILABLE; EFFECT OF PRODUCT RETURNS

For Distributors Options to vest, an Eligible Distributor will generally be required to maintain, during the Vesting Period, the Qualifying Executive Level. If an Eligible Distributor fails to maintain the Qualifying Executive Level for any month during the Vesting Period, the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor will be recalculated at the end of the Vesting Period. If an Eligible Distributor ceases to be an executive distributor at any time during the Vesting Period, all Distributor Options held by such Eligible Distributor will be immediately forfeited. Forfeited options will not vest but will revert to NSI. Distributor Options vested in an Eligible Distributor will become exercisable on December 31, 1997, and remain exercisable for a four year period following such date provided the Eligible Distributor remains an executive distributor until the date of exercise.

There can be no assurance that the number of Eligible Distributors will remain constant during the Qualification Period. Given the fixed number of Distributor Options available, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eliqible Distributor will decrease as the total number of Eligible Distributors increases and conversely will increase as the total number of Eligible Distributors decreases. NSI has historically experienced periods of significant fluctuations in its total number of executive distributors and may experience such fluctuations in the future. An increase in the total number of Eligible Distributors during the Qualification Period could result in a material reduction in the number of Distributor Options allocable to an individual Eligible Distributor. The number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will also decrease as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels increases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels decreases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that the proportion of Eligible Distributors at each executive distributor level will remain constant during the Qualification Period. In addition, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as such Eligible Distributor's compensation or rate of compensation growth decreases as a proportion of total compensation or total compensation growth paid to all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as such Eligible Distributor's compensation increases as a proportion of total compensation or total compensation growth paid to all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor's compensation will remain constant as a percentage of total Eligible Distributor compensation during the Qualification Period. Further, there can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor will be able to earn particular compensation amounts during the Qualification Period.

Product returns during the Qualification or Vesting Periods will reduce commission levels and may affect distributor levels, consequently impacting the number of Distributor Options received by an individual distributor. In the event of product returns occurring after the Qualification or Vesting Periods which would have affected distributor levels or qualification for or vesting of Distributor Options had such product returns been made during the Qualification or Vesting Periods, NSI may recoup the value of the Distributor Options received by an individual distributor on the Vesting Date in excess of the value of Distributor Options which would have vested had such returns been made prior to the Vesting Date. There can be no assurance that product returns will not affect the number of Distribution Options or the value of Distribution Options received by a distributor. See "Plan of Distribution---Distributor Options."

NSI has granted in the past, and may continue to grant in the future, exceptions under its Global Compensation Plan permitting various distributors to receive compensation at higher levels than they would have been entitled to receive based exclusively on their personal and group sales volumes. Although exceptions are discouraged, management believes that this arrangement is important in retaining the loyalty and dedication of distributors in certain situations. In keeping with this strategy, NSI intends to utilize a weighting factor in granting Distributor Options to these individuals based on the distributor level at which they receive commissions rather than on the level dictated by their technical status under the Global Compensation Plan. Such a policy may result in other distributors who have not received a similar preference receiving fewer options than they would have received were such exceptions not being made under the Global Compensation Plan. See "Plan of Distribution."

RESTRICTIONS ON RESALE OF SHARES UNDERLYING DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS

By exercising any portion of their Distributor Options, each Eligible Distributor who is granted more than 3,000 Distributor Options will agree not to resell in any given six-month period more than 33% of the shares of Class A Common Stock issuable upon exercise of the Distributor Options vested in each Eligible Distributor. See "Plan of Distribution--Distributor Options."

REGULATORY AND TAXATION RISKS

The availability of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards in each country in which NSI distributors and/or employees reside is entirely dependent upon and subject to NSI's ability to secure any necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in each such country. There can be no assurance that such qualifications will be secured or, once secured, will not be suspended. It is possible that NSI may not be able to secure the necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in certain countries. The receipt of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards will also subject the recipient to potentially material income tax and capital gains tax implications. The Company and its affiliates anticipate that the Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards will be qualified in some form pursuant to the securities laws of each jurisdiction in which the Company and its affiliates operate. There can be no assurance, however, that NSI will be able to qualify the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards in each jurisdiction or that, if qualified, the governmental authorities in such jurisdictions will not require material modifications to the terms of the programs as they are currently contemplated to be implemented. In certain European countries, including France and Spain, only executive distributors as of the date of this Prospectus will be allowed to participate in the Distributor Option program. No assurances can be given as to the timing of any governmental approvals received in connection with the Distributor Options. In addition, there can be no assurance that the laws and relevant regulations and judicial and administrative interpretations in such jurisdictions will not change in a manner that has a material impact on the ability of NSI to adopt or maintain such programs in such jurisdictions. The Plan, as it is implemented or administered in any given country where distributors of NSI reside or act as independent distributors of NSI, may be amended or modified by NSI's board of directors from time to time to comply with the legal requirements and restrictions of such country. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders--Certain U.S. Tax Consequences to Recipients of Distributor Options and Employee Stock Bonus Awards" and "--Non U.S. Regulatory and Tax Consequences."

RULE 415 SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will contribute to the Company 1,605,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock for use in implementing a distributor equity incentive program. Also prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Company will grant to NSI 1,605,000 options to purchase such shares (the "Distributor Options"). Each Distributor Option entitles the holder to purchase one share of Class A Common Stock.

NSI intends to initially allocate the Distributor Options to executive distributors who have achieved gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan on the date of this Prospectus in each country where NSI conducts business and where local laws permit the issuance of options hereunder and in a manner similar to that described below. From December 1, 1996 until August 31, 1997 (the "Qualification Period"), existing and new distributors will have the opportunity to qualify for a reallocation of the Distributor Options from NSI by achieving gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan as of August 31, 1997 and by submitting a representation letter to NSI as provided in the Plan (such qualifying distributors are hereinafter referred to as "Eligible Distributors"). NSI will notify Eligible Distributors of the results of the reallocation of the Distributor Options by October 31, 1997. At the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor will receive Distributor Options based upon a reallocation of the Distributor Options determined by multiplying the total number of Distributor Options by the quotient obtained by dividing (x) the Eligible Distributor's weighted total compensation (determined in the manner set forth below) under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Individual Compensation") by (y) the sum of the Weighted Individual Compensation earned by all Eligible Distributors under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Total Compensation"). For purposes of calculating such quotient, the following weighting factors will be applied to an Eligible Distributor's compensation to calculate "Weighted Individual Compensation" according to executive distributor levels:

EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTOR LEVEL	EXECUTIVE LEVEL DISTRIBUTOR WEIGHTING FACTOR
Hawaiian Blue Diamond	100%
Blue Diamond
Diamond	86%
Emerald
Ruby	78%
Lapis	74%
Gold	72%

In addition, for each 1% increase in average monthly commissions earned during the Qualification Period that is greater than actual commission earnings during September 1996 for a gold or higher executive distributor as of September 1996, or for a distributor qualifying as a gold or higher executive distributor after September 1996, actual commissions earned during such distributor's first month as a gold or higher executive distributor (the "Base Month"), the above referenced Weighting Factors will increase by one third (1/3) of 1% up to a maximum increase of 100% (such increase is referred to as the "Growth Weighting Factor").

For purposes of illustration, for the nine-month period ended on August 31, 1996 (the "Illustrative Qualification Period"), the Weighted Total Compensation will be assumed to have been $200,000,000. An Emerald level distributor who earned total commissions of $40,000 (or average monthly commission of $4,444) during the Illustrative Qualification Period and who had previously earned commissions of $1,000 during the Base Month, would apply a weighting factor of 182% to such commissions (computed using the 82% Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor for an Emerald level distributor plus a 100% Growth Weighting Factor based on the 344% increase in average commissions during the Illustrative Qualification Period over commissions earned during the Base Month), resulting in Weighted Individual Compensation of $72,800. Such distributor's allotment of the Distributor Options would be equal to the quotient of his or her Weighted Individual Compensation ($72,800) divided by the Weighted Total Compensation ($200,000,000), multiplied by the total number of Distributor Options (1,605,000). Such distributor would therefore be allocated 584 of the Distributor Options.

The foregoing example is presented for illustrative purposes only. There can be no assurance that the number of Eligible Distributors will remain constant during the Qualification Period. Given the fixed number of Distributor Options available, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as the total number of Eligible Distributors increases and conversely will increase as the total number of Eligible Distributors decreases. NSI has historically experienced periods of significant fluctuations in its total number of executive distributors and may experience such fluctuations in the future. An increase in the total number of Eligible Distributors during the Qualification Period could result in a material reduction in the number of Distributor Options allocable to an individual Eligible Distributor. The number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will also decrease as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels increases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels decreases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that the proportion of Eligible Distributors at each executive distributor level will remain constant during the Qualification Period. In addition, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as such Eligible Distributor's compensation decreases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as such Eligible Distributor's compensation increases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor's compensation will remain constant as a percentage of total Eligible Distributor compensation during the Qualification Period. Further, there can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor will be able to earn particular compensation amounts during the Qualification Period.

The availability of the Distributor Options in each country in which NSI distributors reside is entirely dependent upon and subject to NSI's ability to secure any necessary regulatory approvals, qualifications or exemptions in each such country. It is anticipated that necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications will not be secured in certain countries until sometime after December 1, 1996, the commencement of the Qualification Period, and that in certain countries the exercisability of the Distributor Options may be suspended after the commencement of the Qualification Period until further regulatory approvals are secured. For example, South Korean officials have indicated a preliminary willingness to allow NSI to implement the Plan, but have reserved the right to rule on the details of the Plan, including the exercise of the Distributor Options by South Korean residents, until a later date. In addition, it is possible that NSI may not be able to secure the necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in certain countries. In certain countries, such as France and Spain, only existing executive distributors will be allowed to participate in the Plan. In the event the Plan is either not implemented until after commencement of the Qualification Period or is suspended after commencement of such period in a given country a ("Deferred Qualification Country"), the formulas referenced above will be modified as follows. For purposes of calculating Weighted Individual Compensation and Weighted Total Compensation, a distributor resident in a Deferred Qualification Country shall be deemed to have earned during each month during the Qualification Period for which the Plan was not implemented or was suspended, commissions equal to the average monthly commissions actually earned by such distributor during the portion of the Qualification Period during which the Plan was implemented in such Deferred Qualification Country.

For Distributor Options to vest, an Eligible Distributor will generally be required to maintain, during the period from September 1, 1997 through December 31, 1997 (the "Vesting Period"), the executive distributor level he or she achieved by the end of the Qualification Period (the "Qualifying Executive Level"). If an Eligible Distributor fails to maintain the Qualifying Executive Level for any month during the Vesting Period, the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor will be recalculated at the end of the Vesting Period to be that number of Distributor Options such Eligible Distributor would have been allocated had he or she achieved the lowest executive distributor level held by him or her during the Vesting Period as of August 31, 1997 (the "Recalculated Distributor Options"). For example, if an Eligible Distributor ends the Qualification Period as a Diamond executive distributor with an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 86% and a Growth Weighting Factor of 15%, resulting in a combined weighting factor of 101%, but during the Vesting Period the lowest level to which the distributor falls is Ruby level, which carries an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 78% (the Growth Weighting Factor would remain unchanged) the combined weighting factor would be reduced to 93%. Therefore, the difference between the number of Distributor Options allocated to an Eligible Distributor at the end of the Qualification Period and the Recalculated Distributor Options, if the amount of Recalculated Distributor Options is lower, will be forfeited by such Eligible Distributor. If an Eligible Distributor ceases to be an executive distributor at any time during the Vesting Period, all Distributor Options held by such Eligible Distributor will be immediately forfeited. Forfeited options will not vest but will revert to NSI.

Distributor Options vested in an Eligible Distributor will become exercisable upon receipt of written notice from NSI of the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor, which is currently estimated to be by January 31, 1998, and will remain exercisable for a fouryear period following December 31, 1997 provided the Eligible Distributor remains an executive distributor until the date of exercise. No Distributor Options will be exercisable after December 31, 2001. By exercising any portion of the Distributor Options, each Eligible Distributor who is granted more than 3,000 Distributor Options will agree not to resell in any given six-month period more than 33% of the shares of Class A Common Stock issuable upon exercise of the Distributor Options originally granted to such Eligible Distributor. Upon vesting, Distributor Options will be exercisable at 25% of the initial price per share to the public in the Underwritten Offerings (the "Exercise Price").

By receiving an allocation of Distributor Options at the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor confirms his or her agreement to continue to resell or personally consume at least 80% of all products purchased by such distributor per month. In addition, product returns during the Qualification or Vesting Periods will reduce commission levels and may affect distributor levels, consequently impacting the number of Distributor Options received by an individual distributor. In the event of product returns occurring after the Qualification or Vesting Periods which would have affected distributor levels or qualification for or vesting of Distributor Options had such product returns been made during the Qualification or Vesting Periods, NSI reserves the right to use any mechanism available to it under the NSI distributor policies and procedures, as may be amended from time to time, to recoup the value of the Distributor Options received by an individual distributor on the Vesting Date in excess of the value of Distributor Options which would have vested had such returns been made prior to the Vesting Date.

The Distributor Option program is not intended to be an executive distributor's primary source of income. Even though the exact number of Distributor Options initially allocated to an individual distributor may fluctuate materially during the Qualification Period due to increases and decreases in overall executive distributor activity, an executive distributor's primary income source, i.e., product sales and commissions, will continue to be based on the efforts of the executive distributor and leadership of his or her downline organization.

EMPLOYEE STOCK BONUS AWARDS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will also contribute an aggregate of 1,250,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock (the "Employee Shares") to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for use in connection with the employee stock bonus awards to be made by NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) to their respective employees in connection with the 415 Offerings. The shares of Class A Common Stock underlying each such employee stock bonus award will be issued to the employee recipient at a rate of 25% per year commencing one year following the date of the award, provided the employee recipient is still employed by NSI or one of its affiliates (other than the Company). The Company also intends to issue 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to its employees in connection with employee stock bonus awards to be made to the Company's employees on the same terms as described above pursuant to the Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. 1996 Stock Incentive Plan.

- (1) Each of the Rule 415 Selling Stockholders is an affiliate of the Company in that each Rule 415 Selling Stockholder is owned by the same individuals who will own 100% of the Common Stock following consummation of the Reorganization and prior to the Offerings and the Rule 415 Offerings.
- (2) Consists of options that have been granted by the Company to NSI to purchase 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock.
- (3) Includes 1,250,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to be awarded by the Rule 415 Selling Stockholders in connection with employee stock bonus awards.

CERTAIN U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES TO RECIPIENTS OF DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS AND EMPLOYEE STOCK BONUS AWARDS. For purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (the "Code"), the Distributor Options will be considered non-qualified stock options. A recipient (an "Option Recipient") of a nonqualified stock option recognizes no taxable income and NSI and its affiliates, other than the Company (the "Option Grantors"), receive no deduction when a non-qualified stock option is granted. Upon exercise of a non-qualified stock option, the Option Recipient recognizes ordinary income and the Option Grantor is entitled to a deduction equal to the difference between the exercise price and the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise. The Option Recipient recognizes as capital gain or loss any subsequent profit or loss recognized on the sale or exchange of any shares disposed of or sold. A recipient (an "Employee Stock Bonus Award Recipient") of restricted stock or contingent stock is not required to include the value of such shares in income until the first time such Employee Stock Bonus Award Recipient's rights in the shares are transferable or not subject to substantial risk of forfeiture, whichever occurs earlier. In the case of restricted stock or contingent stock, the amount of such ordinary income will be equal to the excess of the fair market value of the shares at the time the income is recognized over the amount (if any) paid for the shares. The Company and NSI and its affiliates, other than the Company (the "Employee Stock Bonus Award Grantors") are entitled to a deduction, in the amount of the ordinary income recognized by the Employee Stock Bonus Award Recipient, for the tax year of the employee in which the Employee Stock Bonus Award Recipient recognizes such income. Recipients of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards should consult their own tax advisers regarding the U.S. tax consequences of being awarded a Distributor Option or an employee stock bonus award. Non-U.S. recipients of Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards should consult with their tax advisers regarding the application of the tax laws of their respective countries to the Distributor Options and employee stock bonus awards.

NON-U.S. REGULATORY AND TAX CONSIDERATIONS. The Company and its affiliates anticipate that the Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards will be qualified in some form pursuant to the securities laws of each jurisdiction in which the Company and its affiliates operate. There can be no assurance, however, that NSI will be able to qualify the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards in each jurisdiction or that, if qualified, the governmental authorities in such jurisdictions will not suspend such qualifications or require material modifications to the terms of the programs as they are currently contemplated to be implemented. In certain European countries, including France and Spain, only executive distributors as of the date of this Prospectus will be allowed to participate in the Distributor Option program. No assurances can be given as to the timing of any governmental approvals received in connection with the Distributor Options. In addition, there can be no assurance that the laws and relevant regulations and judicial and administrative interpretations in such jurisdictions will not change in a manner that has a material impact on the ability of NSI to adopt or maintain such programs in such jurisdictions.

Receipt of the Distributor Options, exercise of such options and sale of the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying such shares of Class A Common Stock by NSI or its distributors, and receipt of employee stock bonus awards and the sale of the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying such stock bonus awards, will have certain material income tax and capital gains tax implications for the distributors of NSI and the employees of the Company and NSI. Although this prospectus and related documentation contains certain tax information relevant to distributors of NSI and employees of the Company and NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company), such information is only intended to be a summary of certain relevant provisions and does not address all aspects of tax law that may be relevant to each distributor and employee based on the individual circumstances of such distributor and employee in each jurisdiction in which they operate. Distributors and employees are urged to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the particular tax consequences to them of the exercise of the Distributor Options and the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Class A Common Stock, including the applicability of any federal, state, provincial or foreign tax laws to which they may be subject as well as with respect to the possible effects of changes in tax laws in each jurisdiction, including changes which may be applied retroactively in a manner that could adversely affect holders of the Class A Common Stock.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

DISTRIBUTOR OPTIONS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Company's Existing Stockholders will contribute to the Company 1,605,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock for use in implementing a distributor equity incentive program. Also prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Company will grant to NSI 1,605,000 options to purchase such shares (the "Distributor Options"). Each Distributor Option entitles the holder to purchase one share of Class A Common Stock.

NSI intends to initially allocate the Distributor Options to executive distributors who have achieved gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan on the date of this Prospectus in each country where NSI conducts business and where local laws permit the issuance of options hereunder and in a manner similar to that described below. From December 1, 1996 until August 31, 1997 (the "Qualification Period"), existing and new distributors will have the opportunity to qualify for a reallocation of the Distributor Options from NSI by achieving gold or higher executive distributor levels under the Global Compensation Plan as of August 31, 1997 and by submitting a representation letter to NSI as provided in the Plan (such qualifying distributors are hereinafter referred to as "Eligible Distributors"). NSI will notify Eligible Distributors of the results of the reallocation of the Distributor Options by October 31, 1997. At the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor will receive Distributor Options based upon a reallocation of the Distributor Options determined by multiplying the total number of Distributor Options by the quotient obtained by dividing (x) the Eligible Distributor's weighted total compensation (determined in the manner set forth below) under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Individual Compensation") by (y) the sum of the Weighted Individual Compensation earned by all Eligible Distributors under the Global Compensation Plan during the Qualification Period (the "Weighted Total Compensation"). For purposes of calculating such quotient, the following weighting factors (the "Weighting Factors") will be applied to an Eligible Distributor's compensation to calculate "Weighted Individual Compensation" according to executive distributor levels:

EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTOR LEVEL	EXECUTIVE DISTRIBUTOR LEVEL WEIGHTING FACTOR
Hawaiian Blue Diamond Blue Diamond Diamond Emerald. Ruby Lanis	94% 86% 82% 78%
Lapís Gold	72%

In addition, for each 1% increase in average monthly commissions earned during the Qualification Period that is greater than actual commission earnings during September 1996 for a gold or higher executive distributor as of September 1996, or for a distributor qualifying as a gold or higher executive distributor after September 1996, actual commissions earned during such distributor's first month as a gold or higher executive distributor (the "Base Month"), the above referenced Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factors will increase by one third (1/3) of 1% up to a maximum increase of 100% (such increase is referred to as the "Growth Weighting Factor").

For purposes of illustration, for the nine-month period ended on August 31, 1996 (the "Illustrative Qualification Period"), the Weighted Total Compensation will be assumed to have been $200,000,000. An Emerald level distributor who earned total commissions of $40,000 (on average monthly commissions of $4,444) during the Illustrative Qualification Period and who had previously earned commissions of $1,000 during the Base Month would apply a weighting factor of 182% to such commissions (computed using the 82% Executive Distributor Level weighting factor for an Emerald level distributor plus a 100% Growth Weighting Factor based on the 344% increase in average commissions during the Illustrative Qualification Period over commissions earned during the Base Month), resulting in Weighted Individual Compensation of $72,800. Such distributor's allotment of the Distributor Options would be equal to the quotient of his or her Weighted Individual Compensation ($72,800) divided by the Weighted Total Compensation ($200,000,000), multiplied by the total number of Distributor Options (1,605,000). Such distributor would therefore be allocated 584 of the Distributor Options.

The foregoing example is presented for illustrative purposes only. There can be no assurance that the number of Eligible Distributors will remain constant during the Qualification Period. Given the fixed number of Distributor Options available, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as the total number of Eligible Distributors increases and conversely will increase as the total number of Eligible Distributors decreases. NSI has historically experienced periods of significant fluctuations in its total number of executive distributors and may experience such fluctuations in the future. An increase in the total number of Eligible Distributors during the Qualification Period could result in a material reduction in the number of Distributor Options allocable to an individual Eligible Distributor. The number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will also decrease as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels increases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as the number of Eligible Distributors at higher executive distributor levels decreases as a proportion of all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that the proportion of Eligible Distributors at each executive distributor level will remain constant during the Qualification Period. In addition, the number of Distributor Options allocable to an Eligible Distributor will decrease as such Eligible Distributor's compensation decreases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors and conversely will increase as such Eligible Distributor's compensation increases as a proportion of total compensation paid to all Eligible Distributors. There can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor's compensation will remain constant as a percentage of total Eligible Distributor compensation during the Qualification Period. Further, there can be no assurance that an Eligible Distributor will be able to earn particular compensation amounts during the Qualification Period.

The availability of the Distributor Options in each country in which NSI distributors reside is entirely dependent upon and subject to NSI's ability to secure any necessary regulatory approvals, qualifications or exemptions in each such country. It is anticipated that necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications will not be secured in certain countries until sometime after December 1, 1996, the commencement of the Qualification Period, and that in certain countries the exercisability of the Distributor Options may be suspended after the commencement of the Qualification Period until further regulatory approvals are secured. For example, South Korean officials have indicated a preliminary willingness to allow NSI to implement the Plan, but have reserved the right to rule on the details of the Plan, including the exercise of the Distributor Options by South Korean residents, until a later date. In addition, it is possible that NSI may not be able to secure the necessary regulatory approvals or qualifications in certain countries. In certain countries, such as France and Spain, only existing executive distributors will be allowed to participate in the Plan. In the event the Plan is either not implemented until after commencement of the Qualification Period or is suspended after commencement of such period in a given country (a "Deferred Qualification Country"), the formulas referenced above will be modified as follows. For purposes of calculating Weighted Individual Compensation and Weighted Total Compensation, a distributor resident in a Deferred Qualification Country shall be deemed to have earned during each month during the Qualification Period for which the Plan was not implemented or was suspended, commissions equal to the average monthly commissions actually earned by such distributor during the portion of the Qualification Period for which the Plan was implemented in such Deferred Qualification Country.

For Distributor Options to vest, an Eligible Distributor will generally be required to maintain, during the period from September 1, 1997 through December 31, 1997 (the "Vesting Period"), the executive distributor level he or she achieved by the end of the Qualification Period (the "Qualifying Executive Level"). If an Eligible Distributor fails to maintain the Qualifying Executive Level for any month during the Vesting Period, the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor will be recalculated at the end of the Vesting Period to be that number of Distributor Options such Eligible Distributor would have been allocated had he or she achieved the lowest executive distributor level held by him or her during the Vesting Period as of August 31, 1997 (the "Recalculated Distributor Options"). For example, if an Eligible Distributor ends the Qualification Period as a Diamond executive distributor with an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 86% and a Growth Weighting Factor of 15%, resulting in a combined weighting factor of 101%, but during the Vesting Period the lowest level to which the distributor falls is Ruby level, which carries an Executive Distributor Level Weighting Factor of 78% (the Growth Weighting Factor would remain unchanged) the combined weighting factor would be reduced to 93%. Therefore, the difference between the number of Distributor Options allocated to an Eligible Distributor at the end of the Qualification Period and the Recalculated Distributor Options, if the amount of Recalculated Distributor Options is lower, will be forfeited by such Eligible Distributor. If an Eligible Distributor ceases to be an executive distributor at any time during the Vesting Period, all Distributor Options held by such Eligible Distributor will be immediately forfeited. Forfeited options will not vest but will revert to NSI.

Distributor Options vested in an Eligible Distributor will become exercisable upon receipt of written notice from NSI of the number of Distributor Options vested in such Eligible Distributor, which is currently estimated to be by January 31, 1998, and will remain exercisable for a fouryear period following December 31, 1997 provided the Eligible Distributor remains an executive distributor until the date of exercise. No Distributor Options will be exercisable after December 31, 2001. By exercising any portion of the Distributor Options, each Eligible Distributor who is granted more than 3,000 Distributor Options will agree not to resell in any given six-month period more than 33% of the shares of Class A Common Stock issuable upon exercise of the Distributor Options originally granted to such Eligible Distributor. Upon vesting, Distributor Options will be exercisable at 25% of the initial price per share to the public in the Underwritten Offerings (the "Exercise Price").

By receiving an allocation of Distributor Options at the end of the Qualification Period, each Eligible Distributor confirms his or her agreement to continue to resell or personally consume at least 80% of all products purchased by such distributor per month. In addition, product returns during the Qualification or Vesting Periods will reduce commission levels and may affect distributor levels, consequently impacting the number of Distributor Options received by an individual distributor. In the event of product returns occurring after the Qualification or Vesting Periods which would have affected distributor levels or qualification for or vesting of Distributor Options had such product returns been made during the Qualification or Vesting Periods, NSI reserves the right to use any mechanism available to it under the NSI distributor policies and procedures, as may be amended from time to time, to recoup the value of the Distributor Options received by an individual distributor on the Vesting Date in excess of the value of Distributor Options which would have vested had such returns been made prior to the Vesting Date.

The Distributor Option program is not intended to be an executive distributor's primary source of income. Even though the exact number of Distributor Options initially allocated to an individual distributor may fluctuate materially during the Qualification Period due to increases and decreases in overall executive distributor activity, an executive distributor's primary income source, i.e., product sales and commissions, will continue to be based on the efforts of the executive distributor and leadership of his or her downline organization.

EMPLOYEE STOCK BONUS AWARDS. Prior to the date of this Prospectus, the Existing Stockholders will also contribute an aggregate of 1,250,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock (the "Employee Shares") to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for use in connection with the employee stock bonus awards to be made by NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) to their respective employees in connection with the 415 Offerings. The shares of Class A Common Stock underlying each such employee stock bonus award will be issued to the employee recipient at a rate of 25% per year commencing one year following the date of the award, provided the employee recipient is still employed by NSI or one of its affiliates (other than the Company). The Company also intends to issue 109,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to its employees in connection with employee stock bonus awards to be made to the Company's employees on the same terms as described above pursuant to the Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. 1996 Stock Incentive Plan.

The Distributor Options, the shares of Class A Common Stock underlying the Distributor Options and the employee stock bonus awards are included in this Prospectus pursuant to Rule 415 under the 1933 Act. The distribution of the Distribution Options will occur for purposes of Rule 415 upon the assignment of the distributor options by NSI to the distributors. The shares of Class A Common Stock will be issued by the Company upon exercise of the Distributor Options. The Company will not receive any of the proceeds from the distribution of shares in connection with the employee stock bonus awards. The Company will receive the proceeds from the issuance of shares in connection with the exercise of the Distributor Options. See "Rule 415 Selling Stockholders."

This Prospectus may be used from time to time by the holders who offer the securities registered hereby pursuant to Rule 415 under the 1933 Act for sale in connection with the Distributor Options and underlying Class A Common Stock, the employee stock bonus awards or in transactions in which they are or may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the 1933 Act. The Class A Common Stock may be sold from time to time directly by the holders or pledgees, donees, transferees or other successors in interest. Alternatively, the Class A Common Stock may be offered from time to time by the holders to or through brokers or dealers who may act solely as agents, or may acquire shares as principals. The distribution of the Class A Common Stock may be effected in one or more transactions that may take place on the New York Stock Exchange, including block trades, ordinary broker's transactions, privately negotiated transactions or through sales to one or more broker/dealers for resale of such securities as principals, at market prices prevailing at the time of sale, at prices related to such prevailing market prices or at negotiated prices. Usual and customary or specifically negotiated brokerage fees or commissions may be paid by these holders in connection with such sales. In connection with such sales, the holders and any participating brokers or dealers may be deemed "underwriters" as such term is defined in the 1933 Act. The Company has agreed to bear, except as hereinafter set forth, all expenses (other than underwriting discounts and selling commissions, state and local transfer taxes, and fees and expenses of counsel or other advisors to the Selling Stockholders) in connection with the registration of the offered securities. The Registration Statement of which this Prospectus forms a part must be current at any time during which a Selling Stockholder sells Class A Common Stock.

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

ITEM 13. OTHER EXPENSES OF ISSUANCE AND DISTRIBUTION.

The estimated expenses of the issuance and distribution, to be paid by the Registrant, are as follows.

SEC Registration Fee	,
Stock Exchange Listing	,
Printing and Engraving
Accounting Fees and Expenses	1,200,000(1)
Legal Fees and Expenses
Blue Sky Fees and Expenses	15,000
Transfer Agent's Fees and Expenses	10,000
Custodian's Fees and Expenses	25,000
Miscellaneous Expenses	39,976
Total	$3,800,000

(1) Approximately $500,000 of the Legal Fees and Expenses and $300,000 of the Accounting Fees and Expenses will be borne by NSI as expenses to be incurred in connection with certain stock and option grants to NSI distributors and employees.

ITEM 14. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

Article 10 of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws require indemnification to the fullest extent permitted by Section 145 of DGCL. Section 145 of the DGCL provides that a corporation may indemnify directors and officers as well as other employees and individuals against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred in connection with specified actions, suits or proceedings, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative (other than action by or in the right of the corporation a "derivative action"), if they acted in good faith and in a manner they reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe their conduct was unlawful. A similar standard is applicable in the case of derivative actions, except that indemnification only extends to expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred in connection with the defense or settlement of such actions, and the statute requires court approval before there can be any indemnification where the person seeking indemnification has been found liable to the corporation. Indemnification provided by or granted pursuant to Section 145 of the DGCL is not exclusive of other indemnification that may be granted by a corporation's bylaws, any agreement, any vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise. Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws provides for indemnification consistent with the requirements of Section 145 of the DGCL. Reference is made to Exhibits 3.1 and 3.2 to this Registration Statement for the complete text of, respectively, Article 10 of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws.

Section 145 of the DGCL also permits a corporation to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of directors and officers. Article 10 of the Certificate of Incorporation and Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws permits it to purchase such insurance on behalf of its directors and officers.

Article 7 of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation provides for, to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, elimination or limitation of liability of directors to the Company or its stockholders for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. Section 102(b)(7) of the DGCL permits a corporation to provide in its certificate of incorporation that a director of the corporation shall not be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duties as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of a director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders; (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve international misconduct or a knowing violation of law; (iii) for improper payment of dividends or redemptions of shares; or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derives an improper personal benefit. Reference is made to Exhibit 3.1 to this Registration Statement for the complete text of Article 7 of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation.

Reference is made to the form of Purchase Agreement filed as Exhibit 1.1 to this Registration Statement which provides for the indemnification of the directors and officers of the Company signing this Registration Statement and certain controlling persons of the Company against certain liabilities, including those arising under the 1933 Act, in certain instances by the Underwriters.

Prior to the consummation of the Offerings, the Company intends to enter into separate indemnification agreements with each of its directors and executive officers in order to effectuate the provisions of Article 10 of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws.

ITEM 15. RECENT SALES OF UNREGISTERED SECURITIES.

Pursuant to the Reorganization, prior to the Offerings, the shareholders of Nu Skin Japan, Nu Skin Korea, Nu Skin Taiwan, Nu Skin Hong Kong and Nu Skin Thailand will contribute their shares of capital stock to the capital of the Company in a transaction intended to qualify under Section 351 of the Code in exchange for shares of the Company's Class B Common Stock. This sale is exempt from registration under Section 4(2) of the 1933 Act. Prior to the Reorganization, all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Subsidiaries were held by the Selling Stockholders. The Reorganization will result in each of the Subsidiaries becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

(b) FINANCIAL STATEMENT SCHEDULES

Schedules have been omitted because the information required to be set forth therein is not applicable or is shown in the financial statements or notes thereto.

ITEM 17. UNDERTAKINGS

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement;

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the 1933 Act;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high and of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than 20 percent change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement.

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement;

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the 1933 Act, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the Underwriters at the closing specified in the Underwriting Agreements, certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the Underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

(b) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the 1933 Act may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the Registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the Registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the 1933 Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the Registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the Registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction on the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the 1933 Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(c) The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes that:

(1) For purposes of determining any liability under the 1933 Act, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as a part of this Registration Statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the Registrant pursuant to Rules 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the 1933 Act shall be deemed to be part of this Registration Statement as of the time it was declared effective.

(2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the 1933 Act, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

STOCKHOLDERS AGREEMENT

THIS STOCKHOLDERS AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is effective as of November 20, 1996, and is entered into by and among Blake M. Roney, Nedra D. Roney, Sandra N. Tillotson, Kirk V. Roney, Brooke B. Roney, Steven J. Lund, R. Craig Bryson, Craig S. Tillotson, Keith R. Halls, Rick A. Roney, Burke F. Roney, Park R. Roney and the Stockholder Controlled Trusts (as defined below) listed on the signature pages hereof (collectively, the "Initial Stockholders"), and Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware (the "Company").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the Initial Stockholders own all of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of Nu Skin Japan Company, Limited, Nu Skin Taiwan, Inc., Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc., Nu Skin Korea, Inc. and Nu Skin Personal Care (Thailand) Limited (collectively, the "Subsidiaries");

WHEREAS, the Initial Stockholders, in their respective capacities as stockholders of the Subsidiaries, have entered into several stockholders agreements among themselves which govern their rights, obligations and remedies as stockholders of the Subsidiaries (the "Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements");

WHEREAS, the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements, among other things, place certain restrictions on the Transfer (as defined below) of shares of capital stock of the Subsidiaries (the "Subsidiary Shares");

WHEREAS, pursuant to a Contribution Agreement of even date herewith entered into by and between the Initial Stockholders, on the one hand, and the Company, on the other hand (the "Contribution Agreement"), the Initial Stockholders contributed to the Company all of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the Subsidiaries in exchange for all of the then issued and outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock, par value $.001 per share, of the Company (the "Class B Common Stock"), such transaction is hereinafter referred to as the "Reorganization;"

WHEREAS, the Initial Stockholders desire, as of the date of this Agreement, to waive all of their rights and remedies provided under the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements contingent upon the consummation of the Reorganization and, immediately upon the consummation of the Reorganization, to terminate the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements;

WHEREAS, each share of Class B Common Stock is convertible into one share of Class A Common Stock, par value $.001 per share, of the Company (the "Class A Common Stock");

WHEREAS, immediately upon the consummation of the Reorganization, the Initial Stockholders owned no shares of Class A Common Stock and 80,250,000 shares of Class B Common Stock (the Class A Common Stock and the Class B Common Stock held by the Initial Stockholders are collectively referred to herein as the "Shares");

WHEREAS, the Initial Stockholders and the Company have agreed that it would be in the best interests of each Initial Stockholder and the Company to assure the continued management of the Company by restricting the privilege of ownership of the Shares and, except as hereinafter provided, to provide each of the Initial Stockholders with the opportunity to acquire additional Shares pursuant to the provisions hereof;

WHEREAS, following the Reorganization, the Initial Stockholders desire to convert 2,855,000 shares of Class B Common Stock to Class A Common Stock (the "Equity Incentive Shares") and contribute such Equity Incentive Shares (i) to the Company for use in implementing a distributor equity incentive program with and through Nu Skin International, Inc., a Utah corporation ("NSI"), and (ii) to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company and the Subsidiaries) for issuance in connection with stock incentive awards to be granted to employees of NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company and the Subsidiaries); and

WHEREAS, in consideration for the contribution to the Company of a portion of the Equity Incentive Shares, the Company desires to grant to the Initial Stockholders the right to participate in certain future registrations of Class A Common Stock with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or any other federal agency at the time administering the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Commission").

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual agreements herein contained, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. RESTRICTION ON TRANSFER. Each of the Stockholders (as defined below) hereby agrees that he, she or it shall not sell, assign, give, bequeath, transfer, distribute, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber or dispose of (collectively, "Transfer") any of the Shares owned by him, her or it (whether now owned or hereafter acquired) except as otherwise allowed by this Agreement. Any attempted or purported Transfer of any Shares by any Stockholder in violation or contravention of the terms of this Agreement shall be void. The Company shall, and shall instruct its transfer agent to, reject and refuse to transfer on its books any Shares that may have been Transferred in violation or contravention, administrator, firm, association or corporation holding any of the Shares as being a stockholder of the Company, and any such person, estate, executor, administrator, firm, association or corporation shall not have any rights as a stockholder of the Company. In addition to any other remedies available to the parties to this Agreement either at law, in equity or pursuant to this Agreement, no dividends shall be paid on, nor any distribution made on, any Shares Transferred in breach of this Agreement.

2. PERMITTED TRANSFERS. The Stockholders shall be permitted to Transfer Shares as provided in Sections 3 and 4 hereof and, in addition, as follows:

2.1 Public Sale and Gifts, Bequests and Distributions. Any Stockholder may Transfer shares of Class A Common Stock pursuant to a widely distributed public offering of shares of Class A Common Stock registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or pursuant to Rule 144 (including subsection (k) thereof) (or any successor rule or regulation to Rule 144) under the Securities Act ("Rule 144"), subject to and only in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. In addition, subject to the lock-up agreement set forth in Section 2.7 below, any Stockholder may Transfer Shares to Stockholder Controlled Trusts or to Stockholder Controlled Entities (as defined below) or to persons or entities who are not Stockholders as follows: (a) by gift or bequest; and (b) in the case of Stockholders who are the trustees of a Stockholder Controlled Trust or the executors of the estate of a Stockholder Descendant (as defined below), by distribution from such Stockholder Controlled Trust or such estate to one or more beneficiaries thereof who are not Stockholders, all without regard to the limitations imposed by this Agreement other than the requirements of the lock-up agreement set forth in Section 2.7 below. For purposes of this Section 2.1, the trustees of a Stockholder Controlled Trust in their capacity as trustees of such Stockholder Controlled Trust shall be deemed to be a single Stockholder and the executors of the estate of a Stockholder Descendant in their capacity as executors of such estate shall be deemed to be a single Stockholder.

2.2 Transfers Among Initial Stockholders. Any Initial Stockholder may Transfer Shares to one or more Initial Stockholders without regard to the limitations imposed by this Agreement by gift, bequest or sale; provided, however, that any sale of Shares by an Initial Stockholder (the "Selling Initial Stockholder") to one or more Initial Stockholders, other than Stockholder Controlled Trusts controlled by such Selling Initial Stockholder, shall be subject to the right of first offer granted to the Initial Stockholders in Section 2.4 hereof.

2.3 Pledges to Institutions. Any Stockholder may grant a lien or security interest in, pledge, hypothecate or encumber (collectively, a "Pledge") any Shares, other than the Equity Incentive Shares, beneficially owned by him, her or it to a nationally or internationally recognized financial or lending institution with assets of not less than $10,000,000,000 (an "Institution"); provided, however, that the Institution must agree in writing at or prior to the time such Pledge is made that (i) no Transfer of Shares in connection with a foreclosure, forfeiture or similar proceeding arising from the operation of such Pledge shall be made except as provided in the immediately following sentence and (ii) if such Institution itself should acquire ownership of Shares in connection with a foreclosure, forfeiture or similar proceeding arising from the operation of such Pledge, it will thereafter Transfer such Shares only in a manner that a Stockholder would be permitted to do pursuant to Sections 2.1, 2.2 or 2.4 hereof. An Institution that has been granted a Pledge of Shares may Transfer such Shares in connection with a foreclosure, forfeiture or similar proceeding arising from the operation of such Pledge (a) to such Institution, (b) in a manner a Stockholder would be permitted to do pursuant to Sections 2.1, 2.2 or 2.4 hereof or (c) in any other public or private sale so long as (A) the Stockholders are given at least forty-five (45) days prior written notice of the time and place initially fixed for such sale (which sale may be adjourned from time to time to any such time and place as is announced at the time and place theretofore fixed for such sale) and (B) each Stockholder is entitled to bid to purchase such Shares at such sale subject only to whatever limitations and conditions of general applicability are generally established by such Institution in connection with such sale (including, without limitation, limitations and conditions to assure compliance with the Securities Act) (a "Foreclosure Sale"). All sales pursuant to a Foreclosure Sale shall be subject to the right of first offer granted to Stockholders in Section 2.4 hereof. Shares Pledged to an Institution that are acquired by such Institution in connection with a foreclosure, forfeiture or similar proceeding arising from a Pledge of such Shares may be transferred to the parent corporation of such Institution or any affiliated entity controlled by such Institution's parent corporation without regard to the limitations imposed by this Agreement so long as the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the provisions of this Agreement to the same extent such Institution is bound.

2.4 Right of First Offer.

(a) Except for Transfers permitted under this Agreement, Transfers pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Commission or similar regulatory agency of a foreign jurisdiction, Transfers in accordance with Rule 144, Stockholders may not Transfer Shares to any person or entity unless such transferring Stockholder (an "Offering Stockholder") first offers such Shares to be Transferred (the "Offered Shares") to all Stockholders who are then parties to this Agreement as provided below (the "Right of First Offer").

(b) In order to offer any Offered Shares, the Offering Stockholder shall give written notice (an "Offer Notice") of the proposed Transfer to all Stockholders who then are parties to this Agreement setting forth, in reasonable detail, the Offering Stockholder's intent to make such proposed Transfer, the number of Offered Shares, the proposed date of consummation of such Transfer (if known), the proposed purchase price per Share (including, if known, the amount of cash or other property or consideration to be received upon the consummation of the Transfer) (the "Offered Price Per Share"), any proposed sales commission or advisory fees, and any other material terms and conditions of the proposed Transfer to the extent then known.

(c) Each Stockholder who is a party to this Agreement shall then have the irrevocable right, exercisable within thirty (30) days after the Offer Notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Section 12.2 hereof (the "Notice Period"), to purchase such portion of the Offered Shares as the number of Shares owned by such Stockholder bears to the total number of Shares owned by all Stockholders (excluding Shares owned by the Offering Stockholder), at a price per Share equal to the Offered Price Per Share and on the payment terms specified in the Offer Notice; provided, however, that the Offered Price Per Share for the Offered Shares shall be reduced by the difference (if positive) between (i) the per Share amount of proposed sales commissions and advisory fees specified in the Offer Notice and (ii) the per Share amount of any placement, investment advisory or other similar fees (in the aggregate amount not to exceed one percent (1%) of the gross purchase price for the Offered Shares) payable by the Offering Stockholder in respect of the sale of the Offered Shares. Each Stockholder who is a party to this Agreement may exercise his, her or its Right of First Offer by delivering to the Offering Stockholder a notice of such exercise (an "Exercise Notice") within the Notice Period. If any Stockholder wishes to purchase less than all of his, her or its proportionate share of the Offered Shares, he, she or it shall specify the number of Offered Shares he, she or it wishes to purchase in his, her or its Exercise Notice. Any Offered Shares that a Stockholder shall have not elected to purchase during the Notice Period shall be reoffered thereafter to all Stockholders who have elected to purchase the full number of Shares offered to them. Such reoffer shall remain open for ten (10) days commencing on the date on which written notice of such reoffer is given in accordance with the requirements of Section 12.2 hereof. Each such Stockholder who is reoffered Offered Shares shall notify the Offering Stockholder in writing within such ten (10) day period of the number of such reoffered Offered Shares such Stockholder desires to purchase (such Stockholder's "Designated Shares") and shall be entitled to purchase that number of such reoffered Offered Shares which is equal to the lesser of (x) such Stockholder's Designated Shares and (y) the total number of such reoffered Offered Shares multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is such Stockholder's Designated Shares and the denominator of which is the aggregate Designated Shares of all Stockholders.

(d) The closing of the purchase and sale of the Offered Shares shall occur on a date not later than sixty (60) days after the date on which the Exercise Notice is given (or such later date as is the earliest date on which the purchase may be completed in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations), and at the time and place provided for in the Offer Notice.

(e) If any Offered Shares are not to be so purchased by Stockholders exercising their rights during such thirty (30) day and/or ten (10) day periods, as the case may be, then, for a period of sixty (60) days commencing on the day after the last day of such ten (10) day period or, if there is no reoffer, the last day of such thirty (30) day period (the "Third Party Sale Period"), the Offering Stockholder shall be entitled to Transfer such Shares to one or more third parties for a gross price (or, in the case of a Block Sale (as defined below), a price net of any sales commissions and advisory fees) that is at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the Offered Price Per Share, and otherwise on terms substantially similar to those described in the Offer Notice; provided, however, that any Transfer of Shares proposed to be made by such Offering Stockholder after the Third Party Sale Period or for a price per Share below the price per Share specified in this sentence shall again be subject to the provisions of this Section 2.4. The Offering Stockholder shall promptly notify the Stockholders who are parties to this Agreement of the sale (including the final per Share sale price) of any such Offered Shares to any third party during the Third Party Sale Period. As used in this Agreement, "Block Sale" means any sale, transfer or other disposition, directly or indirectly, in a single transaction or a series of transactions, of Offered Shares in any Third Party Sale Period in which beneficial ownership of eighty percent (80%) or more of the aggregate amount of such Offered Shares is acquired by one or two groups each consisting of two or more persons or entities who are (i) "affiliates" (as such term is defined in Rule 12b-2 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), of each other or one another, or (ii) "associates" (as such term is defined in Rule 12b-2 under the Exchange Act) of each other or one another or (iii) members of a group within the meaning of Rule 13d-5 of the Exchange Act.

(f) Any Pledge of Shares beneficially owned by a Stockholder to an Institution shall not give the Stockholders any right to acquire such Shares pursuant to this Section 2.4. However, any proposed Transfer of such Shares in connection with a foreclosure, forfeiture or similar proceeding arising from the operation of any Pledge (other than a Transfer (i) to the Institution to which such Pledge has been granted, (ii) pursuant to Sections 2.1 or 2.2 hereof or (iii) pursuant to a Foreclosure Sale) shall constitute a Transfer subject to the provisions of this Section 2.4.

2.5 Application of Agreement to Shares After Transfer. Unless a majority in interest of the Initial Stockholders shall agree otherwise in writing, all Shares Transferred in accordance with Section 2 hereof, other than Transfers pursuant to a widely distributed public offering or in accordance with Rule 144, shall be subject to the terms, obligations, conditions and restrictions set forth in this Agreement, and any person or entity to whom or to which such Shares have been Transferred shall automatically become a party to this Agreement upon such Transfer and shall be subject to the provisions of this Agreement. The restrictions and obligations set forth in this Agreement, including the restrictions described in Section 2.7, shall apply to the transferee of any Shares Transferred pursuant to this Agreement (other than pursuant to a widely distributed public offering or pursuant to Rule 144) and, for purposes of calculating the Transfer restriction percentages in Section 2.7, any Transfer by any transferor shall be aggregated with all Transfers by transferees receiving Shares from the transferor (other than in a widely distributed public offering or pursuant to Rule 144) and vice versa and all such Transfers shall be counted towards the Transfer restriction percentages in Section 2.7, as such percentages are applied to the transferor and all of its transferees as a group. Moreover, all Transfers by Nedra D. Roney, Burke F. Roney, Rick A. Roney and Park R. Roney and their respective transferees shall be considered together as a group for purposes of calculating the restriction percentages set forth in Section 2.7 and applying such restriction percentages to said individuals. The Company may require any such person or entity to execute any necessary documentation in connection with such person's or entity's becoming a party to this Agreement.

2.6 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Stockholder" or "Stockholders" shall mean the following persons and entities: (i) each Initial Stockholder and his, her or its permitted assignees hereunder and his, her or its respective estate, guardian, conservator or committee; (ii) each descendant of each Initial Stockholder (a "Stockholder Descendant") and his, her or its respective estate, guardian, conservator or committee; (iii) each Stockholder Controlled Entity; and (iv) the trustees, in their respective capacities as such, of each Stockholder Controlled Trust.

(b) "Stockholder Controlled Entity" shall mean the following entities:

(i) any not-for-profit corporation if at least eighty percent (80%) of its board of directors is composed of an Initial Stockholder and his or her Stockholder Descendants; (ii) any other corporation if at least eighty percent (80%) of the value of its outstanding equity is owned by an Initial Stockholder; (iii) any partnership if at least eighty percent (80%) of the value of its partnership interests is owned by an Initial Stockholder; and (iv) any limited liability company or similar company if at least eighty percent (80%) of the value of such company is owned by an Initial Stockholder.

(c) "Stockholder Controlled Trust" shall mean the following trusts:

(i) the trusts set forth on the signature page hereof; and (ii) any trust the primary beneficiaries of which are Stockholder Descendants, Spouses of Stockholder Descendants (as defined below) and/or charitable organizations (collectively, "Stockholder Beneficiaries"), provided that, if any such trust is a wholly charitable trust, at least eighty percent (80%) of the trustees of such trust consist of Initial Stockholders and/or Stockholder Descendants. For purposes of this Section 2.6(c), the primary beneficiaries of a trust will be deemed to be Stockholder Beneficiaries if, under the maximum exercise of discretion by the trustee in favor of persons or entities who are not Stockholder Beneficiaries, the value of the interests of such persons or entities in such trust, computed actuarially, is twenty percent (20%) or less. The factors and methods prescribed in Section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), for use in ascertaining the value of certain interests shall be used in determining a beneficiary's actuarial interest in a trust for purposes of applying this Section 2.6(c). For purposes of this Section 2.6(c), the actuarial value of the interest in a trust of any person or entity in whose favor a testamentary power of appointment may be exercised shall be deemed to be zero. For purposes of this Section 2.6(c), in the case of a trust created by a Stockholder Descendant, the actuarial value of the interest in such trust of any person or entity who may receive trust property only at the termination of the trust and then only in the event that, at the termination of the trust, there are no living issue of such Stockholder Descendant, shall be deemed to be zero.

(d) "Spouses of Stockholder Descendants" shall mean those individuals who at any time were married to any Stockholder Descendant whether or not such marriage is subsequently dissolved by death, divorce or by any other means.

2.7 Lock-Up Agreement; Permitted Periodic Transfers. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, in order to preserve the taxfree status of the Reorganization under Section 351 of the Code, among other reasons, except for Transfers made in accordance with Section 4 below, from and after the date each Stockholder executes this Agreement, such Stockholder will not, without the prior written consent of the Company, jointly or individually, Transfer, offer, make any short sale of, contract to sell, lend, grant any option for the purchase of, or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Shares owned of record or beneficially by such Stockholder on the effective date of the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-1 or thereafter acquired, for a period of three hundred sixty-six (366) days from the date of the closing of the Company's initial public offering of shares of its Class A Common Stock, except for the sale of shares of Class A Common Stock sold pursuant to the terms of the Underwriting Agreements pertaining to the Company's initial public offering as disclosed in the Registration Statements filed with the Commission and the Japanese Minister of Finance (the "MOF") in connection with such offering. Each Stockholder agrees to execute and deliver a lock-up agreement to the Underwriters in form and substance acceptable to the Underwriters. In addition, after the expiration of said three hundred sixty-six (366) day lock-up period, except for Transfers pursuant to registration statements filed with the Commission or the MOF or other similar regulatory agencies or foreign jurisdictions, no Stockholder shall Transfer in any one (1) year period more than the greater of (a) one and one quarter of one percent (1.25%) of the total number of Shares issued and outstanding at the time of such proposed Transfer by such Stockholder or (b) ten percent (10%) of the total number of Shares originally issued to such Stockholder by the Company in connection with the Reorganization; provided, however, that no Stockholder shall Transfer in any one (1) year more than the maximum number of shares permitted to be Transferred in accordance with Rule 144. The Stockholders agree that the foregoing restriction on Transfers of Shares after the expiration of said three hundred sixty-six (366) day lock-up period shall not apply to any Transfers pursuant to Section 2.2 hereof.

3. INVOLUNTARY TRANSFERS. If Shares of a Stockholder are Transferred by operation of law to any person or entity other than a Stockholder, including, without limitation, the trustee in bankruptcy of a Stockholder or a purchaser at any creditor's or judicial sale (but not including (a) any Transfer pursuant to a foreclosure forfeiture or similar sale as disclosed in Section 2.3 hereof, (b) any Transfer to the guardian, conservator or committee of an incompetent Stockholder or (c) any Transfer in a bankruptcy of Shares that are pledged to an Institution), or if any Stockholder holding Shares ceases to be a Stockholder, then, in each such case, such Stockholder shall be deemed to have offered all of his, her or its Shares to all Stockholders who are parties to this Agreement in the manner described in Section 2.4 hereof, except that the period of time in which the Stockholders have the option to purchase such Shares shall commence on the date of receipt by the Company of notice of such involuntary Transfer or such Stockholder ceasing to be a Stockholder, as the case may be, and the Offered Price Per Share shall equal the closing sales price per share of the shares of Class A Common Stock on the last trading day prior to such date. The Company shall notify the appropriate Stockholders of the occurrence of such involuntary Transfer or of a Stockholder ceasing to be a Stockholder as soon as practicable after it is notified of the same.

4. AGREEMENT TO FUND EQUITY INCENTIVE PROGRAMS.

(a) Each Stockholder and its transferees hereby covenant and agree for a period of three (3) years from the date of this Agreement to make available to the Company or its designee up to six percent (6%) of each such Stockholder's (and such Stockholders' transferees considered as a group) shares of Class B Common Stock, as designated by NSI, for the purpose of funding any distributor or employee equity incentive program or programs sponsored by the Company or NSI. Any Transfer of shares of Class B Common Stock by the Stockholders for this purpose shall be made pro rata by the Stockholders in accordance with their ownership interests in the Company.

(b) Except for the initial contribution to the Company of 1,605,000 shares of Class A Common Stock for issuance in connection with the Nu Skin International, Inc. ("NSI") Distributor Option program and 1,250,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to NSI and its affiliates (other than the Company) for issuance in connection with employee stock bonus awards, in order to exercise its right to use the Equity Incentive Shares, the Company shall give thirty (30) days written notice of the proposed Transfer to all Stockholders who then are parties to this Agreement setting forth, in reasonable detail, the Company's intent to make such proposed Transfer, the number of Shares to be Transferred, the proposed date of consummation of such Transfer (if known) and any other material terms and conditions of the proposed Transfer to the extent then known. The Equity Incentive Shares will then be Transferred at the end of such thirty (30) day period by the attorneys-in-fact identified in Section 11 hereof.

5. CONTRIBUTION OF DIVIDENDS. In the event that a majority in interest of the Initial Stockholders, who are also shareholders of NSI, shall so decide and shall notify all of such Initial Stockholders and the Company in writing, any dividends (net of any taxes payable thereon) on the Shares to be paid by the Company to such Initial Stockholders shall be contributed to NSI pro rata based upon each such Initial Stockholder's ownership of shares of NSI common stock. Notice of such contribution of dividends must be made in accordance with Section 12.2 hereof at least ten (10) business days before the payment of such dividends by the Company to the Initial Stockholders. In its sole discretion, the Company may, upon receipt of notice of such contribution of dividends, pay such dividends directly to NSI. In the discretion of a majority in interest of the Initial Stockholders who are also shareholders of NSI, the above-referenced dividend payments may be made to NSI in cash or by any of such Initial Stockholder's tender to NSI of NSI common stock. For purposes of calculating the NSI shares transferred hereunder, the value per NSI shall be determined by multiplying NSI's net income for the four then most recently completed guarters by a factor of 3.5 and dividing such figure by the total number of NSI shares of common stock then outstanding.

- 6. WAIVER AND TERMINATION.
 - -----
 - 6.1 Waiver of Rights Under Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements.

Contingent upon the consummation of the Reorganization, each Initial Stockholder waives, as of the date of this Agreement, all of his, her or its rights and remedies, including, but not limited to, any rights to restrict the transfer of Subsidiary Shares by other Initial Stockholders to any party to this Agreement, arising from or under the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements, any document executed pursuant to or contemplated by the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements or any transaction performed or contemplated by the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements or any such document.

6.2 Termination of the Subsidiary Stockholders Agreements.

Immediately upon the consummation of the Reorganization, each Subsidiary Stockholders Agreement shall terminate and all provisions thereunder shall become null and void.

7. LEGEND ON CERTIFICATES.

7.1 Legend on Certificates. All Shares now or hereafter owned by the Stockholders shall be subject to the provisions of this Agreement and the certificates representing such Shares shall bear the following legend:

THE SALE, ASSIGNMENT, GIFT, BEQUEST, TRANSFER, DISTRIBUTION, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION OR OTHER ENCUMBRANCE OR DISPOSITION OF THE SHARES

REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE IS RESTRICTED BY THE TERMS OF A STOCKHOLDERS AGREEMENT AMONG CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS AND PERSONS REFERRED TO IN SUCH STOCKHOLDERS AGREEMENT, A COPY OF WHICH MAY BE EXAMINED AT THE OFFICE OF THE COMPANY.

7.2 Deposit of Certificates. Each Initial Stockholder hereby agrees to deposit and leave on deposit with the Secretary of the Company or its designee (i) during a period of one year from the date of this Agreement, all certificates representing Shares, including, without limitation, the Equity Incentive Shares, and (ii) during a period of two years from the end of the period specified in clause (i) above, all certificates representing the Equity Incentive Shares.

 REGISTRATION RIGHTS. In consideration for the contribution by the Initial Stockholders of shares of Class B Common Stock pursuant to Section 4 hereof, the Company hereby covenants and agrees as follows:

8.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Section 8, the following terms have the following meanings:

ave the relieving meaningsr

"Restricted Stock" shall mean all Shares held by the Initial Stockholders and their permitted assignees, excluding Shares (i) that have been registered under the Securities Act pursuant to an effective registration statement filed thereunder and disposed of in accordance with the registration statement covering them and (ii) that have been publicly sold pursuant to Rule 144.

"Selling Expenses" shall mean the expenses described in Section 8.5

8.2 Incidental Registration. If the Company at any time proposes to register any of its securities under the Securities Act for sale to the public, whether for its own account or for the account of other security holders or both (except with respect to registration statements on Form S-4, Form S-8 or another Form not available for registering the Restricted Stock for sale to the public), each such time it will give written notice to all holders hereunder of outstanding Restricted Stock of its intention so to do. Upon the written request of any such holder, received by the Company within ten (10) days following the date of the Company's registration notice, to register such holder's Restricted Stock, the Company will use its best efforts to cause such Restricted Stock to be included in the registration statement proposed to be filed by the Company. The holders of Restricted Stock to be registered pursuant to this Section 8.2 shall execute such documentation as may be reasonably necessary to effect the registration and sale of the Restricted Stock proposed to be included in such an underwriting upon the exercise of "piggyback" or "incidental" registration rights. Except as provided below, the number of shares of Restricted Stock that may be requested to be registered upon exercise of "piggyback" registration rights may be reduced (pro rata among the requesting holders of all such Restricted Stock based upon the number of shares of Restricted Stock requested to be registered by such holders) if and to the extent that the Company or the managing underwriter shall be of the opinion that such inclusion would adversely affect the marketing of the securities to be sold by the Company therein. No such reduction shall be made with respect to any securities offered by the Company for its own account. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the Company may withdraw any registration statement referred to in this Section 8.2 without thereby incurring any liability to the holders of Restricted Stock.

8.3 Restrictions on Registration Rights.

(a) In the event of a registration of any shares of Restricted Stock under the Securities Act pursuant to Section 8.2 hereof, the maximum number of shares which each holder of Restricted Stock is entitled to request to be registered shall be equal to the product of (i) the aggregate number of shares of Restricted Stock requested to be registered by all holders thereof and (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the percentage set forth opposite such holder's name on Schedule A hereto, and the denominator of which shall be the sum of such percentages for all holders of Restricted Stock electing to exercise their registration rights pursuant to Section 8.2 hereof.

(b) The right of each holder of Restricted Stock to participate in registrations of Restricted Stock shall terminate when such holder and all permitted transferees of such holder considered as a group, has received gross proceeds from the sale of shares of Restricted Stock equal to the amount set forth opposite such holder's name on Schedule B hereto.

8.4 Registration Procedures. If and whenever the Company is required by the provisions of Section 8.2 above to use its best efforts to effect the registration of any Restricted Stock under the Securities Act, the Company will, as expeditiously as possible:

(a) prepare and file with the Commission a registration statement (which, in the case of an underwritten public offering pursuant to Section 8.2 above, shall be on Form S-1, Form S-3, or other Form of general applicability satisfactory to the managing underwriter selected) with respect to such securities and use its best efforts to cause such registration statement to become and remain effective for the period of the distribution contemplated thereby (determined as hereinafter provided);

(b) prepare and file with the Commission such amendments and supplements to such registration statement and the prospectus used in connection therewith as may be necessary to keep such registration statement effective for the period specified in paragraph (a) above and comply with the provisions of the Securities Act with respect to the disposition of all Restricted Stock covered by such registration statement in accordance with the sellers' intended method of disposition set forth in such registration statement for such period;

(c) furnish to each seller of Restricted Stock covered by such registration statement and to each underwriter such number of copies of the registration statement and the printed prospectus included therein (including each preliminary prospectus) as such persons reasonably may request in order to facilitate the public sale or other disposition of the Restricted Stock covered by such registration statement;

(d) in connection with each registration hereunder, the sellers of Restricted Stock will furnish to the Company in writing such information with respect to themselves and the proposed distribution by them as reasonably shall be necessary in order to effect the transaction and assure compliance with federal and applicable state securities laws, as well as any documentation customarily required by underwriters of such transaction;

(e) in connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares being issued by the Company, the Company shall not be required under Section 8.2 above to include any of the holders' Restricted Stock in such underwriting unless the holders of such Restricted Stock accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and the underwriters selected; and

(f) notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5(a) above, the Company's obligation to file a registration statement, or cause such registration statement to become and remain effective, shall be suspended for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days in any twelve (12) month period if there exists at the time material non-public information relating to the Company which, in the reasonable opinion of the Company, should not be disclosed.

8.5 Expenses. All expenses incurred in connection with a registration pursuant to Section 8.2 (excluding underwriters' discounts and commissions), including, without limitation, all registration and filing fees, printing expenses, fees and disbursements of counsel and independent public accountants for the Company, fees and expenses (including counsel fees) incurred in connection with state securities or "blue sky" laws, fees of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., transfer taxes, fees of transfer agents and registrars, costs of insurance and the reasonable fees and disbursements of one counsel for all of the selling holders of Restricted Stock (which counsel fees and disbursements shall not exceed $15,000) shall be borne by the Company; provided, however, that if one or more selling holders of Restricted Stock shall withdraw his, her, its or their request for registration pursuant to Section 8.2 hereof, the Company shall not be required to pay such selling holder's or holders' pro rata costs of insurance or pro rata portion of fees and disbursements of counsel payable on behalf of the selling holders of Restricted Stock in connection with such registration.

8.6 Changes in Shares. If, and as often as, there is any change in the Shares, by way of a stock split, stock dividend, combination or reclassification, or through a merger, consolidation, reorganization or recapitalization, or by any other means, appropriate adjustment shall be made in the provisions of this Agreement so that the rights and privileges granted hereby shall continue with respect to the Shares as so changed.

9. AGREEMENT TO ENTER INTO THE CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT. Each Initial

Stockholder hereby covenants and agrees to enter into the Contribution Agreement and to perform in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof.

10. TERMINATION. The rights and obligations under this Agreement shall terminate automatically with respect to each Stockholder upon the earliest to occur of (i) the execution of a written instrument to that effect by the Company and each Stockholder who then owns Shares, (ii) the merger or consolidation of the Company with a corporation or other entity upon consummation of which all Stockholders immediately thereafter own in the aggregate less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the total voting power of the surviving or resulting corporation and (iii) the Transfer of Shares by any Stockholder that causes all Stockholders immediately after such Transfer to own in the aggregate less than ten percent (10%) of the total voting power of the Company.

11. APPOINTMENT OF ATTORNEYS-IN-FACT. In connection with the agreement of the Stockholders to participate in the funding of any distributor or employee equity incentive program or programs sponsored by the Company or NSI, as set forth in Section 4 hereof, each of the Stockholders hereby makes, constitutes and appoints each of Keith R. Halls or his successors and M. Truman Hunt or his successors the true and lawful attorney-in-fact of the Stockholder (each said person or his successors being hereinafter referred to as the "Attorney-in-Fact"), with full power and authority to act in the name and on behalf of the Stockholder for the following purposes:

(a) to Transfer the Equity Incentive Shares to the Company;

(b) to endorse, transfer and deliver certificates for the Equity Incentive Shares to or on the order of the Company or to its nominee or nominees, and to give such orders and instructions as the Attorney-in-Fact may in his sole discretion determine with respect to (i) the transfer of the Equity Incentive Shares on the books of the Company in order to effect such Transfer (including the names in which new certificates for the Equity Incentive Shares are to be issued and the denominations thereof), (ii) the delivery to or for the account of the Company of the certificates for the Equity Incentive Shares against receipt in the name of the Stockholders of the purchase price to be paid therefor, and (iii) the remittance to the Stockholders of the proceeds, after payment of expenses hereinafter described, from the Transfer of the Equity Incentive Shares; if requested by or on behalf of the Stockholders, funds to be remitted to the Stockholders shall be remitted by wire transfer (in accordance with instructions provided by or on behalf of the Stockholders) promptly upon such funds becoming available for transfer;

(c) if necessary, to endorse (in blank or otherwise) on behalf of the Stockholders the certificate or certificates representing the Equity Incentive Shares or a stock power or powers attached to such certificate or certificates;

(d) to incur any necessary or appropriate expense in connection with the Transfer of the Equity Incentive Shares; and

(e) otherwise take all actions, including the execution and delivery of all documents, deemed advisable by the Attorney-in-Fact in its sole discretion, with respect to the Transfer of the Equity Incentive Shares to the Company as fully as the Stockholders could if the Stockholders were present and acting.

Each Attorney-in-Fact shall be entitled to act and rely upon any written statement, request, notice or instructions representing the foregoing power of attorney, not only as to the authorization, validity and effectiveness thereof, but also as to the truth and acceptability of information therein contained. The parties to this Agreement agree to indemnify and hold harmless each Attorney-in-Fact from and against any loss, liability, damages or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees and court costs) incurred by either of them arising out of or in connection with their acting as Attorney-in-Fact under the foregoing power of attorney, as well as the costs and expenses of defending against any claim of liability in the premises. Each Attorney-in-Fact may consult with counsel of his choice (who may be counsel for Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc.) and the Attorney-in-Fact shall have full and complete authorization and protection for any action taken or suffered by either of them hereunder in good faith and in accordance with the opinion of such counsel.

12. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

12.1 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

12.2 Notices. Any notices and other communications given pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be effective upon delivery by hand or on the fifth day after deposit in the mail if sent by certified or registered mail (postage prepaid and return receipt requested) or on the next business day if sent by a nationally recognized overnight courier service (appropriately marked for overnight delivery) or upon transmission if sent by facsimile (with request for immediate confirmation of receipt in a manner customary for communication of such type and with physical delivery of the communication being made by one of the other means specified in this Section 12.2 as promptly as practicable thereafter). Notices are to be addressed as follows:

(ii) If to a Stockholder, then as set forth opposite such Stockholder's name in the second column of Schedule "C" attached hereto with a copy to the person or persons listed opposite such Stockholder's name in the third column of Schedule "C" attached hereto.

All notices to a party hereto shall be deemed to have been duly given for all purposes under this Agreement if given to such party (with a copy to such person or persons as specified) in accordance with the first sentence of this Section 12.2 (a) until notice is given pursuant to this Section 12.2 of a different address from the address provided above or, in the case of any person or entity that hereafter becomes a Stockholder, the address specified in the undertaking delivered pursuant to Section 2.2 hereof, or (b) after notice has been given pursuant to this Section 12.2 of a different address, the address specified in such notice. No notices hereunder shall be required to be given to any Stockholder that hereafter becomes a Stockholder (including a copy of such Stockholder's undertaking given pursuant to Section 2.2 hereof) is given to the Company and to each Stockholder (with a copy of the same to such other persons as specified) pursuant to this Section 12.2.

12.3 Headings. The headings of the various Sections of this

12.4 Binding Effect. This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Company, its successors and assigns and to the Stockholders and their respective heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns.

12.5 No Oral Change. This Agreement may not be changed orally, but only by an agreement in writing signed by the party against whom enforcement of any waiver, change, modification or discharge is sought.

12.6 Entire Understanding. This Agreement sets forth the entire agreement and understanding of the parties hereto in respect of the subject matter hereof and the transactions contemplated hereby and supersedes all prior written and oral agreements, arrangements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof.

(a) The parties hereto acknowledge that money damages are not an adequate remedy for violations of this Agreement and that any party may, in such party's sole discretion, apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for specific performance or injunctive relief or such other relief as such court may deem just and proper in order to enforce this Agreement or prevent any violation hereof and, to the extent permitted by applicable law, each party hereto waives any objection to the imposition of such relief.

(b) All rights, powers and remedies provided under this Agreement or otherwise available in respect hereof, whether at law or in equity, shall be cumulative and not alternative, and the exercise or beginning of the exercise of any thereof by any party hereto shall not preclude the simultaneous or later exercise of any other such right, power or remedy by such party.

12.8 Trustees' Capacity. With respect to obligations of trustees who are parties to this Agreement in their capacity as a trustee of one or more trusts, this Agreement shall be binding upon such trustees only in their capacities as trustees, not individually and not with respect to any Shares other than Shares held by them in their capacity as trustees of such trusts.

12.9 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Each counterpart may consist of a number of copies each signed by less than all, but together signed by all, of the parties hereto.

12.10 Application of Agreement to After-Acquired Shares. All the provisions of this Agreement shall apply to all of the Shares of the Company owned by a person or entity at the time he, she or it is or becomes a party hereto or that may be issued or transferred hereafter to a Stockholder as a result of any additional issuance, purchase, exchange or reclassification of Shares, corporate reorganization or any other form of recapitalization, consolidation, merger, share split or share dividend or that are acquired by a Stockholder in any other manner.

AMENDED AND RESTATED

WHEREAS, NSI is engaged in the design, production and marketing of products and related sales aids, for multi-national distribution through a network of independent distributors; and

WHEREAS, NSJ desires to act as the exclusive wholesale distributor of NSI products in Japan, having entered a separate written Wholesale Distribution Agreement with Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc., the exclusive regional distributor of such products and sales aids in the Asia-Pacific region; and

WHEREAS, NSI and NSJ desire to implement NSI's Independent Distributor Network (as defined below) to promote sales of products and sales aids; and

WHEREAS, NSI desires to further develop and enlarge its Independent Distributor Network in the country of Japan with the assistance of NSJ, for their mutual benefit, in accordance with the terms and conditions hereinafter provided; and WHEREAS, NSJ recognizes and agrees that NSI has expended considerable time, effort and resources to develop and maintain the Licensed Property (as hereafter defined) and NSJ further agrees it will derive a considerable benefit from its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory and from NSI's efforts and expenditures respecting the Licensed Property; and

WHEREAS, NSI and NSJ (as assignee of Nu Skin Japan, Inc.) entered into a Licensing and Sales Agreement on November 11, 1993, and entered into Amendments to said agreement on July 12, 1994, December 15, 1994 and March 14, 1995 (the "Prior Licensing and Sales Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, the Parties wish to amend and restate the Prior Licensing and Sales Agreement as set forth herein;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, the mutual promises, covenants, and warranties hereinafter set forth and for other valuable consideration, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this Agreement, the following words and terms shall have the meaning assigned to them in this Article I:

1.1 "Agreement" shall mean this Amended and Restated Licensing and Sales Agreement (together with any exhibits and schedules hereto), as the same may be modified, amended or supplemented from time to time.

1.2 "Bonus Payments" shall mean, for any NSI Independent Distributor, all monetary obligations due to such Distributor accrued under the terms of the Sales Compensation Plan and such Distributor's Distributor Contract with NSI.

1.3 "Commission Expense" shall mean all direct expenses of NSI incurred in operating, managing, and executing the Sales Compensation Plan. These expenses include, but are not limited to amounts paid to NSI Independent Distributors as Bonus Payments as well as NSI's operational costs associated with the calculation of these monthly payments.

1.4 "Copyrights" shall mean any and all protectable software, programs, databases, source codes and applications owned by NSI or which NSI has a right to use, license or sub-license, relating directly or indirectly to the Independent Distributor Network, Distribution Lists or the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.5 "Distributor Contract" shall mean, for any NSI Independent Distributor, its contract with NSI pursuant to which NSI authorizes it to distribute NSI's Products and Sales Aids.

1.6 "Distributor Lists" shall mean any and all individual or accumulated name, address, identification number, sponsor name and/or similar lists of all present or future NSI Independent Distributors expressed in any medium.

1.7 "Fixed Commission Expense" shall mean, for any period, forty-two percent (42%) of the aggregate amount (in Yen) of sales by NSJ of Products during such period.

1.8 "Independent Distributor Network" shall mean the network of all NSI Independent Distributors.

1.9 "Know-How" shall mean any information, including, without limitation, any commercial or business information, lists, marketing methods, marketing surveys, processes, specifications, quality control reports, drawings, photographs, or any other information owned by NSI, whether or not considered proprietary, relating to the Independent Distributor Network, the Distributor Lists, and the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.10 "Licensed Property" shall mean the Independent Distributor Network, the Distributor Lists, the Sales Compensation Plan, the Copyrights, and the associated Know-How.

1.11 "Net Sales" shall mean, for any period, the number of Products and Sales Aids sold by NSJ to NSI Independent Distributors during such period, multiplied by NSJ's then current selling price to its distributors for each such Product or Sales Aids less applicable consumption taxes and returns or refunds reasonably accepted and credited by NSJ during such period.

1.12 "NSI Independent Distributor" shall mean a person or business entity who has entered into a Distributor Contract.

1.13 "Products" shall mean those goods sold by NSI which carry a point value within the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.14 "Proprietary Information" shall mean, without limitation, all information other than information in published form or expressly designated by either party in writing as non-confidential, which is directly or indirectly disclosed to the other party, regardless of the form in which it is disclosed, relating in any way to the following property owned by the Parties or which the Parties have been licensed to use or sub-license: (1) proprietary technical information related to the Licensed Property and the Starter Kit; (2) information respecting actual or potential customers or customer contacts and customer sales strategies, names, addresses, phone numbers, identification numbers, database information and its organization, unique business methods; (3) market studies, penetration data, customers, products, contracts, copyrights, computer programs, applications, technical data, licensed technology, patents, inventions, procedures, methods, designs, strategies, plans, liabilities, assets, cost revenues, sales costs, production costs, raw material sources and other market information; (4) other sales and marketing plans, programs and strategies; (5) trade secrets, Know-How, designs and proprietary commercial and technical information, methods, practices, procedures, processes, formulae with respect to manufacturing, assembly, design or processing products subject to this Agreement and any component, part or manufacture thereof; (7) profits, organization, employees, agents, distributors, suppliers, trade marks, trade names and services; (8) other business and commercial practices in general relating directly or indirectly to the foregoing; and, (9) computer disks or other records or documents, originals or copies, containing in whole or in part any of the foregoing.

1.15 "Resident NSI Independent Distributor" shall mean any NSI Independent Distributor whose country of residence as shown on the records of NSI is in the Territory.

1.16 "Sales Compensation Plan" shall mean the method employed by NSI to calculate Bonus Payments paid to the Independent Distributor Network upon the Sale of Products.

1.17 "Sales Aids" shall mean materials, in whatever form and/or design produced to assist in the marketing of Products.

1.18 "Starter Kit" shall mean those materials purchased by an NSI Independent Distributor upon the execution of a Distributor Contract which explains the Sales Compensation Plan and other NSI policies, procedures and programs, the contractual relationship with NSI and the marketing support programs for the Territory.

1.19 "Territory" shall mean the country of Japan.

ARTICLE II

GRANT OF LICENSE AND PARTIAL ASSIGNMENT OF OBLIGATIONS; LICENSE FEES

2.1 Grant of License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, NSI hereby grants to NSJ an exclusive license to use the Licensed Property in the Territory; provided that all such uses shall comply in all material respects with the terms of this Agreement and; provided further that

2.2 Assignment of Obligations. NSI hereby transfers and assigns to NSJ its obligations to make Bonus Payments to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts and NSJ hereby accepts such transfer and assignment and assumes such obligations.

2.3 NSI's Interest in Licensed Property. NSI hereby retains legal title to the Licensed Property for all purposes, including but not limited to, the bringing or defending of any legal action in the Territory which it deems reasonable to protect its rights therein. NSJ agrees to assist NSI in any manner to protect NSI's rights in the Licensed Property which NSI may reasonably request. NSI shall reimburse NSJ for any third party costs incurred by NSJ in providing such assistance.

2.4 Recitals of Value of Licensed Property. NSJ recognizes and agrees that NSI has expended considerable time, effort and resources to develop, maintain and enhance the Licensed Property. NSJ further agrees it will derive a considerable benefit from its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory and from NSI's efforts and expenditures respecting the Licensed Property.

 $2.5\,$ Warranty of Title. NSI hereby warrants and represents that it is the sole and exclusive owner of the Licensed Property and that to the best of its knowledge and information no claim exists or has been made contesting the ownership and title of said Licensed Property.

2.6 Modifications. NSJ shall make no modification to the Licensed Property without the express, prior written consent of NSI.

2.7 License Fee. As compensation for the exclusive licenses granted pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, NSJ shall pay to NSI a license fee equal to four percent (4%) of its Net Sales of Products, Sales Aids and other items (exclusive of Starter Kits and goods sold on consignment) sold to NSI Independent Distributors.

ARTICLE III

COMPUTATION AND PAYMENT TERMS

3.1 Bonus Payments. Pursuant to Section 2.2 hereof, NSJ agrees to make Bonus Payments to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts. The Parties further agree to settle the difference between the amount of such Bonus Payments paid by NSJ in each month and the Fixed Commission Expense in such month. The procedures for such payment and settlement are as follows:

3.1(a) Within eight (8) days following the close of each month, NSJ shall deliver to NSI, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the Parties shall agree to from time to time, a statement of NSJ's sales of Products during such month (including a detail of sales to each NSI Independent Distributor to which sales were made during such month) and of such other items as NSI shall reasonably request from time to time (the "Detailed Sales Report").

3.1(b) By the later of twelve (12) days after receipt of the Detailed Sales Report or twenty (20) days after the end of such month, NSI shall deliver to NSJ, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the parties shall agree to from time to time, a calculation of the Bonus Payments due to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts for such month (the "Monthly Bonus Amount"), a calculation of the Fixed Commission Expense for such month and such other items as NSJ shall reasonably request from time to time (the "Bonus Statement").

3.1(c) By the later of ten (10) days after receipt of the Bonus Statement or thirty (30) days after the end of such month, NSJ shall pay Bonus Payments due to the Resident Independent Distributors. Concurrently with or promptly after such payment NSJ shall deliver to NSI (i) if the Monthly Aggregate Bonus Amounts paid to all Resident Independent Distributors is less than the Fixed Commission Expense for such month, payment of the deficiency in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 3.4(a) hereof, or (ii) if the aggregate Monthly Bonus Amounts paid to all Resident Independent Distributors exceeds the Fixed Commission Expense for such month, an invoice to NSI for reimbursement of such excess amount. In the event NSJ shall have given NSI an invoice for reimbursement of excess Bonus Payments as set forth in clause (i) above, NSI shall pay the amount so invoiced to NSJ pursuant to the procedures set forth in this Section 3.1 within 10 days after receipt thereof.

3.1(d) The Parties acknowledge that the percentage used in calculating the Fixed Commission Expense has been set on the basis of NSI's historical experience. The Parties agree that the percentage used in calculating the Fixed Commission Expense shall remain consistent with actual Commission Expense as a percentage of sales of Products to NSI Independent Distributors and shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis, and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing based upon an annual review thereof.

3.2 License Fee. The procedures for payment of the License Fees payable hereunder are as follows:

3.2(a) Within 30 days following the close of each month, NSJ shall deliver to NSI, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the parties shall agree to from time to time, a statement of its Net Sales during such month in the Territory and a computation of the license fees payable under Section 2.7 hereof. NSJ shall make payment of such license fees in accordance with Section 3.4(a) hereof concurrently with delivery of such statement.

3.2(b) For purposes of computing the license fee, Products and Sales Aids shall be considered sold when recognized for accounting purposes as a sale by NSJ as per U.S. GAAP.

3.2(c) The Parties agree that the license fee shall remain competitive within the market and shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing.

3.3 Records. Each Party shall keep complete and accurate records of its compliance with its obligations under this Agreement which shall be open to inspection by authorized representatives of the other Party at any reasonable time.

3.4 Payments to NSI. Payments made by NSJ to NSI under this Agreement shall be payable in Japanese Yen. Payments shall be made either directly to NSI in immediately available funds by wire transfer to an account designated by NSI or by such other means of payment acceptable to NSI from time to time.

3.5 Payments to NSJ. Payments made by NSI to NSJ under this Agreement shall be payable in Japanese Yen. Payments shall be made either directly to NSJ in immediately available funds by wire transfer to an account designated by NSJ or by such other means of payment acceptable to NSJ from time to time.

3.6 Default Rate. Without limiting any of NSI's other rights and remedies under this Agreement, amounts outstanding under the terms of this Agreement not paid within 60 days from the date due and payable, and as set forth in the payment provisions herein, shall bear interest at the prime interest rate as reported in the Wall Street Journal plus two percent (2%) for the full period outstanding.

ARTICLE IV

CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS OF THE PARTIES UNDER THE AGREEMENT

4.1 Certain Obligations, Rights and Duties of NSI. NSI agrees that, in addition to its other obligations under this Agreement, NSI will maintain and provide support for the Sales Compensation Plan. NSI agrees, among other things: (1) to maintain a computer system, including hardware, software, data links, computer peripherals, printers, etc. to adequately fulfill NSI's obligations under the Sales Compensation Plan; (2) to provide necessary training and support to NSJ relating to the Resident Independent Distributors, including information relating to training methods, motivational strategies, convention and event planning, technical policies and procedure knowledge, etc; (3) to receive and use NSJ's sales information to compute the correct and appropriate payments to the Resident Independent Distributors as set forth in Section 3.1(b) hereof; (4) in consultation with NSJ, to discipline NSI Independent Distributors as it deems necessary to help insure the reputation of NSI; (5) to maintain a record of the Distributor Contracts and provide such information to NSJ, as reasonably requested; and (6) to perform any other function or provide the necessary support to comply with the terms of this Agreement and to otherwise support and maintain the Independent Distributor Network within the Territory.

4.2 Certain Obligations, Rights and Duties of NSJ. In addition to its other obligations under this Agreement NSJ agrees, among other things: (1) to maintain, at its sole cost and expense, such facilities and other places of business within the Territory necessary to effect the purposes and intentions of this Agreement and to bear all costs and expenses it incurs in the negotiation, memorialization, execution and performance of all leases, rentals, equipment, salaries, taxes, licenses, insurance, permits, telephone, telegraph, promotional, advertising, travel, accounting, legal and such similar expenses, relating to the business of NSJ under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, unless otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties; (2) to manage its business affairs in such a manner that the reputation of NSI is not damaged; (3) to sell Starter Kits to potential NSI Independent Distributors in accordance with all applicable laws and industry standards; (4) to collect requests for Distributor Contracts from potential NSI Independent Distributors and forward these contracts to NSI in a timely fashion (provided that all such requests for Distributor Contracts shall be reviewed for acceptance or rejection by NSI in the United States and in no instance shall NSJ accept such requests for Distributor Contracts,); (5) to train and lend assistance to NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory; (6) to transmit information regarding Net Sales to NSI Independent Distributors and such other information as NSI may reasonably request; (7) to pay Bonus Payments to Resident Distributor subject to settlement as set forth in Section 3.1 hereof; (8) to use its best efforts to monitor and supervise the activities of Resident NSI Distributors; (9) to use its best efforts to cause the enforcement of the Distributor Contracts to ensure compliance therewith and with NSI's policies and procedures and to any action against Resident NSI Distributors for violation of the terms and conditions of the Distributor Contract, NSI's policies and procedures, or any other rules and regulations of NSI or NSJ as NSI shall reasonably request; and (10) to perform any other function or provide support as NSI shall reasonably request to enable NSI to fully perform its obligations to the NSI Independent Distributors under the Sales Compensation Plan and their Distributor Contracts.

ARTICLE V

STARTER KIT SALES

5.1 Agreement to Purchase Starter Kits. The Parties acknowledge that pursuant to this Agreement NSJ is being granted an exclusive license to use the Licensed Property, including the Independent Distributor Network, in the Territory. NSJ agrees to use its best efforts in supporting the development of the Independent Distributor Network in the Territory by selling to potential NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory Starter Kits which NSI has either (i) purchased from NSI, or (ii) has sourced and priced locally, or any part thereof, subject to review, approval and oversight of NSI and in accordance with instructions and specifications given by NSI.

5.2 Pricing. The Parties agree that the price of Starter Kits shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing.

5.3 Payment Method. NSJ shall pay the commercial invoices for Starter Kits shipped under this Agreement in the manner set forth in Section 3.4.

5.4 Quantities. NSJ agrees to purchase sufficient quantities of the Starter Kits from NSI to fill orders, in a timely fashion, received from potential NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory.

5.5 Quality of Starter Kits. NSI shall use its best efforts to maintain and augment the quality, image and value of the Starter Kits such that Starter Kits sold in the Territory are consistent with the quality of those sold in the United States of America.

5.6 Merchantability. NSI warrants that Starter Kits sold to NSJ pursuant to this Agreement will be merchantable and of sufficient quality for sales within the Territory. If NSJ determines that certain Starter Kits supplied under this Agreement are not merchantable, a claim for a refund of the price paid can be made within 45 days from the day the Starter Kits are received in the Territory. NSI agrees to refund, or credit the account of NSJ, for the purchase price of such non-merchantable Starter Kits.

ARTICLE VI

GOVERNMENTAL APPROVALS, LAWS AND REGULATIONS

6.1 Government Approvals. NSJ agrees to obtain, or cause to be obtained, at its sole cost and expense, any governmental approval and make, or cause to be made, any filings or notifications required under all applicable laws, regulations and ordinances in the Territory to enable this Agreement to become effective or to enable any payment pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement to be made. NSJ agrees to keep NSI informed of its progress in obtaining all such government approvals.

6.2 Compliance with Laws. Each party agrees to refrain from any action that will cause the other party to be in violation of any applicable law, regulation, or ordinance of any jurisdiction in the Territory or the United States or elsewhere or any international convention or bilateral or multilateral treaty to which any jurisdiction in the Territory or the United States is a signatory, including, without limitation, the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, the U.S. Export Control Laws, and the U.S. Anti-Boycott laws.

6.3 Compliance of Licensed Property. NSI agrees to take, or cause to be taken, at its sole cost and expense, all actions necessary to ensure the compliance of the Licensed Property with applicable laws, regulations and ordinances in the Territory (including, without limitation, direct selling laws). NSI agrees to keep NSJ informed of its progress in obtaining all such government approvals.

ARTICLE VII

TERM AND TERMINATION

7.1 Term. Subject to Section 7.2 hereof, this Agreement shall be for a term ending on December 31, 2016 provided, however, that this Agreement is subject to renegotiation after December 31, 2001 in the event that (i) Blake M. Roney, Nedra D. Roney, Sandie N. Tillotson, Craig Tillotson, Craig Bryson, Steven J. Lund, Brooke B. Roney, Kirk V. Roney and Keith R. Halls (the "Existing Stockholders"), or members of their families, or trusts or foundations established by or for the benefit of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. ("Nu Skin Asia"), or (ii) the Existing Stockholders, or members of their families, or trusts or foundations established by or for the benefit of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of Nu Skin Asia Pacific of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of NSI.

7.2 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated by either party immediately or at any time the occurrence of any of the following events:

(a) the other Party shall commence any case, proceeding or other action (i) under any existing or future law of any jurisdiction, domestic or foreign, relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors, seeking to have an order for relief entered with respect to it, or seeking to adjudicate it a bankrupt or insolvent, or seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, winding-up, liquidation, dissolution, compensation or other relief with respect to it or its debts, or (ii) seeking appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar action; or

(b) there shall be commenced against the other Party any case, proceeding or other action of a nature referred to in clause (a) above which (A) results in the entry of an order for relief or any such adjudication or appointment or (B) remains undismissed, undischarged or unbonded for a period of 90 days. Events described in clauses (a) and (b) of this Section 7.2 shall be referred to as a Bankruptcy Event. If a Bankruptcy Event occurs, all amounts owing under this Agreement shall become immediately due and payable, without any notice thereof; or

(c) if the other Party causes or allows a judgment in excess of twentyfive million dollars ($25,000,000) to be entered against it or involuntarily allows a lien, security interest, or other encumbrance to attach to its assets which secures an amount in excess of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) to be placed upon its assets.

7.3 Termination on Default. This Agreement may be terminated by either party, if the other party is in default in the performance of any material obligation under this Agreement and such default has not been cured within sixty (60) days after receipt of written notice of such default by the defaulting party.

7.4 Termination on Change of Control. This Agreement may be terminated by NSI if Nu Skin Asia shall no longer own or control a majority of the voting interest in NSJ or by NSJ if the Existing Stockholders should no longer own or control a majority of the voting interest in NSI, with such termination to take effect thirty (30) days after NSI gives written notice to NSJ of the occurrence of a change in control and its intention to terminate this Agreement based thereon.

 $7.5\,$ Survival of Obligations. The obligations of the Parties to pay any sums which are due and payable as of the expiration or termination of this Agreement and their obligation under Section 2.3, Article VIII and Article X hereof shall survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

7.6 Reversion of Rights. Upon termination of this Agreement, all rights and licenses herein granted to NSJ shall immediately cease and shall revert to NSI, and NSJ shall cease representing to any third party that it has any right to use, assign, convey or otherwise transfer the Licensed Property.

ARTICLE VIII

INFRINGEMENT; INDEMNIFICATION

NSI hereby represents and warrants that, as of the date hereof, there are no infringement or misappropriation suits pending or filed or, to its knowledge, threatened against NSI within the Territories that relate to the Licensed Property and NSI is not presently aware of any such infringement or misappropriation. NSI shall indemnify and hold NSJ harmless from and against all claims, actions, suits, proceedings, losses, liabilities, costs, damages and attorneys' fees in respect of a third party claim alleging infringement or misappropriation by NSJ in respect of its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory; provided that NSJ shall give NSI prompt written notice of any claim, action, suit or proceeding and without limiting the generality of Section 2.3 hereof, shall cooperate with NSI in the defense of any such claim, action, suit or proceeding. NSI shall have the right to select counsel in any such claim, action, suit or proceeding. In the event that any such claim, action or proceeding is successful, NSI shall use reasonable efforts to make such changes in the Licensed Property to permit NSJ to continue to make use of the Licensed Property to permit NSJ to continue to make use of the Licensed Property to permit NSJ to continue to make use of the Licensed Property to permit NSJ to continue to make use of the Licensed Property free and clear of all infringement and misappropriation. NSI shall give NSI prompt written notice of any infringement or misappropriation of the Licensed Property by any third party. NSI shall have the sole right to initiate any and all legal proceedings against any such third party and, without limiting the generality of Section 2.3 hereof, NSJ shall cooperate with NSI in the pursuit of any such proceeding. NSI shall retain any damage award obtained from such third party.

ARTICLE IX

NATURE OF RELATIONSHIP

The relationship of NSJ and NSI shall be and at all times remain, respectively, that of independent contractor and contracting party. Nothing contained or implied in this Agreement shall be construed to constitute either party as the legal representative or agent of the other or to constitute or construe the Parties as partners, joint venturers, co-owners or otherwise as participants in a joint or common undertaking. Neither Party is authorized to conclude any contract or agreement or make any commitment, representation or warranty that binds the other or otherwise act in the name of or on behalf of the other.

ARTICLE X

CONFIDENTIALITY

All Proprietary Information or other non-public or proprietary business or technical information owned or used by NSI or NSJ and supplied to or acquired by the other whether in oral or documentary form (the "Confidential Information") shall be supplied and acquired in confidence and shall be solely for the use of the receiving party pursuant to this Agreement and such party shall keep the Confidential Information confidential and shall not disclose the same, at any time during the term of this Agreement or after its termination, except to its employees, or its affiliates or its affiliates' employees for the purposes of its business in accordance with this Agreement and except as may be required by law; provided that if the receiving party determines that a disclosure is required by law, the receiving party shall notify the disclosing party in order to give the disclosing party an opportunity to seek an injunction or otherwise attempt to keep the Confidential Information confidential. The receiving party shall, at the request of the disclosing party, destroy or return the Confidential Information without retaining copies if, as and when this Agreement is terminated or expires. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Confidential Information" shall not include information or documents that (i) become generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the receiving party, (ii) were otherwise lawfully available to the receiving party, or (iii) were generated independently by the receiving party. The provisions of this Article shall survive termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XI

MAINTENANCE OF LICENSED PROPERTY; RECORDING

NSI shall use its best efforts and take all reasonable steps consistent with its existing internal policies and procedures and with this Agreement to maintain the Licensed Property in the Territory. In no event shall this clause be construed to require NSI to establish or maintain a branch office, subsidiary corporation or fixed place of business or similar permanent establishment in the Territory. NSI, in its sole discretion, shall have the right to record this Agreement or proof thereof, or to enter NSJ as a registered user in the Territory. NSJ agrees to cooperate, as reasonably requested by NSI, in arranging for such recordings or entries, or in bearing or canceling such recordings or entries in the event of amendments to or termination of this Agreement for any reason.

ARTICLE XII

MISCELLANEOUS

12.1 Assignment. This Agreement shall be binding on and inure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, assigns and beneficiaries of the Parties; provided that neither party may assign this Agreement or any rights or obligations hereunder, whether by operation of law or otherwise, without the prior written consent of the other party's authorized representative. Any such attempted assignment, without the written consent provided herein, shall be void and unenforceable.

12.2 Force Majeure. The Parties shall not be responsible for failure to perform hereunder due to force majeure, which shall include, but not be limited to: fires, floods, riots, strikes, labor disputes, freight embargoes or transportation delays, shortage of labor, inability to secure fuel, material, supplies, equipment or power at reasonable prices or on account of shortage thereof, acts of God or of the public enemy, war or civil disturbances, any existing or future laws, rules, regulations or acts of any government (including any orders, rules or regulations issued by any official or agency or such government) affecting a party that would delay or prohibit performance hereunder, or any cause beyond the reasonable control of a party. If an event of force majeure should occur, the affected party shall promptly give notice thereof to the other party and such affected party shall use its reasonable best efforts to cure or correct any such event of force majeure.

12.3 Governing Law and Dispute Resolution. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Utah, applicable to contracts made and to be wholly performed within such State. Any dispute arising out of this Agreement, if not resolved by mutual agreement of NSI and NSJ within 30 days after written notice of such dispute is given by NSJ or NSI, as the case may be, shall be resolved through arbitration with the Utah office and division of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"). If the dispute is not resolved within such 30-day period, the Parties shall petition the AAA to promptly appoint a competent, disinterested person to act as such arbitrator. Within 30 days after the designation or appointment of such arbitrator, such arbitrator shall be required to commence the arbitration proceeding in the state of Utah at a time and place to be fixed by the arbitrator, who shall so notify NSI and NSJ. Such arbitration proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the applicable rules and procedures of the AAA, and/or as otherwise may be agreed by NSI and NSJ and may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction. The expenses and costs of such arbitration shall be divided and borne equally by NSI and NSJ; provided, that each of NSI and NSJ shall pay all fees

12.4 Applicability of Post-Effective Law. The parties agree that neither the Vienna Convention on the International Sale of Goods nor any such similar law, treaty or act that becomes effective during the term of this Agreement shall be applicable to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereunder.

12.5 Waiver and Delay. No waiver by either party of any breach or default in performance by the other party, and no failure, refusal or neglect of either party to exercise any right, power or option given to it hereunder or to insist upon strict compliance with or performance of the other party's obligations under this Agreement, shall constitute a waiver of the provisions of this Agreement with respect to any subsequent breach thereof or a waiver by either party of its right at any time thereafter to require exact and strict compliance with the provisions thereof.

12.6 Notices. All notices, requests and other communications

hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given, if delivered by hand, or if communicated by facsimile, cable or similar electronic means to the facsimile number or cable identification number as previously provided by each party to the other, at the time that receipt thereof has been confirmed by return electronic communication or signal that the message has been received, or if mailed, ten (10) days after dispatch by registered airmail, postage prepaid, from any post office addressed as follows:

If to NSJ:	General Manager Nu Skin Japan Company, Limited Shinjuku I-Land Tower, 23rd Floor 6-5-1 Nishishinjuku, Shinjuku-ku Tokyo, Japan, 163-13 Facsimile No.: 813-5321-3779
If to NSI:	Chief Operating Officer Nu Skin International, Inc. 75 West Center Street, Provo, Utah 84601, U.S.A. Facsimile No.: (801) 345-5999

Either party may change its facsimile number, cable identification number or address by a notice given to the other party in the manner set forth above.

12.7 Integrated Contract. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties relating to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous negotiations, representations, agreements and understandings (both oral and written) of the Parties.

12.8 Modifications and Amendments. No supplement, modification or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless it is in writing and executed by both of the Parties.

12.9 Severability. To the extent that any provision of this

Agreement is (or in the opinion of counsel mutually acceptable to both Parties would be) prohibited, judicially invalidated or otherwise rendered unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such provision shall be deemed ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition, invalidation or unenforceability in that jurisdiction, and only within that jurisdiction. Any prohibited, judicially invalidated or unenforceable provision of this Agreement will not invalidate or render unenforceable any other provision of this Agreement, nor will such provision of this Agreement be invalidated or rendered unenforceable in any other jurisdiction.

12.10 Counterparts and Headings. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. All headings and captions are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of any provision hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused this Agreement to be executed in the United States of America by their respective duly authorized representatives as of the day and year first-above written.

AMENDED AND RESTATED

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED LICENSING AND SALES AGREEMENT is made and entered into this _____day of November, 1996, between Nu Skin International, Inc. a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Utah, U.S.A. (hereinafter referred to as "NSI"), and Nu Skin Korea, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the Republic of Korea and the State of Delaware, U.S.A. (hereinafter "NSK"). Hereinafter, NSI and NSK shall collectively be referred to as the "Parties".

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, NSI is engaged in the design, production and marketing of products and related sales aids, for multi-national distribution through a network of independent distributors; and

WHEREAS, NSK desires to act as the exclusive wholesale distributor of NSI products in the Territory (as hereafter defined), having entered a separate written Wholesale Distribution Agreement with Nu Skin Hong Kong, Inc., the exclusive regional distributor of such products and sales aids in the Asia-Pacific region; and

WHEREAS, NSI and NSK desire to implement NSI's Independent Distributor Network (as defined below) to promote sales of products and sales aids; and, WHEREAS, NSI desires to further develop and enlarge its Independent Distributor Network in the Territory with the assistance of NSK, for their mutual benefit, in accordance with the terms and conditions hereinafter provided; and

WHEREAS, NSK recognizes and agrees that NSI has expended considerable time, effort and resources to develop and maintain the Licensed Property (as hereafter defined) and NSK further agrees it will derive a considerable benefit from its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory and from NSI's efforts and expenditures respecting the Licensed Property; and

WHEREAS, NSI and NSK entered into a Licensing and Sales Agreement on February 8, 1996 (the "Prior Licensing and Sales Agreement"); and WHEREAS, the Parties wish to amend and restate the Prior Licensing and Sales Agreement as set forth herein;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, the mutual promises, covenants, and warranties hereinafter set forth and for other valuable consideration, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this Agreement, the following words and terms shall have the meaning assigned to them in this Article I:

1.1 "Agreement" shall mean this Amended and Restated Licensing and Sales Agreement (together with any exhibits and schedules hereto), as the same may be modified, amended or supplemented from time to time.

1.2 "Bonus Payments" shall mean, for any NSI Independent Distributor, all monetary obligations due to such Distributor accrued under the terms of the Sales Compensation Plan and such Distributor's Distributor Contract with NSI.

1.3 "Commission Expense Cap" shall mean, for any period, thirty-five percent (35%) of the aggregate amount (in Korean Won) of sales by NSK of Products during such period.

1.4 "Copyrights" shall mean any and all protectable software, programs, databases, source codes and applications owned by NSI or which NSI has a right to use, license or sub-license, relating directly or indirectly to the Independent Distributor Network, Distribution Lists or the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.5 "Distributor Contract" shall mean, for any NSI Independent Distributor, its contract with NSI pursuant to which NSI authorizes it to distribute NSI's Products and Sales Aids.

1.6 "Distributor Lists" shall mean any and all individual or accumulated name, address, identification number, sponsor name and/or similar lists of all present or future NSI Independent Distributors expressed in any medium.

1.7 "Independent Distributor Network" shall mean the network of all NSI

- - - - - - - - -

1.8 "Know-How" shall mean any information, including, without limitation, any commercial or business information, lists, marketing methods, marketing surveys, processes, specifications, quality control reports, drawings, photographs, or any other information owned by NSI, whether or not considered proprietary, relating to the Independent Distributor Network, the Distributor Lists, and the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.9 "Licensed Property" shall mean the Independent Distributor Network, the Distributor Lists, the Sales Compensation Plan, the Copyrights, and the associated Know-How.

1.10 "Net Sales" shall mean, for any period, the number of Products, Sales

Aids and other items (exclusive of Starter Kits and goods sold on consignment) sold by NSK to NSI Independent Distributors during such period, multiplied by NSK's then current selling price to its distributors for each such Product, Sales Aids or items less applicable consumption taxes and returns or refunds reasonably accepted and credited by NSK during such period.

1.11 "NSI Independent Distributor" shall mean a person or business entity who has entered into a Distributor Contract.

1.12 "Products" shall mean those goods sold by NSI which carry a point value within the Sales Compensation Plan.

1.13 "Proprietary Information" shall mean, without limitation, all information other than information in published form or expressly designated by either party in writing as non-confidential, which is directly or indirectly disclosed to the other party, regardless of the form in which it is disclosed, relating in any way to the following property owned by the Parties or which the Parties have been licensed to use or sub-license: (1) proprietary technical information related to the Licensed Property and the Starter Kit; (2) information respecting actual or potential customers or customer contacts and customer sales strategies, names, addresses, phone numbers, identification numbers, database information and its organization, unique business methods; (3) market studies, penetration data, customers, products, contracts, copyrights, computer programs, applications, technical data, licensed technology, patents, inventions, procedures, methods, designs, strategies, plans, liabilities, assets, cost revenues, sales costs, production costs, raw material sources and other market information; (4) other sales and marketing plans, programs and strategies; (5) trade secrets, Know-How, designs and proprietary commercial and technical information, methods, practices, procedures, processes, formulae with respect to manufacturing, assembly, design or processing products subject to this Agreement and any component, part or manufacture thereof; (7) profits, organization, employees, agents, distributors, suppliers, trade marks, trade names and services; (8) other business and commercial practices in general relating directly or indirectly to the foregoing; and, (9) computer disks or other records or documents, originals or copies, containing in whole or in part any of the foregoing.

1.14 "Resident NSI Independent Distributor" shall mean any NSI Independent Distributor whose country of residence as shown on the records of NSI is in the Territory.

1.15 "Sales Compensation Plan" shall mean the method employed by NSI to calculate Bonus Payments paid to the Independent Distributor Network upon the Sale of Products.

1.16 "Sales Aids" shall mean materials, in whatever form and/or design produced to assist in the marketing of Products.

1.17 "Starter Kit" shall mean those materials purchased by an $\ensuremath{\mathsf{NSI}}$

Independent Distributor upon the execution of a Distributor Contract which explains the Sales Compensation Plan and other NSI policies, procedures and programs, the contractual relationship with NSI and the marketing support programs for the Territory.

1.18 "Territory" shall mean the country of the Republic of Korea.

GRANT OF LICENSE AND PARTIAL ASSIGNMENT OF OBLIGATIONS; LICENSE FEES

2.1 Grant of License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, NSI hereby grants to NSK an exclusive license to use the Licensed Property in the Territory; provided that all such uses shall comply in all material respects with the terms of this Agreement; and provided further that

2.2 Assignment of Obligations. NSI hereby transfers and assigns to NSK its obligations to make Bonus Payments to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts and NSK hereby accepts such transfer and assignment and assumes such obligations.

2.3 NSI's Interest in Licensed Property. NSI hereby retains legal title to the Licensed Property for all purposes, including but not limited to, the bringing or defending of any legal action in the Territory which it deems reasonable to protect its rights therein. NSK agrees to assist NSI in any manner to protect NSI's rights in the Licensed Property which NSI may reasonably request. NSI shall reimburse NSK for any third party costs incurred by NSK in providing such assistance.

2.4 Recitals of Value of Licensed Property. NSK recognizes and agrees that NSI has expended considerable time, effort and resources to develop, maintain and enhance the Licensed Property. NSK further agrees it will derive a considerable benefit from its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory and from NSI's efforts and expenditures respecting the Licensed Property.

 $2.5\,$ Warranty of Title. NSI hereby warrants and represents that it is the sole and exclusive owner of the Licensed Property and that to the best of its knowledge and information no claim exists or has been made contesting the ownership and title of said Licensed Property.

2.6 Modifications. NSK shall make no modification to the Licensed Property without the express, prior written consent of NSI.

2.7 License Fee. As compensation for the exclusive licenses granted pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, NSK shall pay to NSI a license fee equal to four percent (4%) of its Net Sales.

2.8. Consulting Fee. Until February 28, 1998, NSK shall pay to NSI a consulting fee (the "Consulting Fee") equal, for any period, to the costs incurred by NSI for such period in support of NSI Independent Distributors providing consulting services to NSK in establishing operations in the Territory, including training Resident NSI Distributors in product knowledge, motivational strategies, training methods, the Sales Compensation Plan and NSI's policies and procedures. The specific services to be provided by such NSI Independent Distributors to NSK may be adjusted by the Parties from time to time.

2.9 Commission Expense Cap. Notwithstanding anything else in this Agreement, in no event shall the Consulting Fee paid by NSK to NSI in any month, if any, in aggregate with the Bonus Payments paid by NSK to Resident NSI Distributors, exceed the Commission Expense Cap.

COMPUTATION AND PAYMENT TERMS

3.1 Bonus Payments and Consulting Fee. Pursuant to Section 2.2

hereof, NSK agrees to make Bonus Payments to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts and, pursuant to Section 2.8 hereof, NSK agrees to pay a Consulting Fee to NSI under certain circumstances. The procedures for such payment are as follows:

3.1(a) Within eight (8) days following the close of each month, NSK shall deliver to NSI, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the Parties shall agree to from time to time, a statement of NSK's sales of Products during such month (including a detail of sales to each NSI Independent Distributor to which sales were made during such month) and of such other items as NSI shall reasonably request from time to time (the "Detailed Sales Report").

3.1(b) By the later of twelve (12) days after receipt of the Detailed Sales Report or twenty (20) days after the end of such month, NSI shall deliver to NSK, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the parties shall agree to from time to time, a summary of information necessary for calculation of the Bonus Payments due to Resident Independent Distributors under their Distributor Contracts for such month (the "Monthly Bonus Amount"), a calculation of the Consulting Fee for such month and such other items as NSK shall reasonably request from time to time (the "Bonus Statement").

3.1(c) By the later of ten (10) days after receipt of the Bonus Statement or thirty (30) days after the end of such month, NSK shall calculate and pay Bonus Payments due to the Resident Independent Distributors. Concurrently with or promptly after such payment NSK shall pay to NSI the Consulting Fee in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 3.4(a) hereof.

3.1(d) The Parties agree that the Commission Expense Cap shall remain consistent with actual Bonus Payments to NSI Independent Distributors for Products sold in the territory and shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis, and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing based upon an annual review thereof.

3.2 License Fee. The procedures for payment of the License Fees payable hereunder are as follows:

3.2(a) Within 30 days following the close of each month, NSK shall deliver to NSI, by electronic transmission or such other medium as the parties shall agree to from time to time, a statement of its Net Sales during such month in the Territory and a computation of the license fees payable under Section 2.7 hereof. NSK shall make payment of such license fees in accordance with Section 3.4(a) hereof concurrently with delivery of such statement.

3.2(b) For purposes of computing the license fee, Products and Sales Aids shall be considered sold when recognized for accounting purposes as a sale by NSK as per U.S. GAAP.

3.2(c) The Parties agree that the license fee shall remain competitive within the market and shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing.

3.3 Records. Each Party shall keep complete and accurate records of its compliance with its obligations under this Agreement which shall be open to inspection by authorized representatives of the other Party at any reasonable time.

3.4 Payments to NSI. Payments made by NSK to NSI under this Agreement shall be payable in Korean Won. Payments shall be made either directly to NSI in immediately available funds by wire transfer to an account designated by NSI or by such other means of payment acceptable to NSI from time to time.

3.5 Default Rate. Without limiting any of NSI's other rights and remedies under this Agreement, amounts outstanding under the terms of this Agreement not paid within 60 days from the date due and payable, and as set forth in the payment provisions herein, shall bear interest at the prime interest rate as reported in the Wall Street Journal plus two percent (2%) for the full period outstanding.

4.1 Certain Obligations, Rights and Duties of NSI. NSI agrees that, in addition to its other obligations under this Agreement, NSI will maintain and provide support for the Sales Compensation Plan. NSI agrees, among other things: (1) to maintain a computer system, including hardware, software, data links, computer peripherals, printers, etc. to adequately fulfill NSI's obligations under the Sales Compensation Plan; (2) to provide necessary training and support to NSK relating to the Resident Independent Distributors, including information relating to training methods, motivational strategies, convention and event planning, technical policies and procedure knowledge, etc; (3) to receive and use NSK's sales information to compute the correct and appropriate payments to the Resident Independent Distributors as set forth in Section 3.1(b) hereof; (4) in consultation with NSK, to discipline NSI Independent Distributors as it deems necessary to help insure the reputation of NSI; (5) to maintain a record of the Distributor Contracts and provide such information to NSK, as reasonably requested; and (6) to perform any other function or provide the necessary support to comply with the terms of this Agreement and to otherwise support and maintain the Independent Distributor Network within the Territory.

4.2 Certain Obligations, Rights and Duties of NSK. In addition to its other obligations under this Agreement, NSK agrees, among other things: (1) to maintain, at its sole cost and expense, such facilities and other places of business within the Territory necessary to effect the purposes and intentions of this Agreement and to bear all costs and expenses it incurs in the negotiation, memorialization, execution and performance of all leases, rentals, equipment, salaries, taxes, licenses, insurance, permits, telephone, telegraph, promotional, advertising, travel, accounting, legal and such similar expenses, relating to the business of NSK under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, unless otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties; (2) to manage its business affairs in such a manner that the reputation of NSI is not damaged; (3) to sell Starter Kits to potential NSI Independent Distributors in accordance with all applicable laws and industry standards; (4) to collect requests for Distributor Contracts from potential NSI Independent Distributors and forward these contracts to NSI in a timely fashion (provided that all such requests for Distributor Contracts shall be reviewed for acceptance or rejection by NSI in the United States and in no instance shall NSK accept such Distributor Contracts,); (5) to train and lend assistance to NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory; (6) to transmit information regarding Net Sales to NSI Independent Distributors and such other information as NSI may reasonably request; (7) to pay Bonus Payments to Resident Distributor subject to settlement as set forth in Section 3.1 hereof; (8) to use its best efforts to monitor and supervise the activities of Resident NSI Distributors; (9) to use its best efforts to cause the enforcement of the Distributor Contracts to ensure compliance therewith and with NSI's policies and procedures and to any action against Resident NSI Distributors for violation of the terms and conditions of the Distributor Contract, NSI's policies and procedures, or any other rules and regulations of NSI or NSK as NSI shall reasonably request; and, (10) to perform any other function or provide support as NSI shall reasonably request to enable NSI to fully perform its obligations to the NSI Independent Distributors under the Sales Compensation Plan and their Distributor Contracts.

ARTICLE V

STARTER KIT SALES

5.1 Agreement to Purchase Starter Kits. The Parties acknowledge that pursuant to this Agreement NSK is being granted an exclusive license to use the Licensed Property, including the Independent Distributor Network, in the Territory. NSK agrees to use its best efforts in supporting the development of the Independent Distributor Network in the Territory selling to potential NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory starter kits which NSI has either (i) purchased from NSI, or (ii) has sourced and priced locally, or any part thereof, subject to review, approval and oversight of NSI and in accordance with instructions and specifications given by NSI.

5.2 Pricing. The Parties agree that the price of Starter Kits shall be negotiated and determined on an arm's length basis and may be adjusted from time to time as agreed by the Parties in writing.

5.3 Payment Method. NSK shall pay the commercial invoices for Starter Kits shipped under this Agreement in the manner set forth in Section 3.4.

5.4 Quantities. NSK agrees to purchase sufficient quantities of the Starter Kits from NSI to fill orders, in a timely fashion, received from potential NSI Independent Distributors in the Territory.

5.5 Quality of Starter Kits. NSI shall use its best efforts to maintain and augment the quality, image and value of the Starter Kits such that Starter Kits sold in the Territory are consistent with the quality of those sold in the United States of America.

 $5.6\,$ Merchantability. NSI warrants that Starter Kits sold to NSK pursuant to this Agreement will be merchantable and of sufficient quality for sales within the Territory. If NSK determines that certain Starter Kits supplied under this Agreement are not merchantable, a claim for a refund of the price paid can be made within 45 days from the day the Starter Kits are received in the Territory. NSI agrees to refund, or credit the account of NSK for, the purchase price of such non-merchantable Starter Kits.

ARTICLE VI

GOVERNMENTAL APPROVALS, LAWS AND REGULATIONS

6.1 Government Approvals. NSK agrees to obtain, or cause to be obtained, at its sole cost and expense, any governmental approval and make, or cause to be made, any filings or notifications required under all applicable laws, regulations and ordinances in the Territory to enable this Agreement to become effective or to enable any payment pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement to be made. NSK agrees to keep NSI informed of its progress in obtaining all such government approvals.

6.2 Compliance with Laws. Each party agrees to refrain from any action that will cause the other party to be in violation of any applicable law, regulation, or ordinance of any jurisdiction in the Territory or the United States or elsewhere or any international convention or bilateral or multilateral treaty to which any jurisdiction in the Territory or the United States is a signatory, including, without limitation, the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, the U.S. Export Control Laws, and the U.S. Anti-Boycott laws.

6.3 Compliance with Licensed Property. NSI agrees to take, or cause to be taken, at its sole cost and expense, all actions necessary to ensure the compliance of the Licensed Property with applicable laws, regulations and ordinances in the Territory (including, without limitation, direct selling laws). NSI agrees to keep NSK informed of its progress in obtaining all such government approvals.

ARTICLE VII

TERM AND TERMINATION

7.1 Term. Subject to Section 7.2 hereof, this Agreement shall be for a term ending on December 31, 2016 provided, however, that this Agreement is subject to renegotiation after December 31, 2001 in the event that (i), Blake M. Roney, Nedra D. Roney, Sandie N. Tillotson, Craig Tillotson, Craig Bryson, Steven J. Lund, Brooke B. Roney, Kirk V. Roney and Keith R. Halls (the "Existing Stockholders"), or members of their families, or trusts or foundations established by or for the benefit of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of Nu Skin Asia Pacific, Inc. ("Nu Skin Asia"), or (ii) the Existing Stockholders, or members of their families, or trusts or foundations established by or for the benefit of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of NI Skin Asia Pacific of the Existing Stockholders or members of their families on a combined basis no longer beneficially own a majority of the voting stock of NSI.

7.2 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated by either party immediately or at any time upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

(a) the other Party shall commence any case, proceeding or other action (i) under any existing or future law of any jurisdiction, domestic or foreign, relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors, seeking to have an order for relief entered with respect to it, or seeking to adjudicate it a bankrupt or insolvent, or seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, winding-up, liquidation, dissolution, compensation or other relief with respect to it or its debts, or (ii) seeking appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar action; or

(b) there shall be commenced against the other Party any case, proceeding or other action of a nature referred to in clause (a) above which (A) results in the entry of an order for relief or any such adjudication or appointment or (B) remains undismissed, undischarged or unbonded for a period of 90 days. Events described in clauses (a) and (b) of this Section 7.2 shall be referred to as a Bankruptcy Event. If a Bankruptcy Event occurs, all amounts owing under this Agreement shall become immediately due and payable, without any notice thereof; or

(c) if the other Party causes or allows a judgment in excess of twentyfive million dollars ($25,000,000) to be entered against it or involuntarily allows a lien, security interest, or other encumbrance to attach to its assets which secures an amount in excess of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) to be placed upon its assets.

7.3 Termination of Default. This Agreement may be terminated by either party, if the other party is in default in the performance of any material obligation under this Agreement and such default has not been cured within sixty (60) days after receipt of written notice of such default by the defaulting party.

7.4 Termination of Change of Control. This Agreement may be terminated by NSI if Nu Skin Asia shall no longer own or control a majority of the voting interest in NSK or by NSK if the Existing Stockholders should no longer own or control a majority of the voting interest in NSI, with such termination to take effect thirty (30) days after NSI gives written notice to NSK of the occurrence of a change in control and its intention to terminate this Agreement based thereon.

7.5 Survival of Obligations. The obligations of the Parties to pay any sums which are due and payable as of the expiration or termination of this Agreement and their obligation under Section 2.3, Article VIII and Article X hereof shall survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

7.6 Reversion of Rights. Upon termination of this Agreement, all rights and licenses herein granted to NSK shall immediately cease and shall revert to NSI, and NSK shall cease representing to any third party that it has any right to use, assign, convey or otherwise transfer the Licensed Property.

ARTICLE VIII

INFRINGEMENT; INDEMNIFICATION

NSI hereby represents and warrants that, as of the date hereof, there are no infringement or misappropriation suits pending or filed or, to its knowledge, threatened against NSI within the Territory that relate to the Licensed Property and NSI is not presently aware of any such infringement or misappropriation. NSI shall indemnify and hold NSK harmless from and against all claims, actions, suits, proceedings, losses, liabilities, costs, damages and attorneys' fees in respect of a third party claim alleging infringement or misappropriation by NSK in respect of its use of the Licensed Property in the Territory; provided that

NSK shall give NSI prompt written notice of any claim, action, suit or proceeding and without limiting the generality of Section 2.3 hereof, shall cooperate with NSI in the defense of any such claim, action, suit or proceeding. NSI shall have the right to select counsel in any such claim, action, suit or proceeding. In the event that any such claim, action or proceeding is successful, NSI shall use reasonable efforts to make such changes in the Licensed Property to permit NSK to continue to make use of the Licensed Property to permit NSK to continue to make use of the Licensed Property to permit NSK to continue to make use of the Licensed Property free and clear of all infringement and misappropriation. NSK shall give NSI prompt written notice of any infringement or misappropriation of the Licensed Property by any third party. NSI shall have the sole right to initiate any and all legal proceedings against any such third party and, without limiting the generality of Section 2.3 hereof, NSK shall cooperate with NSI in the pursuit of any such proceeding. NSI shall retain any damage award obtained from such third party.

NATURE OF RELATIONSHIP

The relationship of NSK and NSI shall be and at all times remain, respectively, that of independent contractor and contracting party. Nothing contained or implied in this Agreement shall be construed to constitute either party as the legal representative or agent of the other or to constitute or construe the Parties as partners, joint venturers, co-owners or otherwise as participants in a joint or common undertaking. Neither Party is authorized to conclude any contract or agreement or make any commitment, representation or warranty that binds the other or otherwise act in the name of or on behalf of the other.

CONFIDENTIALITY

All Proprietary Information or other non-public or proprietary business or technical information owned or used by NSI or NSK and supplied to or acquired by the other whether in oral or documentary form (the "Confidential Information") shall be supplied and acquired in confidence and shall be solely for the use of the receiving party pursuant to this Agreement and such party shall keep the Confidential Information confidential and shall not disclose the same, at any time during the term of this Agreement or after its termination, except to its employees, or its affiliates, or its affiliates' employees for the purposes of its business in accordance with this Agreement and except as may be required by law; provided that if the receiving party determines that a disclosure is required by law, the receiving party shall notify the disclosing party in order to give the disclosing party an opportunity to seek an injunction or otherwise attempt to keep the Confidential Information confidential. The receiving party shall, at the request of the disclosing party, destroy or return the Confidential Information without retaining copies if, as and when this Agreement is terminated or expires. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Confidential Information" shall not include information or documents that (i) become generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the receiving party, (ii) are otherwise lawfully available to the receiving party, or (iii) are generated independently by the receiving party. The provisions of this Article shall survive termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XI

MAINTENANCE OF LICENSED PROPERTY; RECORDING

NSI shall use its best efforts and take all reasonable steps consistent with its existing internal policies and procedures and with this Agreement to maintain the Licensed Property in the Territory. In no event shall this clause be construed to require NSI to establish or maintain a branch office, subsidiary corporation or fixed place of business or similar permanent establishment in the Territory. NSI, in its sole discretion, shall have the right to record this Agreement or proof thereof, or to enter NSK as a registered user in the Territory. NSK agrees to cooperate, as reasonably requested by NSI, in arranging for such recordings or entries, or in bearing or canceling such recordings or entries in the event of amendments to or termination of this Agreement for any reason.

MISCELLANEOUS

12.1 Assignment. This Agreement shall be binding on and inure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, assigns and beneficiaries of the Parties; provided that neither party may assign this Agreement or any rights or obligations hereunder, whether by operation of law or otherwise, without the prior written consent of the other party's authorized representative. Any such attempted assignment, without the written consent provided herein, shall be void and unenforceable.

12.2 Force Majeure. The Parties shall not be responsible for failure to perform hereunder due to force majeure, which shall include, but not be limited to: fires, floods, riots, strikes, labor disputes, freight embargoes or transportation delays, shortage of labor, inability to secure fuel, material, supplies, equipment or power at reasonable prices or on account of shortage thereof, acts of God or of the public enemy, war or civil disturbances, any existing or future laws, rules, regulations or acts of any government (including any orders, rules or regulations issued by any official or agency of such government) affecting a party that would delay or prohibit performance hereunder, or any cause beyond the reasonable control of a party. If an event of force majeure should occur, the affected party shall promptly give notice thereof to the other party and such affected party shall use its reasonable best efforts to cure or correct any such event of force majeure.

12.3 Governing Law and Dispute Resolution. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Utah, applicable to contracts made and to be wholly performed within such State. Any dispute arising out of this Agreement, if not resolved by mutual agreement of NSI and NSK within 30 days after written notice of such dispute is given by NSK or NSI, as the case may be, shall be resolved through arbitration with the Utah office and division of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"). If the dispute is not resolved within such 30day period, the Parties shall petition the AAA to promptly appoint a competent, disinterested person to act as such arbitrator. Within 30 days after the designation or appointment of such arbitrator, such arbitrator shall be required to commence the arbitration proceeding in the State of Utah at a time and place to be fixed by the arbitrator, who shall so notify NSI and NSK. Such arbitration proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the applicable rules and procedures of the AAA, and/or as otherwise may be agreed by NSI and NSK. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon NSI and NSK and may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction. The expenses and costs of such arbitration shall be divided and borne equally by NSI and NSK; provided, that each of NSI and NSK shall pay all fees and expenses incurred by - -----it in presenting or defending against such claim, right or cause of action.

12.4 Applicability of Post-Effective Law. The parties agree that neither the Vienna Convention on the International Sale of Goods nor any such similar law, treaty or act that becomes effective during the term of this Agreement shall be applicable to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereunder.

12.5 Waiver and Delay. No waiver by either party of any breach or default in performance by the other party, and no failure, refusal or neglect of either party to exercise any right, power or option given to it hereunder or to insist upon strict compliance with or performance of the other party's obligations under this Agreement, shall constitute a waiver of

the provisions of this Agreement with respect to any subsequent breach thereof or a waiver by either party of its right at any time thereafter to require exact and strict compliance with the provisions thereof.

12.6 Notices. All notices, requests and other communications

hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given, if delivered by hand, or if communicated by facsimile, cable or similar electronic means to the facsimile number or cable identification number as previously provided by each party to the other, at the time that receipt thereof has been confirmed by return electronic communication or signal that the message has been received, or if mailed, ten (10) days after dispatch by registered airmail, postage prepaid, from any post office addressed as follows:

> If to NSK: General Manager Nu Skin Korea, Inc. Dabong Tower 890-12 Deachi-dong Kangnam-ku Seoul, South Korea Facsimile No.: 822-552-9728

> If to NSI: Chief Operating Officer Nu Skin International, Inc. 75 West Center Street Provo, Utah 84601, U.S.A.

Either party may change its facsimile number, cable identification number or address by a notice given to the other party in the manner set forth above.

12.7 Integrated Contract. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties relating to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous negotiations, representations, agreements and understandings (both oral and written) of the Parties.

12.8 Modifications and Amendments. No supplement, modification or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless it is in writing and executed by both of the Parties.

12.9 Severability. To the extent that any provision of this Agreement is (or in the opinion of counsel mutually acceptable to both Parties would be) prohibited, judicially invalidated or otherwise rendered unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such provision shall be deemed ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition, invalidation or unenforceability in that jurisdiction, and only within that jurisdiction. Any prohibited, judicially invalidated or unenforceable provision of this Agreement will not invalidate or render unenforceable any other provision of this Agreement, nor will such provision of this Agreement be invalidated or rendered unenforceable in any other jurisdiction.

12.10 Counterparts and Headings. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. All headings and captions are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of any provision hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused this Agreement to be executed in the United States of America by their respective duly authorized representatives as of the day and year first-above written.
